

The 2011 Schusterman Fellow in Israel Studies
Sponsored by HUC-JIR Louchheim School for Judaic Studies
USC College of Arts and Sciences

Dr. David Mendelsson

Circumventing the State?
Religion, Politics and (Jewish) Education

Tuesday, March 1, 2011
4:00-6:00pm
Leavey Library Auditorium

How can we account for the growing popularity of Jewish day schools: do they reflect a rise in religious and cultural sentiment or an increasing rejection of public education? Using models of parochial education in England and Israel, Dr. Mendelsson will discuss whether American trends in Hebrew charter schools follow an international movement or represent a new model.

Questions? Call 213.765.2113 or email us at louchheim@huc.edu