History of HUC-JIR

Founded in 1875, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion is North America’s leading institution of higher Jewish education and the academic, spiritual, and professional leadership development center of Reform Judaism.

HUC-JIR educates men and women for service to American and world Jewry as rabbis, cantors, leaders in Jewish education, and Jewish nonprofit management professionals, and offers graduate degree programs to scholars and clergy of all faiths. With centers of learning in Cincinnati, Jerusalem, Los Angeles, and New York, HUC-JIR's scholarly resources comprise renowned library, archive, and museum collections, biblical archaeology excavations, and academic publications. HUC-JIR invites the community to an array of cultural and educational programs that illuminate Jewish identity, history, and contemporary creativity, and foster interfaith and multiethnic understanding.

When Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, the founder of the institutions of American Reform Judaism, came to America in 1846, he encountered a frontier Jewry of 40,000 people. There was but one ordained officiating rabbi in all of America; most Jewish clergy were German "free-lancers," officiating in the German language and lacking any real understanding of American life.

Wise understood the urgent need for rabbinical training and standards for those who would provide progressive, enlightened, and modern spiritual leadership for the American pulpit. At a time when Christian denominational colleges were springing up by the score, Wise was certain that an institution of higher Jewish learning would guarantee Jewish survival in America.

And so, in 1873, with an American Jewish population exceeding 150,000, Wise was the catalyst for the creation of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations (now the Union for Reform Judaism), with its twenty-eight congregational founding members, in order to support the establishment of a "Hebrew Theological Institute." In 1875, the Hebrew Union College was launched in Cincinnati as the first permanent Jewish institution of higher learning in the western hemisphere.

The liberal and pluralistic ethos of Wise’s seminary was amplified through its merger in 1950 with the Jewish Institute of Religion. Founded in 1922 in New York by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, the renowned advocate of social justice and human rights, the Jewish Institute of Religion was conceived as an institution serving all streams of Judaism.

A third center was opened in Los Angeles in 1954 to serve the growing Jewish community on the West Coast. A fourth branch was established in Jerusalem in 1963 to serve as a post-doctoral school of archaeological and biblical studies. Since 1970, it has grown to serve as the center for the College-Institute’s Year-in-Israel Program, Israel Rabbinical Program, and as the academic center and headquarters for the Progressive Movement in Israel.

As a path-breaking institution, HUC-JIR has led the way in Jewish higher education, advancing gender equality and LGBTQI rights in Jewish leadership:
As a path-breaking institution, HUC-JIR has led the way in Jewish higher education, advancing gender equality and LGBTQI rights in Jewish leadership:

1875: established the first permanent rabbinical seminary in North America

1947: inaugurated the first interfaith school of graduate studies located in a Jewish seminary

1948: founded the first cantorial school in North America

1963: created a campus in Jerusalem, in recognition of the importance of Israel for the training of Jewish leaders

1969: launched the graduate program in Jewish communal service (now Jewish nonprofit management)

1970: started requiring rabbinical students (and later education and cantorial students) to study in Israel as part of their academic journey

1972: ordained the first woman rabbi in America, Rabbi Sally F. Priesand

1975: ordained the first woman cantor in America, Cantor Barbara J. Ostfeld

1990: established the first Clinical Pastoral Education Program in a Jewish seminary

1992: ordained the first woman rabbi in the State of Israel, Rabbi Naamah Kelman

2006: ordained the first transgender rabbi

2009: ordained the first African-American rabbi

2017: ordained the 100th Israeli Reform rabbi

Today, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion is an international seminary and university of graduate studies offering a wide variety of academic and professional programs. In addition to its Rabbinical School, the College-Institute includes the Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music, Pines School of Graduate Studies, School of Education, Zelikow School of Jewish Nonprofit Management, and Nelson Glueck School of Biblical Archaeology.
History of the New York Campus

Established in 1922 as the Jewish Institute of Religion an institution of pluralistic higher Jewish learning by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, social activist, Zionist leader, and advocate of the ‘free pulpit,’ the New York campus is a vital leadership development center for the Reform Movement, the Jewish people, and the larger world.

Students from around the world pursue their studies in our campus' academic programs:

- Rabbinical School
- Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music
- School of Education
- Graduate Studies Programs through the Pines School of Graduate Studies
- Interfaith Doctor of Ministry Program

Students have access to a wide variety of resources, including the:

- Klau Library
- Dr. Bernard Heller Museum
- Blaustein Center for Pastoral Counseling

Students have the opportunity to participate in meaningful projects and initiatives, including the:

- Soup Kitchen
- Spirituality Initiative
- Be Wise Fellowship in Jewish Entrepreneurship
Dr. Bernard Heller Museum

The Dr. Bernard Heller Museum in New York is the visual extension of the spiritual, cultural, and educational life of the College-Institute, which provides graduate and professional programs for students of all faiths. It presents exhibitions, educational programs, and publications illuminating Jewish history, culture, and contemporary creativity and offers traveling exhibitions to venues throughout North America and around the world.

Blaustein Center for Pastoral Counseling

Since 2000, the Blaustein Center for Pastoral Counseling in New York has been on the cutting edge of Jewish seminary-based pastoral education. We have pioneered a curriculum that integrates classwork, fieldwork, supervision and mentoring programs, Jewish text study, and community programming on pastoral and professional development. Today, the Blaustein Center has collaborative relationships with diverse institutions and organizations in the US and abroad. We are dedicated to training each new generation of Reform rabbis and cantors, along with many of our alumni, to have the knowledge, experience, and reflective skills to meet new challenges. Our activities are varied and ever-expanding, poised in the vanguard of Jewish pastoral care and counseling and Jewish seminary education. As we become stronger so do our future clergy and all those we serve! We are very proud of the fact that since its inception, the Blaustein Center has provided stipends for more than 200 HUC-JIR, NY students as they received formal supervised pastoral training.

Housing

Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion is not a residential campus and does not provide housing accommodations.
Accreditation

Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE). Contact the Commission on Colleges at 3624 Market Street, 2nd Floor West, Philadelphia, PA 19104 or call (267) 284-5000 for questions about HUC-JIR accreditation. The commission is to be contacted only if there is evidence to support an institution’s significant non-compliance with a requirement or standard.

Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion is committed to expanding student access to its educational offerings and providing outstanding student support.
State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA)

The State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) is an agreement among member states, districts and territories that establishes comparable national standards for interstate offering of postsecondary distance education courses and programs. It is intended to make it easier for students to take online courses offered by postsecondary institutions based in another state. SARA is overseen by a National Council and administered by four regional education compacts.

HUC-JIR is an approved member of SARA, through the State of New York.
Admission Requirements for the Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music

1. Application Part One

The first part of your application includes a few simple questions about your contact information and educational background. Please read through all the application instructions and complete all elements of the application by the deadline. If you have any questions, please contact admissions@huc.edu.

2. Preliminary Consultation

As part of your application process to becoming a cantor at HUC-JIR, we require that you speak with a professional in the Department of Admissions and Recruitment and/or Cantor Richard Cohn, Director of the Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music. This informal, preliminary consultation and audition is a way for us to get to know you better, for you to ask your questions and be sure now is the right time for you to apply to HUC-JIR. Simply email Cantorial@huc.edu to set a date and time.

3. Recommendation Letters

Good references come from individuals who know you well enough to give the Admissions Committee input on your candidacy and reflect on specific experiences you have had that make you a strong candidate. Please use the Reference Letter Request Form to submit the names and contact information of your references. The individuals you list as references will receive an email from HUC Admissions informing them that you have requested they write a letter of reference on your behalf. It is recommended that you are in touch with your chosen references prior to filling out this online form to alert them that they will receive this emailed request. It is also highly recommended that one of your four references be able to speak from a musical perspective.

Please allow each reference enough time (at least one month) to complete his or her letter of reference. If you wish to substitute, delete, or add references after you have submitted their names in the online Reference Letter Request Form, you must report this in writing to the National Office of Recruitment and Admissions by emailing admissions@huc.edu.

References for Applying to the Cantorial Ordination Program

Two Academic Reference: College professors or instructors with whom you have engaged in serious academic study should write the academic references. If you have been out of college more than five years you may obtain academic references from adult or informal education instructors.

One Judaic Reference: Of the remaining two references, HUC-JIR encourages you to submit a Judaic reference from a cantor ordained/invested by HUC-JIR.

One Professional Reference: In addition, please request a professional reference from a supervisor of your work, paid or volunteer, preferably in a Jewish setting.
Confidentiality of References

The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended, provides students the right to inspect their records. This includes letters of recommendation submitted in the application process. HUC-JIR carefully reviews all letters of reference. However, we find that letters written in confidence are most useful in assessing a candidate’s qualifications and promise. By using the Reference Letter Request Form, you are automatically waiving your right. Please contact admissions@huc.edu with any questions or concerns.

4. Transcripts

Please request transcripts 60 days before the application deadline. Transcripts need to be received in order to schedule an interview.

Please provide us with one copy of an official transcript from all of the following:

The college from which you graduated as well as any other colleges you attended. (This includes any school at which you took a college-level course for transfer credit.)

Any graduate schools where you have been enrolled, as well as schools where you have taken graduate-level classes.

Any “Year Abroad” programs or other foreign study. (If grades from international programs are recorded on your college transcript you do not need to submit a separate transcript.)

Have your schools mail the transcripts directly to:

National Office of Recruitment and Admissions

Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion

3101 Clifton Avenue

Cincinnati, OH 45220

tward@huc.edu

For international applicants: year-by-year records from colleges and universities attended are required. The record must indicate the number of hours per week devoted to each course, grades received for each course, and degrees awarded, with dates the degrees were conferred. This information must be provided in English. If this information is not available in English, it is the applicant’s responsibility to have it professionally translated and certified before it is sent to HUC-JIR. If grades are not determined on a 4.0 scale system, please include guidelines in English from the school that explain the grading system.
5. GRE or TOEFL

Graduate Record Examination (GRE): All applicants with English proficiency are required to take the GRE General Test. When registering for the GRE, please use the school code number 1291, which directs the results to the National Office of Admissions and Recruitment on the HUC-JIR Cincinnati campus. For GRE information, please see www.ets.org/gre.

We recommend that the test be taken at least four weeks before the application is due to allow time for the scores to be sent to HUC-JIR. Scores need to be received in order to schedule an interview. GRE scores are only valid for five years. Candidates with a prior degree from HUC-JIR, PhD or Master’s degree (post-Bachelor) from an accredited institution that required a GRE score for admission may be exempt from submitting a current GRE score. Please email admissions@huc.edu with a request to exempt from this requirement.

Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL): International applicants for whom English is not the first language must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The TOEFL is administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) in approximately 100 centers outside the United States. See the information available at: www.ets.org/toefl. Please note that the TOEFL exam is not a substitute for the GRE. The TOEFL school code for HUC-JIR is 1291.

6. Part 2 of the application

We will send you access to Part 2 after your Part 1 is complete and processed. Part 2 contains more in depth and program specific questions. All application materials, including Part 2 of your application, letters of references, transcripts and test results, must be received by the deadline in order to be offered an admissions interview. Part 2 of your application will ask for a first and second choice for your interview location.

7. Personal Statement:

In no more than six double-spaced, typed pages, and respond to the following questions:

Why have you chosen to become a cantor? Discuss your intellectual, musical, religious and spiritual development as well as the life experiences that have led you to make this decision.

In addition, in this personal statement, please include reflection on one of the following:

the evolution of your current Jewish practice;

your relationship with Israel;

your conception of and relationship with God; and
8. Short Essays:

Please respond to each of the following questions separately. Limit your response to the two questions to a total of six double-spaced, typed pages.

Reflect on a Torah portion that you have found meaningful or challenging. You may include classical or contemporary commentary that has been helpful to you in understanding the text.

How do you express your Judaism in relation to Reform Judaism? What do you find most compelling and what do you find most challenging about Reform Judaism?

9. Resume:

A standard C.V. or resume.

1. An earned MAHL
2. Two years of post-MAHL residency required for ordination
3. Rabbinical ordination at HUC-JIR or at another academically accredited Jewish seminary

DHL students engage in a course of focused study with HUC-JIR faculty. The program is designed primarily for guided independent study, though it may be combined with formal coursework.

The DHL program has three components: a course of study, a set of oral examinations (or the equivalent), and a doctoral dissertation. The core of the program is study and research in three subject areas – one major field and two minor fields – designed by the student in collaboration with three faculty advisors (one for each field). Faculty advisors may be chosen from any HUC-JIR campus; they do not all have to be working at the same campus. There is often a relationship among the three subject areas, but it is not required that there be one. The specific requirements of the course of study may be fulfilled entirely by guided independent study, or by a combination of independent study and coursework. Either the major or both minors must include substantial study of Hebrew texts. The major and minor areas normally are selected from the following list (other areas of Judaic Studies maybe considered as well, as long as they are duly approved):

- Bible and Related Literature
- Hebrew Literature
- Human Relations (minor field only)
- Jewish Liturgy and Worship
- Jewish Religious Education (minor field only)
- Jewish Theology
- Jewish Philosophy
- Jewish History
- Judaism and Early Christianity
Judaism and Hellenism

Talmud and Rabbinic Literature

The student is formally admitted to DHL candidacy once three advisers have been secured and the online application form and fee have been submitted to the director of the Pines School of Graduate Study. Upon admission to DHL candidacy, the program of study for each area must then be formulated with, and approved in writing by, the faculty advisor for that area. Once all three program outlines have been prepared and approved (including bibliographies), they must be submitted to the director of the Pines School of Graduate Studies, who presents them to the Graduate Executive Committee (the School’s governing body) for approval. The three components of the course of study may be completed concurrently or sequentially within seven years.
Admission Requirements for the Pines School of Graduate Studies Master in Judaic Studies

The program leading to the Master of Arts in Judaic Studies (MAJS) is designed to give students the opportunity to attain a graduate level of competency either broadly, in a variety of subject areas within Jewish Studies, or in one major subject area. Admission to the MAJS program requires a completed BA or its equivalent from an accredited college or university. Certified transcripts, letters of recommendation, GRE scores, a personal statement, and an example of previous academic work will be required of all applicants. Admission to the MAJS program also requires a minimum of one year of Hebrew language study at the university or seminary level (two years is preferable. For students who lack the Hebrew prerequisite, we offer two semesters of Biblical Hebrew to bridge the introductory and intermediate levels.

The MAJS is usually completed in two years. The degree requires 45 credits of graduate level courses or 36 credits plus a thesis (worth 9 credits). 9 credits of Hebrew language instruction (which includes the 2 semesters of Biblical Hebrew mentioned above) are included in that total. A minimum of 24 credits must be taken in residency at HUC-JIR, New York (for those taking courses elsewhere). The program may be taken on a part-time basis; but all requirements for the degree must be completed within a span of 4 years.

1. Application Part One

Application Part One asks a few simple questions about your contact information and educational background. Please read through all the application instructions and complete all elements of the application by the deadline - February 3, 2020. If you have any questions, please contact admissions@huc.edu.

2. Preliminary Consultation

As part of your application process to for admission to the M.A. Program in Jewish Studies at HUC-JIR, we encourage you to speak with the Director. This informal, preliminary consultation is a way for us to get to know you better, for you to ask your questions and be sure that now is the right time for you to apply to HUC-JIR. Simply email GradSchool@huc.edu to set a date and time.

3. Recommendation Letters

Three Academic References: Each reference should be someone who has been your teacher in a formal or informal setting. The context should be one in which the teacher could observe your intellectual capacities and your ability to engage in serious studies in your field. Good references come from teachers who know you well enough to give the Admissions Committee detailed input on your candidacy.
Please use the Reference Letter Request Form to submit the names and contact information of your references. The individuals you list as references will receive an email from HUC Admissions informing them that you have requested they write a letter of reference on your behalf. It is recommended that you are in touch with your chosen references prior to filling out this online form to alert them that they will receive this emailed request.

Please allow each reference enough time (at least one month) to complete his or her letter of reference. If you wish to substitute, delete, or add references after you have submitted their names in the online Reference Letter Request Form, you must report this in writing to the National Office of Recruitment and Admissions by emailing admissions@huc.edu

The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended, provides students the right to inspect their records. This includes letters of recommendation submitted in the application process. HUC-JIR carefully reviews all letters of reference. However, we find that letters written in confidence are most useful in assessing a candidate’s qualifications and promise. By using the Reference Letter Request Form, you are automatically waiving your right. Please contact admissions@huc.edu with any questions or concerns.

4. Transcripts

Please request transcripts 60 days before the application deadline. Transcripts need to be received in order for application to be deemed complete.

Please provide us with one copy of an official transcript from all of the following:

The college from which you graduated as well as any other colleges you attended. (This includes any school at which you took a college-level course for transfer credit.)

Any graduate schools where you have been enrolled, as well as schools where you have taken graduate-level classes.

Any “Year Abroad” programs or other foreign study. (If grades from international programs are recorded on your college transcript you do not need to submit a separate transcript.)

Have your schools mail the transcripts directly to:

Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion

Cincinnati, OH 45220
For international applicants: year-by-year records from colleges and universities attended are required. The record must indicate the number of hours per week devoted to each course, grades received for each course, and degrees awarded, with dates the degrees were conferred. This information must be provided in English. If this information is not available in English, it is the applicant’s responsibility to have it professionally translated and certified before it is sent to HUC-JIR. If grades are not determined on a 4.0 scale system, please include guidelines in English from the school that explain the grading system.

5. GRE or TOEFL

Graduate Record Examination (GRE): All applicants with English proficiency are required to take the GRE General Test. When registering for the GRE, please use the school code number 1291, which directs the results to the National Office of Admissions and Recruitment on the HUC-JIR Cincinnati campus. For GRE information, please see www.ets.org/gre.

We recommend that the test be taken at least four weeks before the application is due to allow time for the scores to be sent to HUC-JIR. GRE scores are only valid for five years. Candidates with a prior degree from HUC-JIR, PhD or Master’s degree (post-Bachelor) from an accredited institution that required a GRE score for admission may be exempt from submitting a current GRE score. Please email admissions@huc.edu with a request to exempt from this requirement.

Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL): International applicants for whom English is not the first language must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The TOEFL is administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) in approximately 100 centers outside the United States. See the information available at: www.ets.org/toefl. The TOEFL school code for HUC-JIR is 1291.

6. Application Part Two

We will send you access to Part 2 after your Part 1 is complete and processed. Part 2 contains more in-depth and program-specific questions. All application materials, including Part 2 of your application, letters of references, transcripts and test results, must be received by the deadline in to be considered for candidacy.
7. Statement of Purpose

Your Statement of Purpose which will help us get to know you as a prospective student. The statement of academic purpose should describe your background and previous academic work which includes a general description of the intended field of study (e.g. general Jewish Studies, Bible, Rabbinics, etc.), your academic career plans and the reasons for pursuing advanced study in the field at the College-Institute. The statement of academic purpose should be no more than 1,000 words in length.

8. Submission of Written Work

Applicants are requested to submit a paper, or chapter of a larger work (published or unpublished), as a sample of their written work.

9. Resume:

A standard C.V.

Admission Requirements for the Rabbinical School

1. Application Part 1

Application Part One includes a few simple questions about your contact information and educational background. Please read through all the application instructions and complete all elements of the application by the deadline for which you wish to apply. If you have any questions, please contact admissions@huc.edu.

2. Preliminary Consultation

As part of your application process through HUC-JIR, we encourage you to speak with a professional in the Department of Admissions and Recruitment. This informal, preliminary consultation is a way for us to get to know you better, for you to ask your questions and be sure now is the right time for you to apply to HUC-JIR. Simply email admissions@huc.edu to set a date and time.

3. Recommendation Letters

Good references come from individuals who know you well enough to give the Admissions Committee input on your candidacy and reflect on specific experiences you have had that make you a strong candidate. Please use the Reference Letter Request Form to submit the names and contact information of your references. HUC-JIR will not accept more than four letters of reference. The individuals you list as references will receive an email from HUC Admissions informing them that you have requested they write a letter of reference on your behalf. It is recommended that you are in touch with your chosen references prior to filling out this online form to alert them that they will receive this emailed request.

References Required for Applying to Rabbinical School

- Two Academic References: College professors or instructors with whom you have engaged in serious academic study should write the academic references. If you have been out of college more than five years you may obtain academic references from adult or informal education instructors.

- One Judaic Reference: Of the remaining two references, HUC-JIR encourages you to submit a Judaic reference from a rabbi ordained by HUC-JIR.

- One Professional Reference: In addition, please request a professional reference from a supervisor of your work, paid or volunteer, preferably in a Jewish setting.
Confidentiality of References

The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended, provides students the right to inspect their records. 6. Application Part Two

You will receive access to Application Part Two within one business day of completing Application Part One. Part Two contains more in depth and program specific questions. Additionally, you will upload your personal statement, essay and other supporting documents in this application. These documents should all be submitted as pdf format with numbered pages. All application materials must be received in order to schedule an interview. You will have the opportunity to give your interview preferences at the end of application Part Two.

7. Personal Statement

In no more than six double-spaced, typed and numbered pages, please respond to the following question: Why have you chosen to become a rabbi? Discuss your intellectual, religious and spiritual development as well as the life experiences that have led you to make this decision. In addition, in this personal statement, please reflect on at least one of the following:

- The evolution of your current Jewish practice
- Your relationship with Israel
- Your conception of and relationship with God
• The role of Peoplehood and community in Jewish life today

8. Short Essays

Please respond to each of the following questions separately. Limit your response to the two questions to a total of six double-spaced, typed pages.

1. Reflect on a Torah portion that you have found meaningful or challenging. You may include classical or contemporary commentary that has been helpful to you in understanding the text.

2. How do you express your Judaism in relation to Reform Judaism? What do you find most compelling and what do you find most challenging about Reform Judaism?

9. Resume

A standard C.V. or resume.

DMI 599 – Independent Study for Clinical Case Supervision – Jennifer Harper – 1 credit

DMI 599 – Independent Study: Final Demonstration Project – Jennifer Harper – 1 credit

Advisor-guided independent study for final demonstration project.

PDE 516 – Clinical Pastoral Education – CREDIT – Nancy Wiener – 3 credits

PDE 517 – Clinical Pastoral Education – FIELDWORK – Nancy Wiener – 0 credits

SOE 592 – Special Topics – Facing History – Evie Rotstein – 3 credits

One-Week Intensive Course. In today's world, questions of how-to best build and maintain democratic societies that are pluralistic, open, and resilient to violence are more relevant than ever. Studying the Holocaust allows students to wrestle with profound moral questions raised by this history and fosters their skills in ethical reasoning, critical thinking, empathy, and civic engagement—all of which are critical for sustaining democracy. Full course details available at https://www.facinghistory.org/calendar/s2018ny6-holocaust-and-human-behavior-educators-jewish-settings. NO FEE CHARGED.

XED 510 – Textual Tradition: Bible – Adriane Leveen – 2 credits

In this course we will be studying Tanakh through the lens of 5 different themes that are relevant both to an understanding of the Torah in its time and in ours. These themes include biblical conceptions of God; covenantal and redemptive moments; the prophetic call for social justice; the human being and the natural world; and issues of gender. We will pay special attention, both personally and professionally, to what these texts demand of us.

Given the reality that there is a vast reservoir from which one can draw in developing curriculum for Jewish education, the work in this quadmester will explore the question of what constitutes an educated Jew using Jewish perspectives. How this question is answered indicates both the choice of content and the perspective on content for different settings of Jewish education.
XED 540 – Educational Leadership – Michael Zeldin – 2 credits

This course is designed to help students develop a deeper understanding of issues involved in leading a Jewish school or educational agency and a deeper understanding of themselves in their leadership roles. The course opens with an exploration of how a Jewish educational leader’s self-understanding affects the way he or she leads, and then turns to an examination of a variety of approaches to leadership, drawing on educational and business literature as well as classical and modern Jewish texts, with particular attention to their applicability to Jewish educational leadership. (Summer - Year 2)

XED 561 – Modern Jewish Thought – Jan Katzew – 2 credits

This course provides an introduction to the thought of contemporary Jewish thinkers and education regarding the Jewish educational enterprise. Students will delve into the ideas of these influential thinkers and witness those ideas translated into real educational settings. This course is the first of a sequence of two courses that comprise a comprehensive look at Jewish educational philosophy and ideology. (Summer - Year 1)
Courses Fall 2019

BIB 401N – Bible I (Pentateuch) – Adriane Leveen – 3 credits

As the introduction to the Bible program at the New York school, this course aims to teach students how to read the text carefully and critically. Attention will be paid to the ideology and theology of the author(s) and their historical setting against the background of the ancient Near East.

BIB 421 – Survey of Tanakh – Adriane Leveen – 3 credits

This is part one of the year-long course, Torah, Haftarah, and Megillot: A survey of the Tannakh. This course covers the important texts and issues related to Genesis through Kings.

BIB 441 – Parshanut – Sharon Koren – 3 credits

This course is a survey of Jewish intellectual history through biblical commentaries. Each class will be devoted to a different exegete, from Saadia Gaon to Modern Feminist hermeneutics. All assignments will be in Hebrew.

BIB 517 – The Psalms and its Readers – Abraham Berkovitz – 3 credits

To be a Jew is to live the Psalter. Students will unpack this statement by surveying the composition and compilation of the Psalms along with its subsequent translations, interpretations and applications. In doing so, they will explore the dynamic relationship between text and reader; the complicated process of imbuing older texts with new meaning. Students will also develop their skills as literary, historically and theologically minded interpreters of the Psalter and its ever-expanding contextual environments.

BIB 527 section A – Biblical Grammar – Aure Ben-Zvi Goldblum – 1.50 credits

This course has been designed as a refresher in biblical grammar, an opportunity to reinforce and build upon the foundation in biblical grammar students receive in the Year-in-Israel program. The main goal of this course is to help students deepen their understanding of biblical grammar in order to enhance their ability to analyze and translate the Tanakh. Achieving this goal should prove beneficial for the study of other Hebrew texts, giving students more competency and confidence when encountering rabbinic, medieval, and modern Hebrew. This course also aims to help student become more fluent in reading biblical texts aloud and more familiar with the weekly Torah portion.
BIB 527 section B – Biblical Grammar and Parashat Hashavua Beit Midrash – Aure Ben-Zvi Goldblum – 0 credits

This course has been designed as a refresher in biblical grammar, an opportunity to reinforce and build upon the foundation in biblical grammar students receive in the Year-in-Israel program. The main goal of this course is to help students deepen their understanding of biblical grammar in order to enhance their ability to analyze and translate the Tanakh. Achieving this goal should prove beneficial for the study of other Hebrew texts, giving students more competency and confidence when encountering rabbinic, medieval, and modern Hebrew. This course also aims to help student become more fluent in reading biblical texts aloud and more familiar with the weekly Torah portion.

DMI 500 – Final Project – Jennifer Harper – 1 credit

Upon completion of core curriculum, students propose and develop a programmatic intervention designed to meet a pastoral need within their particular work setting. Under the supervision of a research faculty and two reader/mentors, students implement and evaluate the intervention. The Final paper is due by January 1st of the intended year of graduation.

DMI 501A – Research Methods – TEAM taught – Alexandra Barbo and Jessica Mitchell – 0.75 credits

Preparation for Final Demonstration Project and paper. Alternating Mondays TBD.

DMI 710 Theology and Pastoral Care – Seth Bernstein – 1.50 credits

This course provides a framework for understanding the dynamics of evil from different disciplines. Students are encouraged to interrogate theologians, philosophers, psychologists, and social scientists of the past century and then based on their expanded insight of the question of evil develop pastoral care strategies for those who suffer.

An overview of psycho-analytic and contemporary theories of early human development, and their applications to pastoral counseling.
DMI 717 – Assessment and Appraisal of Groups and Their Functioning – Nunzio Gubitosa – 1.50 credits

This course is an unstructured group experience in which students process together the impact of their training on their professional and personal lives. As they acquire new skills and insights, identities inevitably deepen and shift. This group experience promotes recognition and exploration of these changes. In addition, aspects of group as a whole dynamics emerge through the group process, and they are identified as they emerge in vivo. Among these dynamics are phases of group development and the issues that pertain to each (trust in the beginning phase, deepening of content and affect in the middle phase and working through unfinished business and loss in the final phase), factors that dilute group cohesion (scape-goating, the group isolate, the group dominator, intellectualizing, out of the room vs. in the room content and mirroring) the different impact of interventions that focus on individuals vs. ones that focus on the group as a whole, and recognizing the group unconscious by appreciating the connections between manifest and latent content of group communications.

DMI 719 – Case Discussion II – Seth Bernstein – 1.50 credits

Students present active case material from their pastoral counseling sessions. Attention to listening, understanding in depth, and use of technique is paid to facilitate student development and competency.

DMI 721 – Theology of Trauma – Jessica Mitchell – 1.50 credits

This course will be a study of specific Psalms, which focus on themes of grief, shame, forgiveness, hope and gratitude towards their use in students' pastoral work. Pre-requisite(s): Level I & II.

DMI 729 – Integrative Seminar III – TEAM Taught – Ann Akers and Richard Address – 1.50 credits

Six full days throughout academic year. Students write and share cases from their work addressing pastoral, organizational, theological, and ethical issues. The psycho-spiritual and ethical dimensions of the cases and the counselor are discussed in depth.

HIS 411 – Survey of Jewish History I – Sharon Koren – 3 credits

HIS 416 – Survey of Jewish History – Joseph Skloot – 3 credits

HIS 503 – The Mishnah as History: The Origins of Reform in Rabbinic Judaism – Martin Cohen – 3 credits

The Mishnah and its related literature constitute the record of the greatest transformation ever effected in the history of our faith. An analysis of its records utilizing the tools of the contemporary social sciences will reveal the new post-biblical world in which these changes took place and at the same time provide guidelines for the inevitable changes that must take place in the presentation of our faith in the kaleidoscopically changing world of contemporary globalism.

HIS 584 – History of the Rabbinate: Varieties of Jewish Leadership – Joseph Skloot – 3 credits

The purpose of this course is to uncover the history of the rabbinate over the long term and to set its development in context alongside other forms of Jewish leadership (e.g. the prophet, the tzaddik and the cantor). We will begin by considering the emergence of the rabbinate in late antiquity; reflect on the differing roles of rabbis in medieval Sephardic and Ashkenazic milieux; and discuss the professionalization of the rabbinate in early modern and modern Europe. Finally, we will consider the roles rabbis play in contemporary Jewish life (in Israel and in the diaspora), especially in the various Jewish movements and in American popular culture. Please note, this course is not for rabbinical students alone. Indeed, by reflecting on the social and cultural position of rabbis in Jewish life, we will naturally consider competing institutions and loci of religious authority, as well as diverse forms of Jewish leadership more generally. Cantorial and education students are most welcome.

JLL 401 section A – Dikduk and Sifrut – Hanni Bar – 3 credits

This course will focus on the reading of Modern Hebrew literary texts constructed around a theme such as Arakhim u-Musar. A systematic grammar review centering around enhanced mastery of the verb system will be equally focused on practical application and the decoding of texts. Classes will be conducted in Hebrew and stress will also be given to improving speaking and writing skills.

JLL section B – Dikduk and Sifrut – Michael Nachmany – 3 credits

This course will focus on the reading of Modern Hebrew literary texts constructed around a theme such as Arakhim u-Musar. A systematic grammar review centering around enhanced mastery of the verb system will be equally focused on practical application and the decoding of texts. Classes will be conducted in Hebrew and stress will also be given to improving speaking and writing skills.

JLL 401 section C – Dikduk and Sifrut – Wendy Zierler – 3 credits

This course will focus on the reading of Modern Hebrew literary texts constructed around a theme such as Arakhim u-Musar. A systematic grammar review centering around enhanced mastery of the verb system will be equally focused on practical application and the decoding of texts. Classes will be conducted in Hebrew and stress will also be given to improving speaking and writing skills.
S.Y. Agnon (1888-1970) and Devorah Baron (1887-1956) were direct contemporaries who distinguished themselves among their peers for their depictions of the shtetl and the seeming traditionalism and midrashic nature of their prose fiction. This course will pair several stories of Agnon and Baron, compare their poetics as well as their gendered treatments of canonical themes in Jewish literature. Other contemporary writers such as Hava Shapiro and I.L. Peretz will also be brought in to develop the thematic picture. CROSS-CAMPUS AVAILABLE

MUS 577 – High Holy Day Modes and Liturgy – TEAM Taught – Margaret Wenig and Henry Rosenblum – 1.50 credits

This elective will provide you with interesting and accessible repertoire that you can teach your congregations, in order that they may join you in raising their voices in prayer. Most of the repertoire will be liturgically based, designed for use during Shabbat and other communal holiday celebrations. Teaching technique and contextualization of the repertoire will also be demonstrated and discussed throughout the semester. This course is open to cantorial, rabbinic and education students.

MUS 580 – Class Piano – Shinae Kim – 1 credit

The goal of this course is to teach skills that will enable students to use the piano as an accompanying instrument. This course is taught on a private basis, and the time slot must be arranged by private appointment with the instructor.

MUS 589 – Composition – Gerald Cohen – 1.50 credits

In this course, students work on creating their own compositions, studying works of other Jewish and classical composers, and learning techniques of arranging. One major focus will be the composition of students’ own solo and choral compositions. We will spend time going over these together in class, and also have individual sessions to work on their compositions.
PDE 401N – Integrative Seminar – Self in System – TEAM Taught – Lisa Grant and Nancy Wiener – 1.50 credits

This course is an introduction to the Reform rabbinate and the Jewish community. The semester-long class will (1) explore the rabbinic life cycle and the varieties of rabbinic experience; (2) introduce students to issues in contemporary synagogue life, including social responsibility and outreach; (3) familiarize students with the centrality of Jewish life cycle events, focusing on the funeral, wedding and other life cycle events; and (4) give students an opportunity for self-reflection and the beginning of a vision for their rabbinate.

PDE 402N – Integrative Seminar – Self in Covenant – TEAM Taught – Lisa Grant and Nancy Wiener – 1.50 credits

This course will introduce students to the field of pastoral care and counseling. Through the study of psychology, pastoral care and counseling, and Jewish texts, students will become familiar with the counseling relationship; the difference between care and counseling; family systems and developmental psychology theories; contracting; making referrals; self-care and other topics relevant to the role of rabbi as counselor. The course is designed to provide students ample opportunity to reflect on class material as it relates to field placements. All students are also required to have a counseling experience, arranged in conjunction with the College-Institute, either during the academic year or during the summer preceding or following the course. The Jacob and Hilda Blaustein Center for Pastoral Counseling will provide a stipend for all students for these field placements.

PDE 411N section A – Group Supervision CREDIT – Kim Geringer – 0 credits

PDE 430 – Contemporary Dilemma in Jewish Justice: Nation, Race, Class – Daniel May – 1.50 credits

In this course we'll explore some of the most pressing challenges facing Jewish leadership around issues of social justice. At a time when American politics is undergoing profound shifts and realignments, we'll examine debates around Zionism and nationalism, race and anti-Racism, and economic populism through both contemporary and theoretical readings. Among the questions to be interrogated and discussed will include: what is the Jewish contribution to contemporary justice struggles? What are the major divisions and options for Jewish social justice work? What are the central challenges facing Jewish social justice leaders, and how might they be met?

PDE 441 – Ma’agal Hachayim – TEAM Taught – Nancy Wiener and Josee Wolff – 1.50 credits

GOALS: By the end of the course students will: 1) Enhance their identity and comfort as pastoral caregivers and officiants; 2) Gain tools for assessing and conducting appropriate pastoral interventions; 3) Appreciate the impact of diverse Jewish identities on the counseling they will do and ceremonies they will create and officiate; 4) Articulate goals and objectives for specific life span counseling; 5) Gain familiarity with Jewish and non-Jewish resources for life span counseling and rituals. OBJECTIVES: 1) For Weddings or Funerals student will be able to: a. Identify 4-7 relevant issues to cover in counseling; b. Interview a cantor or rabbi, based on the questions below, to learn about their approach to pre-marital or funeral-related pastoral counseling and how it informs the ceremonies they create. c. Prepare a complete wedding or funeral ceremony including musical choices; d. Explain those choices in light of the many factors that contributed to them. 2) Students will gain an understanding of different approaches to counseling for the life span and ritual choices related to ceremonies.

PDE 443 – Homiletics – Margaret Wenig – 1.50 credits

Communication of speeches and sermons. Required of 3rd and 4th year Rabbinical students who are serving a student pulpit to take this course.

PDE 444 – Self and System – Kim Geringer – 1.50 credits

The objective of this workshop is to help students enhance their interpersonal competence and psychological skills, strengthen work relationships, and improve overall job success. Through group discussions, participants will learn about effective communication as well as discover those barriers that render communication ineffective. Through an interactive format and role-playing exercises, students will learn empathic listening, direct communication of ideas and feelings, gain insight into relationship dynamics and expand interpersonal skills.
PDE 447 – Senior Seminar for Cantors – David Rosen – 1.50 credits

Senior Seminar will expose students to a wider spectrum of the most significant practical aspects of the cantorate as they enter the final stages of preparation for their life as Klei Kodesh. Students will have an opportunity to learn from and interact with specialists in the field, as well as leaders of the Reform Movement. Senior Seminar will partially be taught in joint sessions with the rabbinic students. Topics covered in this course will complement those offered in PDE 445. This course is Pass/Fail only.

PDE 450 – Senior Seminar – Jeremy Sirkman – 1.50 credits

Senior Seminar will expose students to a wide spectrum of the most significant practical aspects of the rabbinate as they begin their final stage of metamorphosis: the blessings and conflicts of the active rabbinate, the tensions of leadership, authenticity and scholarship in the workplace and the need to maintain focus, integrity and dignity. Moving beyond mythology, student perceptions and anecdote, we shall explore the personal covenants that have brought us to this stage of our lives. Students will have the opportunity to dialogue with specialists in areas of concern to new rabbis, as well as leaders of the Reform movement.

PDE 463 – Practicum – Benjie Ellen Schiller – 1 credit

Each Student is required to prepare and present four Practica in the course of their studies. These will feature either contemporary or traditional music for portions of a service or the music of a life cycle even of a specific composer.

PDE 517 – Clinical Pastoral Education – FIELDWORK – Nancy Wiener – 0 credits

PDE 519 – Advanced Homiletics – Jerome Davidson – 1.50 credits

Good sermons are never easy to write. Nonetheless, they provide rabbis with a unique and powerful opportunity to challenge and to motivate. On Holy Days and throughout the year, our congregants are moved by our preaching far more than we often imagine. This course is designed to enhance skills in conceiving, shaping and writing sermons on a variety of themes: personal concerns, societal issues and challenges to Jewish life, among them. Also, to be discussed the effective utilization of weekly Torah portions and additional biblical and rabbinical texts. Some sessions will be devoted to weddings, funerals, B'nai Mitzvah services and other occasions providing sermon opportunities. Prerequisite: PDE 443
PDE 537 – Life Cycle Music for Rabbis – Benjie Ellen Schiller – 1.50 credits

An exploration of the musical literature for lifecycle events, within the liturgy of the Reform Movement. Designed specifically for Rabbinical curriculum.

PDE 541 – Rabbinic and Cantorial Leadership for Public Life Fellowship – Meir Lakein – 2 credits

The Seminary Leadership Project has trained over 500 rabbinical, cantorial, and Jewish education students, helping them learn how to unite their communities around a common mission, develop leaders who can lead with them, not over or under them, and act collectively to realize their mission, both bringing new vitality to the Jewish community and acting for social change that reflects Jewish values. In this national moment, when civil society appears to be breaking down more and more, we need Jewish leaders who are able to lead their communities and take them into the public square more than ever. Course topics include: Understanding the fundamentals of organizing; Helping clergy cultivate themselves as leaders and protect their interests and time; Developing other leaders and leadership teams; The relational tools of the relational meeting and house meeting; Developing thriving congregations; Identifying common concerns and developing a collectively owned purpose; Moving beyond programming to run strategic campaigns that change the synagogue or change the world around us; Bringing Jewish communities into partnerships with other communities to work together around common community goals; Organizing Jewish communities to stand for the whole.

PDE 572 – Cantorial Mentorship – Howard Stahl – 0.50 credits

Students in DFSSM 3rd- and 4th-year internships not already supervised by cantors will receive mentoring from a specifically cantorial perspective. Topics will include working effectively within synagogue infrastructures, successfully crafting public prayer in collegial partnerships, developing and implementing curricular and programmatic initiatives, preparation of musical and spoken materials for public presentation, responding constructively to situations that arise in internships, and general preparation for workplace success beyond cantorial ordination. The format will include biweekly group supervision and monthly one-on-one sessions with the instructor.

RAB 401N – World of Rabbinic Literature – Marc Katz – 1.50 credits

This course is a broad survey of the major works of rabbinic literature, designed to provide students with an overview of the field and its key issues in preparation for future, in-depth courses. Part of the course will focus on works that are primarily halakhic compilations, and will survey works from the Mishnah (3rd century) through the Shulhan Arukh (16th Century), focusing on such issues as the nature of the tannaitic and amoraic enterprises, the relationships between rabbinic works, and the emergence and functions of codification and response. We will also focus on works that are primarily aggadic compilations, and issues such as the interrelationship of halakha and aggada, the development of the interpretive impulse from the Bible to the Rabbis, and introductions to homiletical and narrative Midrash and Talmudic aggada.
RAB 404 – Talmud I – Alyssa Gray – 3 credits

The years between the destruction of the Temple in 586 BCE and 225 CE represent one of the most diverse and fascinating eras of literary output in Jewish history. Second Temple literature, often ignored, created a bridge between its precedents in the Bible and its successor texts in rabbinic literature. Its authors lived in the first generations to explain and interpret sacred texts for a mixed audience ranging from fervent sectarian believers to assimilated Greek Gentiles. The Tannaim built upon this base to create the first comprehensive post-biblical legal system that still defines and informs Jewish law until this day. Students in this course will survey selections from pertinent texts written during the Second Temple and Tannaitic periods in order to form a textured understanding of the many literary collections and genres that developed during these periods. Students will also be exposed to various research tools (concordances, dictionaries, facsimile editions, study aids, etc.) and essential secondary literature that inform the study of these texts. Texts will be read with an eye toward their study and application in a Reform Jewish context, both as possibilities for further study and teaching, and for the sometimes-provocative information they provide about the development of Judaism itself.

RAB 412 – Introduction to Midrash – Norman Cohen – 3 credits

A survey of the key classic early Midrashim, their structure, styles, methods of interpretation and characteristic language and formulae. In addition, the course will focus on the power and relevancy of the midrashic process and texts for the lives of modern Jews.

RAB 547 – Certain Women in the Midrash – Bernard Mehlman – 3 credits

This course will examine midrashic texts which explore the lives of select women in the Hebrew Bible. Our focus will be on some lesser known biblical personalities, for example, Serah bat Asher and Bityah bat Paroh. We will also assess the midrashic handling of more central figures in the story of Israel’s deliverance from slavery, namely, Miriam, and Israel's entrance into the Promised Land, as depicted in the life of Rahav. Our study will lead us through a variety of midrashic compilations while our classroom discussion will respond to such pivotal, underlying questions as: What may we learn from the rabbinic construction of these women's lives? What may we learn from a male-centered literature about women? How may we teach these texts in today’s world?

Prerequisite: Rab 412

RAB 592 – Special Topic: Jewishness: Perspectives from Jewish Law – Alyssa Gray – 3 credits

What makes someone a Jew? How do we know if someone is a Jew? (Should we know, and when?) Can someone stop being a Jew? How does someone become a Jew? What does "being Jewish" mean? We will examine these and related questions from within classical rabbinic literature (the Talmud Bavli and its predecessor compilations) and medieval Jewish legal and other writing, along with pertinent contemporary scholarly writing. We will also examine some recent controversies around these questions. Students must have completed the Rabbinics core.
RTE 403 – Introduction to Medieval Jewish Philosophy – Sharon Koren – 3 credits

Theology of any kind is an interface phenomenon joining together a particular philosophical tradition with a particular religious tradition so as to blend what is attained by reason to what is given by faith. This course deals with specific philosophical systems as they impacted upon medieval Judaism. Among others, we shall consider the thought of Saadia Gaon (882-942), Judah Ha-Levi (1080-1142), Moses Maimonides (1135-1204), Levi ben Gershon (Gersonides) 1288-1344) Hasdai Crescas (1340-1410), and Joseph Albo (1380-1444). Depending on time, we may also study the thought of Solomon Ibn Gabirol (1021-1058) and Abraham bar Chiyya (circa 1150.)

To enable the student to better grasp the material, s/he will be asked to read selections of the texts of these thinkers in translation.

RTE 540 – Hasidic Buber – Bernard Mehlman – 3 credits

In June of 1947 Martin Buber delivered two lectures in Bentveld, the Netherlands. Those lectures were printed in German in 1948 with the title, Der Weg des Menschen nach der chassidischen Lehre. They were translated into English in 1950 as: The Way of Man According to the Teaching of Hasidism. Rabbi Bernard H. Mehlman and Dr. Gabriel E. Padawer have prepared a new translation of this work, the first in more than 60 years. It was recently published by Jewish Lights with the title, The Way of Man According to Hasidic Teaching.

This course will use this new translation. Our aim will be to analyze the Hasidic stories and explore Buber's interpretive text to better understand the ideas, meaning, and theology articulated in his work. In a seminar setting we will attempt to deepen our understanding of Martin Buber's teaching and draw meaning for our own religious search.

RTE 590 – Spiritual Direction – Myriam Klotz – 0 credits

Monthly meetings provide the opportunity for one-on-one shared exploration of the holy in one's life and for the cultivation and deepening of one's relationship with God, however one understands God. Issues, questions, and decisions concerning home, work, school, relationships, prayer, belief, spiritual practice, work toward tikkun olam and tikkun middot, etc. are all topics which may be brought to the direction session. Spiritual direction helps one learn how to nourish and stay connected to one's own inner life and soul while serving the spiritual needs of others and of the Jewish community. Spiritual Direction is a for-credit, pass/fail course. A half-credit for one academic year will be awarded, for up to one credit for two academic years.
SOE 401 – Teaching Lab – Evie Rotstein – 1.50 credits

This course focuses on developing a theory of practice through a combination of mentoring, readings, analysis of video records of teaching practice, and classroom discussion to help students develop their teaching skills. Students taking this course should be currently teaching on a regular basis, either in formal or informal settings. The focus of our classroom work is on investigating the dynamic relationship between teaching, learning and content.

SOE 403 – Adolescents and Emerging Adults – Betsy Stone – 3 credits

What is happening in the lives and brains of teens and young adults? What pressures do they face? How can we support teens and their families as they face the unique challenges of this particular time? Explore your role in supporting families and individuals navigating the teens and 20s.

SOE 422 – Curriculum Design – Evie Rostein – 3 credits

Content is delivered through curriculum. However, curriculum is a tool to be used in the dynamic interaction between students, teachers, and subject matter that is at the heart of any educational experience. In this course, we will investigate the process of curriculum development and how we as teachers can adapt, invent, and transform learning experiences in our own teaching settings. We will raise and explore curriculum questions, phenomena, and issues that cut across grade levels, subject matters, and settings.

SOE 431 – Social Context of Jewish Education in America – Lisa Grant – 3 credits

Understanding what came before us is an important step to looking ahead to what is to come. The study of the history of Jewish education in America can tell us much about Jewish life in a pluralistic, democratic society. This seminar style course will use primary sources, fiction, biography, and secondary analysis to explore the issues, trends, and innovations in Jewish education from the mid-nineteenth century until the present. We will focus on how Jewish education in America responds to and negotiates the community's interaction with the larger society.

THS 500 – Thesis Continuation – Lisa Grant – 1 credit

Through reading, writing and conversation we will consider the dynamism of the consider the dynamism and increasing variegation of the contemporary rabbinate. Students will have opportunities to interact with multiple rabbinic models including: entrepreneurial, organizational, congregational, academic, educational, and pastoral. Students will be able to practice interview and presentation skills as well as prepare for their transitions from rabbinical school to whatever comes next.

THS 500N – Thesis/Final Project – Lisa Grant – 4.50 credits

Thesis and final project work guided by advisors. Required of fifth year rabbinical students.
WRL 400 – Immersion in Prayer – TEAM Taught – David Adelson and Richard Cohn – 1.50 credits

Students will strengthen their practice of prayer for its own sake, and in order to further develop their capabilities as prayer leaders. Incorporating textual and experiential resources, students will cultivate perspectives and language that will inform their roles as participants in, and leaders of, prayer.

WRL 402 – Liturgy II – Rabbinical – Abraham Berkovitz – 1.50 credits

This course will provide a methodological overview for the study of liturgy as a textual discipline, as well as introduce a non-textual perspective, which is followed in later electives.

WRL 505 – The Art of Creating Meaningful Worship – TEAM Taught – Nancy Wiener and Merri Arian – 1.50 credits

Creating meaningful worship requires clarity of purpose and the skills to realize articulated goals. Beginning with the selection of a palette comprising liturgical texts, music, movement, and space, service leaders are challenged to create meaningful services that reflect and elevate the communities they serve. This course will emphasize clarity of purpose in worship, and challenge students to develop a sophisticated liturgical toolkit. We will focus on the collaborative nature of the rabbi/cantor relationship and explore a broad range of successful models, including sessions with innovative and successful rabbis and cantors. Throughout the semester students will have the opportunity to reflect upon these models as they relate to their own work. All Cantorial and Rabbinical students are welcome.

The success of this course depends on a synergy created between both rabbinic and cantorial students bringing their distinct learning and perspectives to bear in class discussions and in class presentations and projects.

Students interested in taking the course must speak with the instructors prior to registration. Based on these inquiries, the instructors will accept a mix of rabbinic and cantorial students, seeking an equal balance, giving preference to students in the two programs with the greatest seniority. A maximum of 16 students can register for the course.

XED 516 – Educational Practice 1: Learners and their World – TEACH Taught – Miriam Heller Stern and Lesley Litman – 2 credits

Learners are the raison d’etre for the work we do as Jewish educational leaders. Who are our learners? What are their life tasks at a given moment and how do we address those tasks and needs over time to best support them in their Jewish growth and learning? What demands does the world around us place on our learners and what are the implications for our work. Our staff are also learners who bring their own developmental needs and tasks to the table. This course will explore all of these questions as they relate to your work as Jewish educational leaders.
XED 517 – Educational Practice 2: Teaching and Reaching – Lauren Applebaum – 3 credits

This course introduces students to a range of pedagogic tools and technologies that support learners in acquiring habits of mind leading to their capacity to engage deeply in Jewish living and learning. Students will explore the concept of pedagogic content knowledge as a way to frame Jewish content, anticipating learners’ questions and/or misunderstandings along with their interests and development. This course includes an in-person intensive with a particular focus on creativity and the arts in Jewish teaching and learning.

XED 525 – Clinical Education 1 – Lesley Litman – 1 credit

Students are supported in rethinking what education in their setting is and developing their capacity to lead their institutions through a transformational change process while they themselves engage in both personal and professional transformation.

XED 545 – Textual Traditions: Rabbinics – Mishael Zion – 2 credits

This course draws upon the tools of social science, and sociology in particular, to explore historical and contemporary understandings of the purposes of Jewish education, focusing on the American context. Through an examination of various contexts and cultures of Jewish education, students will reconsider and refine basic assumptions about Jewish education, demythologize and problematize dominant narratives of contemporary phenomena in the field.

XED 550 – Organizational Systems & Change – Samuel Joseph – 3 credits

This course is designed to help students develop a deeper understanding of issues involved in leading a Jewish school or educational agency and a deeper understanding of themselves in their leadership roles. The course opens with an exploration of how a Jewish educational leader’s self-understanding affects the way he or she leads, and then turns to an examination of a variety of approaches to leadership, drawing on educational and business literature as well as classical and modern Jewish texts, with particular attention to their applicability to Jewish educational leadership.

XED 565 – Clinical Education III – Lesley Litman – 1 credit

Working individually with a clinical faculty member and in small clinical mentoring groupings with other students, students explore ways in which learning in the academy is translated and implemented in the work setting. Students are supported in rethinking what education in their setting is and developing their capacity to lead their institutions through a transformational change process while they themselves engage in both personal and professional transformation.
Courses Spring 2020

BIB 411 – Prophets – Adrian Leveen – 3 credits

This course focuses on the words and the world of the biblical prophets: the words they spoke, and the world reflected in their writings. We will study six prophetic books (Amos, Hosea, Isaiah 1-39, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Isaiah 40-66). This course aims to help students develop the skills required to decipher the meaning of the prophets and appreciate the literary and rhetorical devices used in these texts. In addition, students will become familiar with the historical context of the prophets, gaining insight into the ways the content and style of each prophetic book has been shaped by the prophets particular geographic, political, and cultural setting.

BIB 422 – Prophets and Megillot – Adrian Leveen – 3 credits

The overall aim of this year-long course is to help you become more familiar with the texts of the Tanakh and the techniques and resources used to better understand those texts. In addition, the course encourages creative applications of these texts in your work as educators and cantors. In the fall we will study the texts of the Torah- the Five Books of Moses along with key texts after the people conquer the land. Such texts include stories in the book of Judges and in the books of Samuel. In the spring we will focus on Prophets/Megillot- Amos, Isaiah, Esther, Ruth, Jonah.

BIB 430 – Teaching Bible to Adults – TEAM taught – Andrea Weiss and Lisa Grant – 3 credits

This course seeks to integrate the learning of Bible with the learning of how to teach Bible to adult learners in diverse settings. This course considers multiple approaches to interpreting and teaching biblical texts in light of the developmental needs, motivations, expectations and learning styles of adults who engage in Jewish study. Our three goals for the course are: 1) to enhance the sensitivity to and understanding of adult learners; 2) to learn about biblical studies by practicing biblical methods; and 3) to model, analyze, and design authentic teaching experiences relevant to the works of rabbis, cantors, and educators.

DMI 500 – Final Project – Jennifer Harper – 1 credit

Upon completion of core curriculum, students propose and develop a programmatic intervention designed to meet a pastoral need within their particular work setting. Classes will be conducted in Hebrew and stress will also be given to improving speaking and writing skills.

JLL 403 – Modern Jewish Literature – Wendy Zierler – 3 credits

Over the past 150 years, Jews have developed an impressive and varied literary tradition in English, Yiddish and Hebrew, grappling with such diverse issues as the immigrant experience, anti-Semitism and the Holocaust, assimilation and/or acculturation, theology and spirituality, Zionism and Diasporas, Gender and Judaism, and Jewish family life. This course will examine this rich literary tradition and grapple with the question of what makes this literature Jewish and modern. A special section will be devoted to literary representations of the modern rabbi and synagogue.

What is prayer? What do people do when they pray? What role does classical Hebrew poetry play in Jewish liturgy and how can modern or contemporary poetry serve as vehicle or inducement to prayer? How do contemporary poets draw on, respond to, and reinterpret the language of faith that has been passed on through generations? This course examines the central elements of traditional Jewish prayer in juxtaposition with modern Hebrew poems that explicitly invoke, respond to or rewrite classical tefilot. Some of the theoretical or historical readings will be in English, but most of the poetry will be studied first and foremost in Hebrew with translations used to fill in gaps in comprehension rather than replacing the work of grappling with the Hebrew original. Topics to be covered include meta-considerations of the nature of prayer, blessings, psalms, the Shema, the Amidah, Shabbat and High Holiday prayers, Kaddish, and issues of gender and prayer.

Small Group Supervision provides students with fieldwork placements to reflect on their work and their developing identity as a rabbi. For 3rd year students. NON-CREDIT TRACK.

PDE 413 section A – Individual Supervision – Kim Geringer – 0 credits

PDE 413 section B – Individual Supervision – Nancy Wiener – 0 credits

PDE 413 section D – Individual Supervision – TEAM taught – Nancy Wiener & Sue Elwell – 0 credits

PDE 441 – Ma’agal Hachayim – TEAM taught – Nancy Wiener & Josee Wolff – 1.50 credits

GOALS: By the end of the course students will: 1) Enhance their identity and comfort as pastoral caregivers and officiants; 2) Gain tools for assessing and conducting appropriate pastoral interventions; 3) Appreciate the impact of diverse Jewish identities on the counseling they will do and ceremonies they will create and officiate; 4) Articulate goals and objectives for specific life span counseling; 5) Gain familiarity with Jewish and non-Jewish resources for life span counseling and rituals. OBJECTIVES: 1) For Weddings or Funerals student will be able to; a. Identify 4-7 relevant issues to cover in counseling; b. Interview a cantor or rabbi, based on the questions below, to learn about their approach to pre-marital or funeral-related pastoral counseling and how it informs the ceremonies they create. c. Prepare a complete wedding or funeral ceremony including musical choices; d. Explain those choices in light of the many factors that contributed to them. 2) Students will gain an understanding of different approaches to counseling for the life span and ritual choices related to ceremonies.
PDE 442 – Speech – Sandra Kazan – 1 credit

JAN 16 THROUGH FEB 24. The goals in this basic 3rd year required course are to define, strengthen and develop each student's speaking voice and presentation skills for more effective preaching and communication. Practice in the delivery of sermons using a fully written text, outline, and notes will be videotaped and evaluated. QUAD 3 ONLY. REGISTRATION FOR A AND OR B SECTION IS WELCOME.

PDE 442 – Developing and Communicating – Lisa Grant – 1 credit

FEB 25 THROUGH APRIL 30. The goals in this basic 3rd year required course are to define, strengthen and develop each student's speaking voice and presentation skills for more effective preaching and communication. Practice in the delivery of sermons using a fully written text, outline, and notes will be videotaped and evaluated. QUAD 4 ONLY. REGISTRATION FOR A AND OR B SECTION IS WELCOME.

PDE 443 – Homiletics – Margaret Wenig – 1.50 credits

Communication of speeches and sermons. Required of 3rd and 4th year Rabbinical students who are serving a student pulpit to take this course.

PDE 444 – Self and System – Kim Geringer – 1 credit

The objective of this workshop is to help students enhance their interpersonal competence and psychological skills, strengthen work relationships, and improve overall job success. Through group discussions, participants will learn about effective communication as well as discover those barriers that render communication ineffective. Through an interactive format and role-playing exercises, students will learn empathic listening, direct communication of ideas and feelings, gain insight into relationship dynamics and expand interpersonal skills.

PDE 447 – Senior Seminar Cantorial – TBA – 1.50 credits

Senior Seminar will expose students to a wider spectrum of the most significant practical aspects of the cantorate as they enter the final stages of preparation for their life as Klei Kodesh. Students will have an opportunity to learn from and interact with specialists in the field, as well as leaders of the Reform Movement. Senior Seminar will partially be taught in joint sessions with the rabbinic students. Topics covered in this course will complement those offered in PDE 445. This course is Pass/Fail only.

PDE 450 – Senior Seminar for Rabbis – TBA – 1.50 credits

Senior Seminar will expose students to a wide spectrum of the most significant practical aspects of the rabbinate as they begin their final stage of metamorphosis: the blessings and conflicts of the active rabbinate, the tensions of leadership, authenticity and scholarship in the workplace and the need to maintain focus, integrity and dignity. Moving beyond mythology, student perceptions and anecdote, we shall explore the personal covenants that have brought us to this stage of our lives. Students will have the opportunity to dialogue with specialists in areas of concern to new rabbis, as well as leaders of the Reform movement.

PDE 463 – Practicum and Review – Benjie Ellen Schiller – 1 credit

PDE 515 – Life Cycle Counseling – Nancy Wiener – 3 credits

This course is designed to familiarize students with the role of pastoral counselor in life cycle counseling. Readings are drawn from the fields of developmental psychology, family therapy and liturgy. Each life cycle juncture is studied so that students can gain a greater understanding of family dynamics and the ways in which counseling can facilitate life cycle transitions. Prerequisites: Rabbinic students: Introduction to Pastoral Care and Counseling. Cantorial students: Clergy Counseling

PDE 516 – Clinical Pastoral Education – CREDIT – Nancy Wiener – 3 credits

Clinical Pastoral Education for credit

PDE 517 – Clinical Pastoral Education – FIELDWORK – Nancy Wiener – 0 credits

Clinical Pastoral Education fieldwork (no credit awarded)

PDE 571 – Core Challenges – Kim Geringer – 1.50 credits

In this course we will explore systems theory as it applies to congregational work. Our basic text will be Generation to Generation-Family process in church and synagogue, Edwin Friedman's book on the intersection of our personal and congregational family dynamics.

Students will be expected to contribute to the class by bringing in case studies from their congregational work.
PDE 588 – The Prayer Leader and The Congregational Voice – TEAM taught – Merri Lovinger Arian & Benjie Ellen Schiller – 2 credits

In this class we will explore the powerful role music plays in building community. Our goals are to help you develop as a leader of congregational song and to enable you to feel more equipped to incorporate congregational singing into your liturgical style. We will study techniques used to encourage and support congregational singing. We will analyze this singing from a variety of perspectives in order to understand how different forms of musical practice impact upon the prayer experience.

PDE 592 – Special Topics: Interreligious Activism: Text and Context – Jerome Davidson – 1.50 credits

“Interreligious activity is the cutting edge of social action.” - Rabbi Balfour Brickner

Jewish leaders today concur, the power of interfaith activism can bring about communal change. This course is designed to introduce our students to social, cultural and intellectual ideals of Christianity, Islam and other faiths, through the comparative reading of sacred texts, focusing on materials that inspire justice work in these faith communities. Discussions and text study will be led by New Testament, Quran and biblical scholars. In addition, study with a scholar in Buddhism and Hinduism is on the schedule. We will hear from Muslim, Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish religious leaders about the social activism their interreligious coalitions have developed. The outcome of this course is for students to enhance their abilities to work effectively with leaders of other faiths, bringing an authenticity that comes from knowledge of their texts, their ideals and the nature of their communities. It will aid future rabbis to step into interreligious activity with a significant measure of confidence and commitment. Among those joining are Dr. Katharine Henderson, President, Auburn Seminary; Dr. Michael Peppard, Professor of Theology, Fordham University; Dr. Jonathan Gold, Department of Religion and Director, South Asian Studies, Princeton University; Imam Khalid Latif, Director of the Islamic Center, NYU; Dr. Hussein Rashid, New School for Social Research; Rabbi Joshua Stanton, East End Temple. From HUC-JIR: Dr. Andrea Weiss, Provost, Biblical Scholar; Dr. Norman Cohen, Professor of Midrash; Dr. Adriane Leveen, Senior Lecturer in Bible; Dr. Reuven Firestone, Professor of Medieval Judaism and Islam; Dr. Joshua Garroway, Professor of Judeo-Christian Studies. Other noted scholars and clergy of different faiths will be added to this list.
RAB 404 – Talmud II – Alyssa Gray – 3 credits

The years between the destruction of the Temple in 586 BCE and 225 CE represent one of the most diverse and fascinating eras of literary output in Jewish history. Second Temple literature, often ignored, created a bridge between its precedents in the Bible and its successor texts in rabbinic literature. Its authors lived in the first generations to explain and interpret sacred texts for a mixed audience ranging from fervent sectarian believers to assimilated Greek Gentiles. The Tannaim built upon this base to create the first comprehensive post-biblical legal system that still defines and informs Jewish law until this day. Students in this course will survey selections from pertinent texts written during the Second Temple and Tannaitic periods in order to form a textured understanding of the many literary collections and genres that developed during these periods. Students will also be exposed to various research tools (concordances, dictionaries, facsimile editions, study aids, etc.) and essential secondary literature that inform the study of these texts. Texts will be read with an eye toward their study and application in a Reform Jewish context, both as possibilities for further study and teaching, and for the sometimes-provocative information they provide about the development of Judaism itself.

RAB 518 – Creating Modern Midrash – Norman Cohen – 3 credits

This workshop will present opportunities for the student to continue to develop techniques and skills in reading biblical texts creatively and then shape Midrash to be used in the synagogue setting. In addition to attempting to familiarize ourselves with methods already utilized by some rabbis, educators, and writers, we will also try to create new approaches ourselves in order to draw contemporary meaning from the Bible. The modern Midrash we create will utilize a variety of art forms.

RAB 552 – Post-Talmudic Halakhic Literature – Alyssa Gray – 3 credits

This course is the replacement for the former RAB 413, Introduction to Codes. The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the post-Talmudic halakhic genres of summaries of law, codes of law, and, to a lesser extent, responsa. Students will be introduced to these genres through lectures and secondary readings that locate the major scholars and works in their historical contexts. We will also examine a halakhic issue through primary sources. Students will also study selected chapters from Rambam’s Mishneh Torah (chapters to be determined).

RAB 592 – Special Topic – Wealth in Jewish Law and Tradition – Alyssa Gray – 3 credits

Very generally speaking, Jewish tradition perceives wealth as a blessing, a challenge, and as imposing obligation upon its possessors. Jewish tradition—based not only on canonical literary sources, but on centuries of lived communal experience—is also aware of the difficult challenge of maintaining communal cohesiveness in the face of disparities of wealth. We will examine these and other perspectives on wealth in the rabbinic and halakhic Jewish canon starting with the Tanakh and ending in the 17th century. Students must have completed the Rabbinics core.
RTE 413 – Modern Jewish Thought – Joseph Skloot – 3 credits

We shall study the still relevant interpretations of Judaism of thinkers from Spinoza and Mendelsohn down to the significant writers and themes of the present. This exposure to the ideas of our finest minds should empower students, by agreement and dissent, to shape their own sophisticated understanding of a worthy Jewish faith today. This course is a prerequisite to all advanced courses in Modern Jewish Thought.

RTE 564 – Wise Activism – Jonathan Slater – 1.50 credits

The thrust of the course will be on how our inner work (prayer, middot, mindfulness, etc.) impact the way we chose to be active in the greater community and the world and how our attitudes and practices support and strengthen our activism. The course is based on the principle: If you want to make a difference in the world, you have to work on the inner and the outer at the same time because they are the same thing. This course will draw upon the work of mindful leadership, mindful relationships, dependence, independence and interdependence thought. Systems thinking, Jewish mysticism for the 21st century. It will also include tikkun middot work around anger, trust and patience. QUAD II ONLY.

RTE 590 – Spiritual Direction – Myriam Klotz – 0.50 credits

FALL 2019 REGISTRATION REQUIRED. Monthly meetings for one-on-one shared exploration of the holy in one's life and for the cultivation and deepening of one's relationship with God. Issues, questions, and decisions concerning home, work, school, relationships, prayer, belief, spiritual practice, work toward tikkun olam and tikkun middot, etc. are all topics which may be brought to the direction session. Spiritual direction helps one learn how to nourish and stay connected to one's own inner life and soul while serving the spiritual needs of others and of the Jewish community.

SOE 402 – Teaching Lab – Evie Rotstein – 1.50 credits

This course focuses on developing a theory of practice through a combination of mentoring, readings, analysis of video records of teaching practice, and classroom discussion to help students develop their teaching skills. Students taking this course should be currently teaching on a regular basis, either in formal or informal settings. The focus of our classroom work is on investigating the dynamic relationship between teaching, learning and content.
SOE 462 – Teaching Tefillah – Ellen Dreskin – 3 credits

In our roles as clergy and educators, we spend a great deal of time either teaching or leading communal prayer, and very little time thinking about our own relationship to prayer, God, and spirituality. Until we have some vision of what we hope worship might be or accomplish, and unless we expose ourselves to a variety of prayer styles and resources that may not be our own, we will have very little to share, and we will miss out on engaging the majority of our students and congregants. To that end, in this course we will strive to: Develop a personal relationship to prayer; Gain a deeper understanding of the structure of Jewish worship as well as individual prayers; Understand prayer as a means to an end as well as a spiritual practice; Gain access and ideas for numerous tools and modalities for leading and teaching prayer and prayers; Expand horizons vis-a-vis creative ways to engage congregants of all ages in prayer and communal worship.

SOE 592 – Special Topic: Leading Through Innovation: Clergy as Changemakers – TEAM taught – Inter-Seminary Leadership & Evie Rotstein – 3 credits

ONLINE COURSE. A new course created by Glean Network, CLAL (The National Jewish Center for Learning and Leadership), and Ashoka, in partnership with 14 participating schools. This 3-credit, cross-seminary course is for rabbinical, cantorial, and education students who are preparing to take leadership roles in the rapidly landscape of Jewish life. The project-based course pulls from design thinking, innovation, social entrepreneurship, and changemaking leadership. Students will learn how to pilot a project idea under the guidance of course facilitators, and upon course completion will have an opportunity to apply for funding if they choose to launch these projects. Facilitated by Rabbi Elan Babchuck of CLAL, Anne Evans of Ashoka, and additional faculty. Additionally, Dr. Evie Rotstein will facilitate a monthly section to translate the content into a Reform setting and to explore personal application. THREE OPTIONS FOR COURSE TIMING.

THS 500 – Thesis/Final Project – Lisa Grant – 4.50 credits

Required of all 5th year Rabbinical students

WRL 401 – Liturgy I RABBINICAL – Abraham Berkovitz – 1.50 credits

This course will provide a methodological overview for the study of liturgy as a textual discipline, as well as introduce a non-textual perspective, which is followed in later electives.

WRL 517 – Aramaic Literature and Liturgy – Abraham Berkovitz – 3 credits

Classical Judaism developed within the linguistic matrix of Aramaic. In this text-focused course, students will develop their ability to read, translate and interpret Jewish Aramaic documents. Grammar will be covered inductively and explored through sources from various historical strata and dialects. Covered texts include - but are not limited to (selections from) the following: Kaddish; Kol Nidre; Had Gadya; the Ketubah; Targum; Piyyut; Midrash and Talmud.
XED 500 – Introduction to Leadership in Jewish Educational Settings – TEAM taught – Samuel Joseph & Adriane Leveen – 2 credits

This course will address key issues in leadership within a Jewish educational setting through an integrated study of biblical texts with contemporary research on the challenges and strategies of successful leadership. We assume that an interaction of tradition and contemporary Jewish life will create powerful and rich possibilities for creative thinking and reflective practice. Topics include Jewish leadership models; the culture of an organization, including its values/mission/vision; transformation and change.

XED 505 – Jewish Historical Experience – Leah Hochman – 2 credits

This course will focus on the intersection of Jewish history as a field of inquiry and a vehicle for enhancing identity and promoting citizenship. Students will investigate issues related to the teaching and learning of Jewish history, while enhancing their own knowledge of the field. Particular emphasis will be placed on the modern Jewish experience, including the Shoah, Israel, and American Jewish life.

XED 518 – Educational Practices 3 – Michelle Lynn-Sachs – 2 credits

This course prepares students to think about and carry out the leadership tasks Jewish educators perform in designing learning experiences and sequences. The course introduces students to the process of backwards design, and to concepts and theories involved in thinking about curriculum and learning design, they can be used in Jewish educational settings. As part of this course, students will choose a priority education goal for their settings and shepherd it through the buy-in and design process. This course includes the culminating process for the Educational Practice strand.

XED 526 – Clinical Education II – Lesley Litman – 1 credit

Working individually with a clinical faculty member and in small clinical mentoring groupings with other students, students explore ways in which learning in the academy is translated and implemented in the work setting. Students are supported in rethinking what education in their setting is and developing their capacity to lead their institutions through a transformational change process while they themselves engage in both personal and professional transformation.

XED 570 – Israel Seminar – TEAM taught – Jeremy Leigh, Samuel Joseph & Lesley Litman – 4 credits

The question at the heart of the seminar is why should Israel matter to American Jewish life? We consider this question by exploring the multiple historical, religious, political, social, and cultural dimensions of am, Torah, eretz, and medinat Yisrael. The goal is to develop a deep and multi-layered appreciation for thinking about and teaching Israel as an integral and indispensable resource for individual and collective Jewish life. (Spring - every other year)
The second half of the final semester of the program is devoted to completing work on the Capstone Project that began during the spring of the first year of the program. Students work both individually and in small groups and are guided through the process by their clinical faculty mentors. The Capstone Project carries 2 course credits.
Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music
Master of Sacred Music Degrees (MSM)

The MSM Degree is awarded upon successful completion of the prescribed courses in the curriculum and requirements of the New York School. Generally, three years of residence at the New York School is expected before the MSM degree is granted.

The Course of Study

- The Graduate Cantorial Program begins with a year of study at the Jerusalem school of the College-Institute and continues with four years at the New York School.

- Specific courses and prerequisites are noted in the annual course description announcement.

- Courses are offered in weekly units of 3 hours, 2 hours and 1.5 hours. In some instances, courses are offered as non-credit requirements.

- The general structure of the course of study leading to the degree Master of Sacred Music (MSM) is in the following areas:

  Hebrew Judaic Studies
  Cantorial and musical workshops Jewish Music Study
  Professional Development Electives

- Elective offerings are indicated in the Course Description Booklet. All inquiries regarding course availability should be addressed to the National Registrar.

- Performance Requirements
Course Requirements

Academic

- At the beginning of each course, the Instructor will outline the requirements for a passing grade and the calendar dates by which requirements (e.g., papers and examinations) must be filled.

- HUC-JIR students are expected to maintain the highest standards of integrity with respect to their academic work. Plagiarism, the appropriation of unattributed ideas or verbatim copying, is entirely at odds with the core principals of Jewish tradition and academic rigor. Students are expected to be familiar with the proper rules of citation (see the MLA Handbook, or similar works). Students must ensure that they understand their instructors’ expectations, and avoid utilizing completed work, notes, drafts or homework of other students when it is inappropriate.

Work completed for one course may not serve to fulfill obligations of another course, unless explicitly permitted in writing by the two professors involved. When in doubt, ask the professors involved about the appropriate actions to take. Disciplinary action may be taken by faculty members or the Student Tenure Committee where necessary.

Practicum

Second, third, and fourth year students are required to perform various aspects and styles of Jewish music in a simulated service or mini recital known as a practicum. Second year students receive one assignment for that year, third year two assignments and fourth year students one assignment. Faculty members and fellow students engage in an evaluative discussion following the practica each week. In addition, faculty members offer student confidential written comments.

Practica are held weekly in the College synagogue. SSM students are required to attend the practica and participate in the subsequent lunch discussion. No classes are scheduled at that time so that students and faculty in other programs can attend. In addition, students participate in ongoing ensembles assigned to accompany the practica of others.

Additional Performances

All students are expected to participate in a number of annual events as part of their studies at the College-Institute
Coaching

Every student in New York is provided with two coaches each year, one for each semester. It is the student's responsibility to come to coaching sessions on time and prepared with music already learned. Accompanists are generally available for Reform coaching lessons, and on occasion, for traditional coaching lessons.

Voice Lessons

Every student must study weekly with a voice teacher. The College maintains no voice faculty of its own but does have a list of recommended teachers. Students are required to file the names of their voice teachers with the office of the Director of the School of Sacred Music. Students are reimbursed up to $800 per academic year with documentation of fees paid to voice teachers. In certain cases, voice teachers will be contacted by the SSM Director’s office to ascertain their evaluation of their student’s progress.

Guitar

Students are required to study guitar for two semesters. They will be asked to demonstrate basic competency on the guitar as an accompanying instrument to be assessed by the instructor.

Piano

All students are required to pass a piano skills exam by the end of the 3rd year. Instruction will be provided to facilitate this requirement.

- Comprehensive Oral Examinations
- Students in the second, third and fourth years take COMPREHENSIVE ORAL EXAMINATIONS at the end of the academic year. These are scored on a pass/fail basis. In the case of failure, the students may not advance to the next year of study unless satisfactory performance has been achieved. They may be asked to repeat the exam, either in part or in its entirety.
- Senior students take comprehensives at the end of their fall semester. In order to be invested and panel for jobs they must fully pass comprehensive exams.
Thesis Project Requirements

- During the fourth year, a student must submit the proposed subject of the thesis to the National Registrar on or before the date announced in the Academic Calendar.

- The Candidate shall first discuss the proposed thesis subject with the member of the Faculty who coordinates the SSM Senior Theses. During the 4th year work for the thesis will begin in the Jewish Music Research Course. At the conclusion of that course written approval must be obtained from the academic advisor and the recital advisor regarding the formulation of the subject. The topic must be related to Jewish music with a written thesis and a recital. The thesis and recital should be based on the same subject, but variances are allowed.

- The thesis proposal form is obtained from the National Registrar’s Office, and once signed by the advisor, is to be presented to the National Registrar for transmission to the Faculty for approval.

- During the fifth year, a student will receive from the Office of the National Registrar a copy of the thesis regulations current at the College- Institute.

- Each student must take either an elective course or an Independent Study course which is related in some way to his/her thesis topic during the fourth year.

- During the fifth year, each student must register for the Thesis Conference in which he/she meets regularly with the thesis and recital advisors while the work is still in progress.

- If a student fails to meet regularly, he/she will receive a failing grade (F) and will not be allowed to continue work on the MSM Thesis. As a result, he/she will not be invested that year.

- In the Senior year, the candidate presents the completed thesis to the Faculty by way of the National Registrar no later than the date announced on the Academic Calendar as the “Last Day for Submitting Theses.” A student who passes senior comprehensive examinations may submit his/her thesis during the first week of the Spring Semester in order to be eligible for A.C.C. placement.

- The recital generally takes place during the Spring semester of the 5th year. Students are required to select repertoire, schedule rehearsals and create a program for the recital. The recital is a minimum of 45 minutes and a maximum of 60 minutes. The recital must include at least 20 minutes of solo music.
• If a student does not complete his/her thesis in a timely manner, the Faculty may grant one more year to complete the thesis at their discretion. Any student who does not complete the thesis after a second year will have their tenure in the program terminated.

Student Fieldwork

Students are required to serve in a URJ pulpit for at least two of their four years of study in the U.S. At least one of these years must be in a pulpit where they are the only cantorial presence (e.g. not as chazan sheini). This minimum of two years of fieldwork experience is a prerequisite for investiture. (See XIV.B).

Student Pulpits/ Cantorial Internships

• Student Interns may work alongside cantors in larger congregations or as the sole cantorial presence in smaller congregations. These positions are coordinated through auditions and interviews and a matching system arranged under the auspices of the College-Institute. Auditions and interviews take place each spring at the College-Institute. A special College-Institute brochure entitled, “SSM Student Placement Guidelines” contains procedures to be followed by students and congregations participating in this program. Student Cantors are responsible for the fulfillment of all requirements in this booklet. Students should become acquainted with these guidelines prior to their first assignment.

• Under no circumstances may students make private arrangements with a congregation for any type of cantorial service, or internship position, either on the High Holy Days or at any other time during the academic year. All negotiations must be approved, and all arrangements ratified by the College-Institute. Students who do not abide by this rule may face disciplinary action.

Types of Services Provided

• All job responsibilities, including hours, must be approved by the Student Placement Director.

• Students may perform clergy functions except marriages and conversions. The student, however, may co-officiate at a wedding in the presence of an ordained or invested clergy person. The ordained or invested clergy person must sign all civil and religious documents.
With regard to conversions, the student may guide the studies of the prospective convert under the supervision of an ordained Rabbi and/or invested cantor. The ordained Rabbi/invested cantor must sponsor the conversion, officiate or co-officiate at the conversion ceremony, and must sign the conversion certificate.

Fieldwork Supervision

There is a two-year supervised fieldwork requirement for investiture. As part of this requirement a student serving as Student Cantor in weekend pulpits, or as Hazzan Sheni (Student Cantorial Intern), participates in a multi-faceted supervision program at the College-Institute. The student attends small group and special Common Hour programs on Professional Development issues.

Tefillah

- Daily morning services are conducted by rabbinical, cantorial and education students throughout the academic year. The assignment of responsibilities is made by the Associate Dean, in association with the faculty synagogue advisors.

- Students are obligated to meet with faculty synagogue advisors before, during and after their week of conducting services in order to receive feedback throughout the planning and leading process.

- Rabbinical and Cantorial students will occasionally be asked to participate as Student Rabbis and Student Cantors at special observances held in the synagogue during the academic year.

- Torah Reading Requirement – At least twice during their tenure, each student is required to read from the Torah during the daily service. They are required to chant at least 8 lines of text and receive feedback after the reading.

Faculty

- The Faculty meets regularly throughout the academic year. The SSM Student Association President is invited to all scheduled faculty meetings.

- There are a number of Faculty/Student Committees. The student representatives to these committees are chosen through the Student Association.
Student Review

At each meeting of the faculty, any faculty member has the prerogative of bringing up a student’s name for discussion, provided there has been prior consultation with the student’s advisor and with other faculty members. This can occur either to follow up on a problem that has arisen or to focus on a student’s accomplishments and potential.

Adequate follow-up to a faculty discussion about any student is mandatory. The Director of the School of Sacred Music will determine the most effective means of dealing with the issues raised.

At the final meeting of the spring semester, the faculty will review the progress of each student individually.

Advisors

Entering Students shall be assigned to an assessment group led by two faculty advisors. The Advisor-Student Relationship should not be viewed in purely academic terms. The Faculty Advisors should serve as the hub connecting to all of the student’s activities. The Advisors work on formative assessment of students and serve as liaisons with the other members of the Faculty in whose classes their advisees are enrolled.

Since the Faculty Advisors serve as liaisons with the student’s many activities, students and advisors should meet a few times each year, individually and with their assessment groups.

Copies of completed Grade Evaluation Sheets will be circulated to the Advisors.

Grading

- Students shall be given a choice of P/C/F or letter grades to be recorded on their transcripts. At the beginning of each academic year, students will have the right to change their choice.

- If a student receives two C’s or fails one course in a semester, he/she will meet with the program director and be placed on probation for one academic year.

- If he/she receives another “C” or “F” during the year of probation, he/she will be asked to appear before a Student Tenure Committee. As part of the evaluation process, the Committee can suggest a range of ways to proceed that may include, but not be limited to, dropping the student from the academic roll or asking the student to take a reduced academic load.
• If the student fails (2) courses within two consecutive semester, he/she will meet with the Student Tenure Committee.

• If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will automatically be dropped from the academic roll. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

• Grades in Core Curriculum Courses

• If a student receives an “F” in a Core Course, they must meet with that professor to determine how to make up the F; students cannot be ordained with an “F” in a Core Course.

• If a student receives a “C” in a Core Curriculum Course, he/she must take and receive a “P” or the equivalent in an elective course in the same subject area as the course in which the “C” was received. How many do we offer? Is this feasible?

• Faculty will complete mid-semester evaluations for students who are facing academic challenges. Such students will receive a copy of the evaluation and should meet with the professor to review their work and discuss ways to improve.

• Performance requirements for each semester will be assessed. If a student fails a performance requirement instruction for remediation will be provided by the SSM faculty. Students must successfully complete all performance requirements for graduation.

• Students should receive standardized written evaluations in addition to grades for each course. These evaluations will become part of the students’ academic record. When requesting that their transcripts be sent to other academic institutions or prospective employers, they may request that their letters of evaluation be included.

• Students have the right to respond to any particular faculty evaluation.
Submission of Grades

- A detailed evaluation form will be used at the end of the semester, specifying areas upon which the faculty member must comment.

- Faculty members are expected to submit grades for all students by the second Monday after the end of Examination Week.

Extensions/Incompletes

- Students can request extensions in a maximum of two (2) courses each semester by petitioning the program director after gaining permission of the faculty person.

- Students shall have three (3) additional weeks to complete the requirements for those courses for which extensions have been approved.

- Courses with extensions that have not been completed will automatically become Incompletes (“I”). Fall Incompletes must be completed by the end of the spring semester and spring Incompletes by the beginning of the fall semester. If the course is not completed by these deadlines, it will automatically become an “F.”

- Appeal of the Program Director’s decision regarding an extension may be made to the Dean or the Provost (if the program director and Dean are the same person).

- When grades are recorded, they will be added to the “I.”

Reduced Academic Load

- Students shall be able to move through the program at a reduced pace if necessary, in consultation with the program director and Dean, taking up to a year beyond the normal degree program structure to complete the program.

- If the student needs more than one year, he/she shall submit a formal request to the program director and Dean, who shall consult with the Faculty.

Probation

Special probationary status presumes that a student so designated has not demonstrated an ability to continue the course of study and must demonstrate this ability within one academic year in order to remain in the program. If a student receives an “F” during the probation period, he/she will need to appear before a tenure committee.
Leaves-of-Absence

Students desiring leaves-of-absence to travel, study, medical or for other reasons, must apply for such a leave in writing to the Director of the School of Sacred Music. Such a leave may be granted for a specific period, usually one year. Any extension of the approved period of leave necessitates reapplication. Students must also write to inform the Director of their intention to return to the program, no later than two months before resuming study.

Tenure Student Tenure Review

Academic Tenure

• The initial purpose of the student tenure review is to assist the student in succeeding at the College-Institute. If a student receives two C’s or fails one (1) course in a semester, he/she shall meet with the program director who, together with the Dean, will suggest help and support for the student.

• If the student fails two (2) courses at any time within two consecutive semesters, he/she will meet with the Student Tenure Committee. As part of the evaluation process, the Committee can suggest a range of ways to proceed which may include, but not be limited to dropping the student or asking the student to take a reduced academic load.

• If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will automatically be dropped from the academic roll. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

• The director of each program (or if it is the Dean, then the Dean’s designate) is responsible for implementing the rules governing student tenure.

• The program director will notify the student in writing that either he/she must meet with the Student Tenure Committee or that he/she is being dropped from the academic roll. In the event he/she is being dropped from the academic roll, the student will be notified in writing that he/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement. The student will be given a copy of that section of the Student Handbook that prescribes the procedures in these cases.

• The program director will give the student three weeks written notice of the time and place of the meeting and the student will have an opportunity to submit pertinent information to the Committee at the meeting.
• The composition of the Student Tenure Committee is to be determined by the program director but must include at least one student from the appropriate professional school and between two and four additional faculty members. The Dean may not serve on the Student Tenure Committee since he/she is part of the Appeals process. If the program director chooses not to chair the committee, he/she may designate a member of the Committee to serve as chair.

• The Student Tenure Committee shall reach its decision for the suggested course of action by secret ballot and a 2/3 majority vote. The Committee may consider the following options (or any other options that the Committee may deem appropriate):

Dismissal of the charge(s);

• To further investigate the matter and delay a decision;

• Probation: The conditions of probation will be determined by the nature of the charges and the findings of the Committee. The appropriate course of action that the student must follow is determined by the nature of the charge(s). The Committee may decide that the student can continue in his/her program while satisfying the probationary conditions or that the student may not continue in his/her program until all conditions of probation have been satisfied. The Committee shall determine the timeframe for probation;

• Termination of student tenure. The program director will communicate the decision of the Student Tenure Committee in writing to the student and the Dean no later than one week after the decision has been reached.

• The student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee to the Dean in writing no later than two weeks after the decision has been rendered. The Dean has one week to respond to the student. The student may appeal the Dean’s decision to the Provost in writing no later than one week after the Dean’s decision has been rendered. The Provost has one week to respond to the student. The student may appeal the Provost’s decision to the President in writing no later than one week after the Provost’s decision has been rendered. The President has one week to respond to the student. All communications with the student will be copied to the committee chair.

• The chair of the Student Tenure Committee will monitor the appeal process and will inform the student in writing of decisions reached. The chair of the Student Tenure Committee will communicate the final decision to the National Registrar within five days of the decision being rendered.
• Copies of the communications with the student, and a confidential record of the meeting(s) of the Student Tenure Committee (other than the deliberations of executive session, for which no written record will be made) shall be kept in the Dean’s office. The student may request copies of the confidential records; such a request must be in writing to the Dean.

Nonacademic Tenure

• A student’s tenure may be terminated if it is determined that he/she engaged in inappropriate behavior that renders him/her unsuitable for his/her chosen profession, including but not limited to behavior that is unethical, illegal, or otherwise inconsistent with the codified standards of the individual professional organization of the field for which the student is preparing himself/herself.

• Charges of a student’s alleged inappropriate behavior are to be brought to the program director (or the Dean’s designate). The program director (or Dean’s designate) will investigate the charges further, and consult with appropriate faculty, student representatives and any outside consultants deemed necessary to determine whether the matter is to be brought to the attention of a Student Tenure Committee.

• If it is determined that the matter should be brought before a Student Tenure Committee, then the student will be notified in writing of the charges that have been made and the findings that pertain to those charges, and will be given a copy of that section of the Student Handbook that describes the procedures to be followed by the Student Tenure Committee.

• At least three weeks prior to the meeting of the Student Tenure Committee the program director will give the student written notice of the time and place of the meeting, and written notification that the student will be present at the meeting, except at those times when the Student Tenure Committee enters into executive session.

• The composition of the Student Tenure Committee is to be determined by the program director but must include at least one student from the appropriate professional program, between two and four additional faculty members, and may include professionals from the field for which the student is preparing. The Dean may not serve on the Student Tenure Committee since he/she is part of the Appeals process. If the program director chooses not to chair the committee, he/she may designate a member of the Committee to serve as chair.
• At the meeting of the Student Tenure Committee, the program director will present information pertaining to the charge(s) of inappropriate behavior. The student may present pertinent information to the Committee or may ask others to present information on his/her behalf.

• When all of the information has been presented, the program director, the members of the Committee and the student will raise any questions they may have. When all the questions have been addressed, the members of the Student Tenure Committee will enter into executive session.

• The Student Tenure Committee will deliberate in executive session and will determine its decision by secret ballot and by 2/3 majority vote. Any decision reached will be communicated to the student, the program director and the Dean within one week. The Committee may consider the following options (or any other options that the Committee may deem appropriate):

Dismissal of the charge(s);

• To further investigate the matter and delay a decision;

• Probation: The conditions of probation will be determined by the nature of the charges and the findings of the Committee. The appropriate course of action that the student must follow is determined by the nature of the charge(s). The Committee may decide that the student can continue in his/her program while satisfying the probationary conditions or that the student may not continue in his/her program until all conditions of probation have been satisfied. The Committee shall determine the timeframe for probation;

Termination of student tenure.

• The student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee to the Dean in writing no later than two weeks after the decision has been rendered. The Dean has one week to respond to the student. The student may appeal the Dean’s decision to the Provost in writing no later than one week after the Dean’s decision has been rendered.

• The Provost has one week to respond to the student. The student may appeal the Provost’s decision to the President in writing no later than one week after the Provost’s decision has been rendered. The President has one week to respond to the student. All communications with the student will be copied to the committee chair.
• The chair of the Student Tenure Committee will monitor the appeal process and will inform the student in writing of decisions reached. The chair of the Student Tenure Committee will communicate the final decision to the National Registrar within five days of the decision being rendered.

• Copies of the communications with the student, and a confidential record of the meeting(s) of the Student Tenure Committee (other than the deliberations of executive session, for which no written record will be made) shall be kept in the Dean’s office. The student may request copies of the confidential records; such a request must be in writing to the Dean.

Faculty Review of Students

• At the end of the Year in Israel, the Jerusalem faculty and administration will conduct a review of students regarding their suitability to continue in the program.

• There also will be a formal review of students at the end of the third year. In addition, there shall be periodic reviews of students by faculty according to the assessment protocols established in each program.

Academic Grievance Procedure

• Every member of the faculty and the instructional staff is responsible for fulfilling good teaching practices as outlined in the Faculty Handbook. Should students have grievances against a faculty member relating to any academic matter, they should avail themselves of the procedure herein outlined. The goal of the academic grievance procedure is to effect a reconciliation between the instructor and the student.

• Any student has the right to question a grade he or she has received, but the student should recognize the difference between questioning a grade and charging an instructor with a violation of good teaching practices. The latter is a serious act and should neither be undertaken lightly nor should the desire to have a grade reviewed and changed be the primary motivation. If the student wants to contest a grade, the student should first meet with the instructor to voice a complaint and to receive an explanation and possible redress.

• If the student is not satisfied with the explanation, he or she may confer with the SSM Director and ask for a review of the grade. The SSM Director will consult with the faculty member and review the material. The decision of the Dean shall be final.
• A student who feels that a faculty member has violated good teaching practices shall first discuss the matter directly with the faculty member, and if necessary, a follow-up meeting accompanied by his/her faculty advisor.

• If he or she feels that his/her grievance has not been properly adjudicated, he or she should request a conference with the SSM Director.

• If the intervention of the SSM Director still has not achieved reconciliation, the student may submit to the Dean a letter formally stating the nature of the grievance with specific reference to teaching responsibilities which have not been fulfilled. The student should also provide any materials supportive of the complaint. Within ten (10) days after receiving this written complaint from the student, the Dean will request the chairperson of the Faculty to convene a Faculty Grievance Committee which shall be made up of four full-time faculty members and a student representative selected by the Student Association. The committee shall consider and investigate the complaint and make its recommendations to the Dean within thirty (30) days after receiving the complaint.

• A Faculty Grievance Committee will not review a complaint unless it is lodged before the tenth week of the fall or spring semester which follows the term in which the alleged violation occurred.

• It shall be the responsibility of the Faculty Grievance Committee to determine, prior to considering any case, whether frank and full discussions between the student, instructor, and Dean have been exhausted as a means of resolving the grievance. If not, the case shall be referred back to the Dean as appropriate.

• If the Faculty Grievance Committee decides to consider the case, the chairperson shall inform the student that the burden of proof rests with the student and that he or she may attend the hearing, excluding executive sessions. The chair shall also inform the instructor, when the committee decides to consider a case, that has been received by the Committee and provide the instructor with a full bill of particulars regarding the grievance and its supporting evidence. The chair shall request from the instructor, in writing, information germane to the case, inform the instructor that he or she may attend the hearings excluding executive sessions.

• If the Committee finds that no violation of good teaching practices has occurred, or that violation has occurred but recommends that no redress is warranted, these findings will be reported by the committee chairperson, in writing, to the student and the instructor, with copies sent to the SSM Director and the Dean.
• In addition, a notation of this finding may be made in the student’s permanent record file.

• If the committee finds that violation has occurred and recommends any form of redress for the student, these recommendations should be reported by the chairperson of the Committee, in writing, to the Dean, with a copy sent to the student and to the instructor.

• The instructor will be expected to inform the Dean of his or her compliance or noncompliance with the recommendations within ten (10) days after the letter of notification has been sent to the instructor. Failure to respond within ten days will be taken to indicate noncompliance.

• If the instructor complies with the recommendations, the student will be informed, in writing, by the Dean with copies sent to the department chairperson and committee chair. If the instructor indicates noncompliance with the recommendations, copies of the recommendations and of the instructor’s reply will be sent to the student, Provost and the President, and will be placed in the instructor’s file. In addition, a notation of this finding may be made in the student’s permanent record file.

• If the instructor does not accept the recommendations, he or she may appeal the decision of the Faculty Grievance Committee to the Provost. Written notice of the desire for a review by the provost should be made within ten (10) days of receiving the copy of the committee’s findings. If an appeal is made, a copy of the written report of the Committee and all pertinent information and material will be forwarded to the Provost. The Provost then will affirm, reject, or modify the recommendations of the Committee.

• If the instructor does not accept the Provost’s recommendations, then he or she may appeal directly to the President. The President shall review all materials and meet with the student and instructor. The President’s decision will be final.

Requirements for Ordination

Academic

After the Year-In-Israel program, completion of the Core Curriculum, and all performance requirements as stated above (SEE XII F) and senior theses (both the written theses and recital) are required for investiture. In addition, each student must attend the annual Kallah program, participate in required yemei iyyun programs such as the Gerecht retreat, and fulfill tfillah responsibilities on campus.
Senior students are expected to complete all course work by the date announced in the academic calendar.

Professional

A minimum of two years of congregational experience is a requirement for investiture. This involves at least one year of service as a student cantor in a weekly or bi-weekly pulpit, as the sole cantorial presence (e.g. not as a sheini). Two years of a monthly student pulpit is equivalent to one year in a weekly or bi-weekly.

Beyond this minimum requirement, students are encouraged to explore professional growth opportunities such as: serving as an intern or working in a health care facility, CPE program, Jewish organization, teaching in a Jewish context, supervising a Jewish educational or camping program or participating in the Alumni Summer Residencies Program.

Financial

- The student must secure clearance of all fees and obligations from the appropriate offices before certification for ordination can be made.

Maintenance of Student Files/Records

Contents

The student’s file contains material that usually falls into the following four categories:

- Confidential letters of reference written in support of the student’s application.

- Application materials other than confidential letters of reference. These include; the application itself, transcripts, Graduate Record Examination scores, autobiographical statement, medical form, letter of acceptance and letter of acknowledgment.

- Grade Evaluations and general correspondence concerning the student contained in a student file.

- HUC-JIR transcript.
Access

The student has access to all material in categories 2, 3 and 4 as specified above. Administrative personnel have access to material in all four categories. The student’s advisor has access to the material in categories 2, 3, and 4.

Identification Card/Security

- All students are required to have an NYU photo identification card. It will be necessary to show identification to the Security Guard whenever entering the College-Institute, as well as to present this card at all New York University facilities. Application and instructions concerning identification cards are available from the National Registrar (Room 407) and/or the Director of Operations (Room 405). This Identification Card is to be worn at all times while in the building. New HUC-JIR stickers are required each academic year. Please pick up these stickers from the Director of Operations (Room 405).

- Each student will receive an Emergency Evacuation Booklet. Please contact the Director of Operations if you have not received a copy.

- Information concerning Campus Security and Drug Education is distributed each year under separate cover.

Medical

- All full-time students are required to have verifiable Health Insurance through the group plan offered by the College-Institute or are required to sign a waiver and present proof of satisfactory equivalent coverage.

- Information regarding health insurance options is available from the Director of Operations (Room 405).

- Students who are already enrolled in insurance through the College-Institute and change their marital status and contact information should communicate these changes to the Director of Operations (Room 405).

- New York State Public Health law 2165 requires that all students be immunized against measles, mumps, and rubella. Persons born prior to January 1, 1957 are exempt from this requirement. According to this New York State Law, students will not be permitted to register, or attend any classes without showing proof that they have either been vaccinated or are exempt.
In addition, all students enrolled for at least six semester hours or the equivalent per quarter are required to complete and return a Meningococcal Meningitis Vaccination Response Form to the National Registrar.

Fees

- All students will be billed directly for tuition by the National Business Office.

- If a student receives grant-in-aid or a Guaranteed Student Loan, all outstanding tuition and fees will be deducted from the grant as indicated in the student’s billing statement. (Note: Health Insurance may be deducted. Students are encouraged to complete the “Authorization to Apply Title IV Funds” form, which can be obtained from the National Business Office.)

- Failure to pay fees or installments on time may result in loss of a student’s academic credits for the semester at the end of which he/she is delinquent in payment.

- All students are required to complete the payment of outstanding bills for the previous academic year prior to registration.

- In addition to tuition fees, there is a Student Association Fee payable upon registration.

Financial Assistance

- Financial Aid: Full-time and part-time students who are taking 6 credits or more are eligible to apply for a grant-in-aid scholarship to cover up to 75% of their tuition. (up to a 100% scholarship if you are an international student).

- Aid is granted in accordance with College-Institute regulations which specify conditions of eligibility and maximum amounts. For further information please contact the Financial Aid Administrator.

- A student can only apply for a grant-in-aid scholarship by filling out the FAFSA and turning in a copy of the previous year’s taxes to the Financial Aid Administrator. Students with extraordinary financial need should be sure to make their situation known to the Financial Aid Administrator.
Federal Student Loan Programs

- The College participates in two student loan programs that are part of Federal Title IV programs. Stafford loans (GSL) and Supplementary loans (SLS) are guaranteed by the United States Government. There are regulations that govern the eligibility, distribution and use of these funds. The College has prepared a separate Policies and Procedures memo that describes all the pertinent information about these programs. This memo is distributed to all students annually.

Registration

- All Students must complete registration prior to the first day of classes. Registration forms must be signed by a student’s advisor.

- No student may register for more than 22 credits per semester without the permission of his/her advisor and the Director of the School of Sacred Music.

- Approval for departure from normal registration procedures must be obtained from the Director of the School of Sacred Music.

Students shall be able to move through the program at a reduced pace if necessary, in consultation with the Director of the School of Sacred Music and/or Dean, taking up to a year beyond the normal degree program structure to complete the program.

If the student needs more than one year, he/she shall submit a formal request to the Director of the School of Sacred Music and/or Dean, who shall consult with the Faculty.

Program Changes

- Students may add or drop courses without penalty until the end of the second week of the semester.

- With permission, students may withdraw from a regularly scheduled course up to and including week seven of the semester and receive a grade of “W.” The decision to withdraw from a course will be made in consultation with the program director.

- Students may withdraw after week seven and receive a grade of “WF,” unless there are extenuating circumstances for which an “F” is not warranted. This will be determined by the program director in consultation with the faculty member.
Study at Other Academic Institutions

Students may receive permission to study at another college or university. Such permission is to be secured through the respective Department Chairperson, provided that the proposed course of study is submitted in advance, in writing, and with the approval of the Director of the School of Sacred Music.

- Credit will be granted only if approval has been granted in advance.

- Cooperative arrangements with The General Theological, The Jewish Theological Seminary, and New York University Hebrew and Judaic Studies Department or Department of Music enable full-time students to take courses at these institutions (see above) at reduced rates or with no additional tuition fee. Details about the courses and the necessary procedures are available from the National Registrar.

- Courses taken at other institutions beyond those with cooperative arrangements are the financial responsibility of the student.

Course Exemptions/Advanced Standing/Transfer Credits

- Under appropriate conditions, a student may be eligible for exemption from specific prescribed courses, based on prior preparation. To receive an exemption, the student must meet with the School of Sacred Music Director and SSM Instructor prior to the semester in which the course is to be offered. The faculty recommendation is based upon examination of the student’s transcript, course syllabi, grades, and written work in the previous courses. Such recommendation and approval usually mean substitution of elective courses for the prescribed requirements. For performance requirements (guitar and piano) students may take an exam for exemption with the permission of the instructor.

Advanced Standing and Transfer Credits

- Credits from accredited academic institutions may be recognized. The amount of credit given shall be determined by the Dean or program director in consultation with the appropriate faculty member in the SSM whose area credit is sought.

- For learning achieved in non-accredited institutions, advanced standing is possible. The extent of advanced standing shall be determined by the Dean or SSM director in consultation with the appropriate faculty member in whose area advanced standing is sought.
• No more than 25% of course requirements may be fulfilled by outside study.

Independent Study

• The Independent Study Program is viewed as an opportunity for learning, designed to meet the needs of students in good academic standing who have demonstrated a capacity for independent work. An independent study is a course not regularly offered but developed specially by student(s) and a faculty person. A written contract submitted by the student and signed by the faculty member must be given to the program director for approval. This form is available in the National Registrar’s office. The form must be submitted to the Director of the School of Sacred Music, to the Instructor and to the National Registrar by the end of the second week of the semester.

The faculty member shall meet with the student so enrolled no fewer than three times during the semester and the course requirements must be fulfilled by the end of exam week.

Any full-time faculty member may be asked to sponsor an Independent Study course. Part-time faculty members may do so with the approval of the School of Sacred Music Director or the Dean. Since the faculty members are asked to participate in this program in addition to their regular teaching load, they shall undertake to work with students at their own discretion. If they feel that their own teaching obligations have already been maximized, then they should decline to sponsor such an Independent Study. In any event, it is recommended that no faculty member sponsor more than two such courses in any one semester.

• Students shall generally be allowed to take one (1) independent study course per semester, up to a total of four (4) such courses during a student’s tenure. If a student requests additional independent study, permission must be obtained from the Director of the School of Sacred Music; appropriate exemptions may be made on a case by case basis.

• No student who has failed a course in either of the previous two semesters may register for an Independent Study course, unless permission is obtained from the Director of the School of Sacred Music.

• A form describing the independent study and its requirements may be obtained from the National Registrar. This form shall be signed and submitted by the student and the faculty member to the National Registrar and Director of the School of Sacred Music for approval.
Doctor of Ministry
HUC-JIR Clinical Education for Pastoral Ministry, Interfaith Doctor of Ministry Program Guidelines

Program Director:
Jennifer R. Harper, MDiv, NCPsyA, LP 212.242.3585
jharper@huc.edu/jrharpertx@gmail.com

Administrative Office: The Program Director can be reached by calling the number listed at the top of this page. Michael Kuhn, administrative assistant to the D.Min program, can be reached at mkuhn@huc.edu. Direct any administrative concerns to his attention, copying the Director. The National Registrar is Clyde Parrish and Benjamin “Jamie” Antell (bantell@HUC.edu) is the Academic Records Manager/Financial Aid Administrator on the NY campus.

For general academic policies of the College-Institute, which apply to all students of the College-Institute, please refer to the National Student Academic Handbook which is available on the National Registrar’s webpage: http://huc.edu/registrar/

Cell Phones/Laptops: Please be mindful there may be other classes in session so limit cell phone use (and voice volume) in hallways. Phones should be turned off during class time. If there is an impending emergency for which you need to keep your phone on, please advise your instructor and classmates.

For laptop use during class, please check with instructor regarding his/her policy. No email or texting should be conducted during class.

E-mail: Each student and faculty member is given an HUC-JIR email address. As this is the primary method of communication in the College, it is imperative that you maintain your account. After you activate your account, please review emails received from the HUC-JIR community frequently, as some may pertain to our program or be of personal interest to you. In the event you need clarification as to the relevance of a particular message, please contact the Director.

Please note: Emails are professional communications and as such, must reflect a respectful and courteous tone. Staff and faculty are interested in assisting towards the resolution of any concerns you may have.
Counseling Hour: A requirement for graduation is the completion of a minimum of 300 hours of experience under supervision, conducting counseling in your own ministry. These are the counseling encounters you will be discussing with your HUC supervisor(s) in weekly meetings in the 1:00-2:00/2:45-3:45 time slot. You will be required to maintain a counseling diary or “log”, documenting the counseling encounters which will be reviewed by your supervising instructor at the end of each semester. (See below)

It is important that you know which types of encounters to list-or not list- as follows:

HUC-JIR defines a counseling “hour” as any unhurried contact in an appropriately private setting in which (a) you have been implicitly or explicitly asked by the client to serve as a counselor, and (b) the principles and dynamics taught in the Program are used to understand and respond to the client. (An “hour” means an “encounter” or “contact,” not the 60-minute clock-hour). Examples which do meet this definition of a “counseling hour” include (a) meeting for 45 minutes in your office (whether scheduled or unscheduled) with a congregant who wanted your help with a personal issue, and (b) a 25-minute phone conversation with a congregant who called for your help with a personal issue. Such bona fide encounters need not have been scheduled in advance, be of any specified length, or lead to formal, regular counseling.

Examples which don’t meet this definition include (a) a meeting for 45 minutes with a member of your Board (or administration or Sunday School, etc.) whom you feel needs counseling but who does not request or accept the client role; (b) a 7-minute phone conversation with a congregant asking for guidance in a personal matter which had to be interrupted because of other impending activities (thereby creating an opportunity for you to schedule a counseling appointment, but not itself counted as a “counseling hour”); (c) an encounter originally set as a “single session” cannot be counted as a double session if it happens to exceed the originally scheduled 45-50 minute session; (d) time spent in consultation with other professional caregivers involved with your client/counselee cannot be counted towards the requirement.

Encounters that meet the criteria above may properly be listed in your counseling log and counted towards the hours required by HUC-JIR for graduation. If you are uncertain about these definitions and criteria, ask your supervisor immediately, rather than bringing up uncertainties at the end of the semester or year.

COUNSELING LOG: Students keep a professional diary/log during their time in the Program which will enable them to reconstruct their schedule of past daily counseling encounters. Your log will be reviewed periodically by your supervisor and used to verify that the 300-hour requirement has been met.
Log-keeping is not the same as keeping a case record. Any case record or case notes must be kept physically separate from your log. Client identities should always be disguised to outsiders (so that no breach of confidentiality would occur, if, for example, you lost your logbook in the subway). Your log should show date, time, and type of counseling (e.g. individual, couple) but nothing more.

Evaluations of Students: At the end of each semester you will be evaluated by each of your teachers and supervisors with both a letter grade and written, narrative feedback, except that the leader of your Group Experience course will not submit any evaluations (thus preserving openness and confidentiality in the Group Experience). Evaluations are for the purpose of furthering progress in training and are not to be confused with letters of recommendation. If you desire a letter of recommendation, you may ask any supervisor or faculty member to write one for you.

Evaluations of Teachers and Supervisors: At the end of each semester you will be asked to evaluate each of your teachers and supervisor. Candor is requested and confidentiality is respected. This opportunity to provide feedback will be made available on-line at the conclusion of each semester.

Candid, Self-led feedback is invaluable to the quality of our program, so you are invited to speak for your experience as specifically as possible.

Faculty Meetings: Faculty meetings usually take place on the second Monday of each month, 12:00-1:00 p.m. The Program Director is available each Monday morning, 8:00-8:30 a.m. and 12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m. in Room 513. Drop in or make an appointment if you desire to meet.

Grades: Students are given letter grades A+ through B-, or F. Group Experience and Clinical Case are given Pass/Fail. Students are expected to maintain a B average. Final grades for each semester must be reported to the National Registrar no later than 2 weeks after the end of classes.

Group Experience: Attendance is the only objective criterion for satisfying the course requirement (2-absence provision applies). Issues discussed during the course, Group Experience, are expected to be kept confidential. For this reason, the leader of Group Experience will not evaluate students. Students are expected to respect the confidentiality of your colleagues in this course. The leader of Group Experience will respect the confidence of all individual students. When there is a likelihood that the training experience of all students could be enhanced, the leader reserves the right to bring themes and concerns shared by the group as a whole to the attention of the faculty and administration without using individual names.
Hallway Noise: Spirit and enthusiasm before and after classes is inevitable and usually welcome, but please be mindful that many others are at work nearby. Noise is disruptive, so please keep it to a minimum!

Messages: Messages for the Director may be left by using the contact information at the top of this document. Your teachers and supervisor will give you their contact information, and you will receive a contact sheet from our office. Contact them directly if you anticipate an absence, rather than using staff of Program Director to pass along a message (except in an emergency in which case it would be prudent to contact the Program Director.)

Psychotherapy: The Program does not automatically require candidates to undertake personal psychotherapy but reserves the right to require it of any student whose progress, competence, or conduct is in question. When psychotherapy is required, you may consult with any member of the DMin Program faculty, for a referral (faculty members are not permitted to provide psychotherapy while the student is enrolled in the Program) Even when not required, personal psychotherapy is encouraged as an ideal way of furthering your progress, sensitivity, depth of understanding and professional competence. When you choose to undertake psychotherapy on your own, you do not need the Program’s approval of the therapist you choose or that therapist’s credentials. All supervisors and faculty in the Program will assist students in finding an appropriate therapist upon request.

Supervision: The hours of clinical experience required by HUC-JIR must be conducted while you are being supervised. If you need to use the summer or additional time during or after your 2 years of training to complete your required hours of clinical experience, you will need to register for supervisory electives until you have completed these required hours of clinical experience under supervision. This will entail additional fees. You may ask any member of the faculty or supervisory staff to serve as your supervisor while you are completing this requirement. Please advise the program director of any agreements so the proper paperwork can be executed.
Clinical Pastoral Education Program:
HUC-JIR will offer its first CPE unit Sept. 2017-May 2018.

1) Students CANNOT get course credit for doing the unit
2) Students must do their clinical hours (approx. 10 hours/week Sept- May) at Mt. Sinai Hospital
3) Students must be available for group activities (didactics, verbatim seminars, group process) weekly: approx. 3 Tuesdays per month 3:15-6:45 at HUC; and 1 Friday morning/month 8: -10:30 at Mt. Sinai Hospital
4) Interested students will have to submit an application and participate in an interview.

If you are interested in participating, contact Rabbi Nancy H. Wiener at: nwiener@huc.edu.

Online Learning
We now offer online learning for students who live outside of commuting range for the NYC College Campus. Please contact the Program Director, Jennifer Harper, at jharper@huc.edu, to learn more about this learning opportunity.

Qualifying Exam

Level I students, upon completion of the first year and summer seminars, are given a Qualifying Exam to determine readiness for entering Level II.

The exam is a take-home case study with one month to complete, due August 1st. Each exam is read by two readers, theological and clinical, for a Pass/Fail grade. If the exam does not Pass, the student is given feedback and an opportunity to rewrite it for satisfactory completion. In the event the rewrite fails, student’s eligibility for advancement to Level II will be under review by the Program Director and Faculty.

THE FINAL DEMONSTRATION PROJECT

The Final Demonstration Project is due no later than January 1st of the desired year of graduation following completion of the 2-year residency program (There is a 5-year limit to complete the Project).

Level II Candidates will take two consecutive seminars, Research and Methods (Fall) and Research and Design (Spring) of the second year, to gain methods and design skills for creating and carrying out the Final Demonstration Project.
Proposals for a Project, including the selection of two mentors (one theological, one clinical) will be submitted to the Program Director for review and approval no earlier than Level II Spring semester. If the candidate intends to graduate the following year, Project proposals are due no later than May 1st.

ALL MEMBERS OF THE ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY INTEND THIS TRAINING EXPERIENCE AT HEBREW UNION COLLEGE-JEWISH INSTITUTE OF RELIGION TO BE POSITIVE AND VALUABLE TO YOU. PLEASE DO NOT HESITATE TO CALL UPON US AT ANY TIME FOR CLARITY OR ASSISTANCE.

New York School of Education
Policies and Procedures for NY School of Education

Course of Study

The graduate Education MARE Program is a three-year full-time program, beginning with a year spent at the Jerusalem School of the College-Institute. The remaining two years of study are divided between prescribed (core) and elective courses necessary for all candidates for graduation and ordination.

Clinical Education

Clinical Education is an integral part of MARE Program of the New York School of Education, and the Internship is its focus. Each student is assigned to a responsible position at a clinical education site, outside the academic setting of Hebrew Union College, either a religious school or another educational agency. This mode of learning emphasizes the acquisition of knowledge and specific skills through practice, direct observation and analysis of professional activity. It works in tandem with the student’s academic coursework to strengthen the potential for professional growth and development.

Goals

1. Clinical Education enables students to:
2. Confront the realities of Jewish education in different settings;
3. Acquire a more fully developed concept of the role of the Jewish educator;
4. Gain an awareness of personal strengths and weaknesses;
5. Develop the expertise required as a professional Jewish educator;
6. Develop insight into the culture and structure of synagogues and Jewish educational institutions.

Objectives

In their internships, students can:

1. Experiment with personal styles of teaching, supervision and administration;
2. Apply knowledge and methodologies learned in academic coursework to practical situations;
3. Observe and analyze different teaching and administrative models;
4. Reflect on and discuss their concerns and progress with the assigned Clinical Faculty Mentor and with their Academic Faculty Advisor from HUC.
Academic Advising

Students are assigned a faculty advisor to help guide students and to help them scaffold the learning journey. Students are also assigned a capstone advisor to support the process of a capstone project.

Yomei Iyun and Alan A. Kay Alumni Day of Learning

Each year the education students participate in a unique day of learning along with SOE Alumni. Various programs include topics that are not part of the regular course of learning.

Kallah

The academic year on the NY campus begins with a two-day kallah, offsite, starting the Sunday afternoon of the first week of the fall semester. The kallah is an important community-building experience of the campus and includes thematic programs, the first two days of classes, tefillot and social opportunities. All students and faculty are expected to attend.

Leading Tefillot and Dvar Torah

Daily morning services generally are conducted by rabbinical, cantorial, and educational students. The assignment of responsibilities is made by the Dean of Students. All education students are required to lead a week of services during their second year; students may also be assigned a Dvar Torah to deliver in their third year.

Students are obligated to meet with the faculty synagogue advisors before, during, and after their week of conducting services.

Capstone

The capstone experience is meant to be an in-depth academic experience that enhances the students’ knowledge of the process of curriculum development. MARE students and Rabbinic students pursuing the education degree in concert with their rabbinical school program have the option of either completing a separate education capstone project or of adding an education component to their rabbinic thesis.

The Capstone product will be a substantive curriculum guide that covers a semester in a congregational school, a year-long family education program, an 8-week module in a day school or adult education class, or a 4-week summer camp session. The purpose of the project is to demonstrate the student’s ability to translate content knowledge into rich learning experiences through curriculum planning and design. Below are the guidelines for preparation of the capstone project.

The completed curriculum guide is due at the end of the spring semester.
It should include:

a. Title

b. Table of Contents

c. Introduction and Curriculum rationale

d. Description of the topic selected

e. setting and model (e.g. a retreat model, a museum model)

f. rationale describing the worthiness of the unit the intended learners

g. guide for the educator: background and framing/recommended skills required of educator

h. Outcomes

i. Mission of Organization:
   - Select Priority Goal(s) for Learners.
   - Enduring Understandings (1-3) and Essential Questions (1-3)
   - Learner outcomes in terms of know, do, believe/value, belong. Describe the process to engage learners in determining outcomes
   - Identify tools and prompts to collect data that enables reflection and shows growth throughout the unit.
   - Learning Experience reflects 21st century Design Principles
   - In what ways will there accessible and rich content?
   - In what way(s) does the learning build caring purposeful relationships?
   - In what ways does the learning allow for inquiry, reflection and meaning making?
   - In what ways does the learning speak to the questions of the learner and to daily life?

j. An annotated list of resources for students and teachers for planning and teaching this curriculum

k. An eight-lesson outline following the UBD methodology

l. Three fully scripted lesson plans with detailed learning experiences
m. Annotated bibliography

Senior Education Practica

Each third-year student will present their capstone project to the larger SOE community. The presentation will include:

a. An introduction to the study and summary of the pedagogic reasoning behind the selection and significance of this topic in Jewish education;

b. Teaching a 20-minute lesson or segment; and

c. A student facilitated discussion of the presentation. (10 minutes)

After the practicum, students will meet with their capstone advisor to view the video of the presentation and debrief the session together. Student will then submit a two-page reflection sharing what they have learned from the process.

iCenter Fellows

The iCenter’s Masters Concentration in Israel Education provides RHSOE and New York School of Education students, along with master’s level students at five other institutions of Jewish education, the opportunity to grapple with the challenging issues involved in Israel education. Students participate in three seminars over 15 months, receive a stipend for short-term study in Israel, receive mentorship from an Israel educator in the field, and prepare a project on Israel education.
Pines School of Graduate Studies
Information About the DHL Program

The program leading to the degree of Doctor of Hebrew Literature (DHL) is an international program of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion administered centrally by the Pines School of Graduate Studies. Students may work with faculty members on any of the campuses, in Cincinnati, Los Angeles, and New York (in Jerusalem as well, under certain circumstances). Eligibility for matriculation in the DHL program is normally limited to rabbinic graduates of HUC-JIR (any campus). The basis for this eligibility is the period of residency that is required for the MAHL degrees and subsequent ordination.

Ordinees of other academically accredited institutions may also be eligible for the DHL program and should consult with the director of the Pines School of Graduate Studies.

Course of Study

The goal of the program of study in a minor area is to develop broad competence and general proficiency in that area. The major program of study, which leads to the dissertation, goes beyond that base of competence, and cultivates professional expertise in a well-defined area of specialization.

The major and minor areas normally are selected from the following list (other areas of Judaic Studies maybe considered as well, as long as they are duly approved):

- Bible and Related Literature
- Hebrew Literature
- Human Relations (minor field only)
- Jewish Liturgy and Worship
- Jewish Religious Education (minor field only)
- Jewish Theology
- Jewish Philosophy
- Jewish History
- Judaism and Early Christianity
- Judaism and Hellenism
- Medieval Jewish Biblical Commentaries
- Midrashic and Homiletical Literature
- Talmud and Rabbinic Literature
Program of Study--Major Areas

The program outline for each of the two minor subject areas should specify the subject matter to be studied, including the primary and secondary source material to be covered, the methodology to be used, and a tentative description of a concluding project (usually a written assignment).

Program of Study--Major Areas

The program of study in the major subject area should augment the program outline for the minor in that area, adding the extra primary and secondary resources that are required to go beyond the level of general competence and attain professional expertise. The program outline should specify the subject matter to be studied, including the primary and secondary source material to be covered and the methodology to be used.

In the case of the major, there is no interim "concluding project" as there is for each minor. Rather, the dissertation represents the culmination of the major, which means that the major advisor normally serves as the dissertation advisor. The major program outline submitted at the time of application need not include a full dissertation proposal, but it should indicate the direction of research that will eventuate in a dissertation.

DHL Courses in Real Time

The Pines School of Graduate Studies offers real-time courses open to DHL students originating from each of the stateside campuses. These courses may be taken in person or through electronic connection. Permission of the instructor is required, and the PSGS director must be notified so that the IT Department can set up the electronic connection in advance of the course’s first session.

Course work can be coordinated with the predefined program outlines of the minor subject area. DHL candidates may take up to two of these courses per year for no additional fee beyond the annual DHL tuition. For more information, contact the Office of the Pines School of Graduate Studies.

DHL Examinations

When the candidate has completed a program of study in a minor area, the advisor submits a letter of confirmation to the director of the Pines School of Graduate Studies. The DHL oral examinations can be administered only after receipt of these letters. The examination in the major may be administered when the advisor certifies in writing that the dissertation is the only outstanding program requirement but must be taken at least one month prior to the submission of the dissertation.

The DHL oral examinations normally take place at one of the stateside campuses of HUC-JIR. Their content is based upon the work that comprised the course of study.
For the sake of convenience, candidates usually are examined in all three areas at one time; it is possible, however, to take the examinations at separate times if desired. The all-in-one examination lasts two hours, with one half-hour devoted to each minor area, and one hour devoted to the major. All three faculty advisors must attend the DHL examination(s)—this can be done electronically when the advisors are on several campuses—and the other members of the faculty are invited to attend as well. Some flexibility exists for the exams outlined above.

DHL Dissertation

The DHL dissertation is the "concluding project" in the candidate's major area, as well as the culmination of the degree program.

"The [doctoral] research project should be an original, theory-driven investigation characterized by rigorous methodology and capable of making a significant contribution to knowledge about the subject under study."

Dissertation Proposal

The dissertation proposal is an integral part of the program outline for the major area. The proposal should give an overview of the proposed topic, outline the specific subject matter of the dissertation, describe how the subject matter will be treated, and include some relevant bibliography. The proposal should indicate the original contribution to scholarship that the student expects to make.

The proposal may be submitted at any time during the course of study, as early as the time of application, but no later than one year prior to the anticipated date of graduation. Students are encouraged to formulate their dissertation proposals before taking the DHL examinations.

The procedure for submission and approval of the proposal is as follows: the student submits the proposal to the dissertation advisor (normally the major area advisor); the advisor signs the proposal and submits it to the director of the Pines School of Graduate Studies; the director conveys the proposal to the Graduate Executive Committee (GEC) for approval.

- Cover Page, including the student's name, the title of the dissertation, and the name and signature of the faculty advisor.

- Statement of the Problem, giving the general scholarly context out of which the thesis topic has emerged, and indicating the questions to be raised and/or hypotheses to be verified.
Review of Prior Scholarship, emphasizing that which is specifically relevant to the dissertation. What is lacking in scholarship to date that makes the proposed work desirable or necessary?

Statement of Methodology or Approach, with particular emphasis on where it participates in and deviates from current scholarly discussion of the topic.

Outline of the Contents of the Dissertation, which should be simple in form, and follow a standard outline format (e.g., The Chicago Manual of Style).

Preliminary Bibliography, topically arranged, and limited to what is strictly relevant.

The Format of the Dissertation

The Graduate Executive Committee has established a number of guidelines and regulations for the preparation of dissertations. These cover such areas as required contents (abstract, title page, etc.), paper size and quality, formatting, printing, and annotation. Examples appear in the Graduate Student Handbook of the Pines School of Graduate Studies. Any significant deviations from the regulations in that document must be discussed with the director of the Pines School of Graduate Studies and, if necessary, brought before the Graduate Executive Committee for approval.

Submission of the Dissertation

When the advisor agrees that the dissertation is ready for submission, the candidates should prepare the final copy for official submission. Two unbound submission copies of the dissertation and a pdf file copy, together with the advisor’s written evaluation approving the dissertation, must be in the Office of the Pines School of Graduate Studies by March 15 if the DHL is to be awarded at the spring graduation exercises.
Information about the MAJS Program

The program leading to the Master of Arts in Jewish/Judaic Studies degree is designed to provide graduate-level competency either broadly, in a variety of subject areas in Jewish Studies, or in one of the major fields of study offered by the Pines School of Graduate Studies. The program is offered in both Cincinnati and New York.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts in Jewish/Judaic Studies degree is awarded to students who have completed 45 hours of graduate course work, or 36 hours plus a thesis, with an academic record of B or better. If the student chooses to specialize, then at least 12 credit hours of course work in their special field are required.

A Hebrew language requirement of 9 hours is an essential part of the program. A student entering with competence in Hebrew may receive this credit through examination.

Prior to the close of the first semester in residency, the student is assigned an advisor to guide in planning a program of study.

The normal duration of the MA program is two years for those students enrolled full-time. The normal course distribution is three academic semesters of 12 credit hours minimum and a fourth semester of 9 credit hours. Students writing a thesis normally register for 3 credit hours of thesis during the third semester and for 6 credit hours of thesis during their fourth semester. All requirements for the degree must be completed within a span of four years.

The minimum residency required for the master’s degree is one year. Awarding of the degree entails the successful completion of not less than 24 credit hours earned in residence on the Cincinnati campus. Students in the MA program in New York should contact their program director for guidelines specific to their campus.

Relationship to the PhD Degree

The Master of Arts is designed to be a terminal degree. It is not, therefore, necessarily part of a student’s progress towards the PhD. The student who completes the MA program may apply for admission to the PhD program, but completion of the MA does not necessarily affect acceptance to the PhD program that follows it. If admitted, course work from the MA program may be transferable in partial fulfillment of the PhD requirements.
Information about the Rabbinical Program

Mission Statement of the Rabbinical Program

The mission of the HUC-JIR Rabbinical School is to educate rabbis to serve the Reform Movement, the Jewish people, and humankind. Through rigorous academic and professional study, the HUC-JIR Rabbinical School prepares rabbis to...

- engage in critical study of Jewish thought, tradition, culture, history, Hebrew language, and text;
- teach effectively people of all ages, across denominations and faiths;
- organize and lead inspiring Jewish worship services and religious ceremonies;
- advocate and act for social justice;
- promote meaningful relationships with Israel and its cultural life;
- provide pastoral care and religious guidance;
- serve effectively as visionary leaders in their work and communities;
- be self-reflective in their personal practice, ritual observance and belief and in fulfilling their professional commitments;
- act as informed spokespersons for Judaism and the Jewish people; and
- foster the vibrant development of the Reform Movement.

Curriculum of the Rabbinical Program in New York

Course of Study

1. The HUC-JIR Rabbinical Program is a five-year full-time program, beginning with a year spent at the Jerusalem School of the College-Institute. The remaining four years of study are divided between prescribed (core) and elective courses necessary for all candidates for graduation and ordination.

Students shall be required to be in residence on the NY campus during their final year to fulfill all outstanding requirements, including final year course requirements such as the Senior Seminar and Thesis/Final Project as well as other on-going requirements of the program.

All requirements for Ordination must be completed within six years after the beginning of studies on one of the American campuses. (Leaves of absence are included in this six-year residency limitation.) In extraordinary cases, with approval of the Director of the Rabbinical School and the Dean in consultation with the faculty, an extension may be permitted.
2. Core Curriculum

The rabbinical core curriculum as it is expressed on the New York campus is listed below. The second and third years of the program are entirely core curriculum courses; fourth and fifth years are primarily electives. Core curriculum courses provide the foundation in seven different disciples upon which electives then build.

Exempting out of Core Courses

Students may be eligible to exempt out of core courses either because of similar graduate courses they have taken or because of advanced knowledge. The process for requesting an exemption is outlined in the National Student Academic Handbook (p. 20). Students may be exempted with credit for similar graduate courses; exemptions based on prior knowledge from undergraduate or other non-academic programs will require that an additional course be taken to replace that core course.

Electives

Students must take 49.5 credits of electives for ordination. Students should consult closely with their advisors in planning their programs of study in years four and five. In choosing electives, a student’s academic goals, career interests and academic strengths and weaknesses should be taken into account. Students should be encouraged to build on their strengths, while also tackling areas of weakness.
Students will have complete freedom of choice in selecting electives, except in cases where they have received a grade of LP (low pass), C or D, or an F in a core course.

a. If a student receives an “F” in a Core Course, he/she must meet with that professor to determine how to make up the F; students cannot be ordained with an “F” in a Core Course. A student may be required to repeat that course or take an additional course in that subject area; such a course will count towards fulfilling the core requirement and will not be awarded elective credit.

b. If a student receives a “low pass”, C or D in a Core Curriculum Course he/she must take and receive a “P” or the equivalent in an elective course in the same department as the course in which the “low pass”, C or D was received. It is understood that every “low pass”, C or D in a core curriculum course is to be offset by a grade of “P” or the equivalent in an elective course in the same subject area. In a department with multiple subject areas (i.e. Rabbinics) the student should confer with the professor who awarded the LP as to the nature of that elective course requirement. Students will receive elective credit for a course taken to offset a “low pass” (C or D).

Tefillah

Daily morning services generally are conducted by rabbinical, cantorial and education students, though occasionally faculty participates as well. All rabbinical students are required to lead a week of services during their second and third years in the program; students may also be assigned in their fourth year.

1. Students are obligated to meet with the faculty synagogue advisors before, during and after their week of conducting services.

2. All second-year students are required to read Torah and to serve as gabbai during tefillah; students may also be assigned these roles during their third and fourth years. Students will receive feedback from their Program Director and, if necessary, be required to read Torah or serve as gabbai again to strengthen their skills.

3. Rabbinical and cantorial students will occasionally be asked to participate as student rabbis and student cantors at special observances held in the synagogue during the academic year.
4. Beginning with the Class of 2021, a new Tefilah Workshop has been built into the second-year program, required attendance in the workshop on Mondays during the tefillah block and attending tefillah on Thursdays. This workshop, in which cantorial and education students will participate as well enable students to strengthen their practice of prayer for its own sake, and in order to further develop their capabilities as prayer leaders. Incorporating textual and experiential resources, students will cultivate perspectives and language that will inform their roles as participants in, and leaders of, prayer. Students will earn 1.5 credits for this workshop.

Student Sermons

1. Fourth-year rabbinical students are responsible for one student sermon presentation. At the conclusion of the third year, students will receive a sermon advisor request form in which they will be able to list choices for sermon advisor. The Director of the Rabbinical Program will then determine the student sermon schedule based upon students’ completion of or enrollment in Homiletics and faculty advisors’ availability. Dates will be sent to students over the summer along with related forms and Guidelines for Sermon Discussion.

2. The student must meet with the advisor at least three (3) times and a copy of the sermon with the advisor’s sign off must be submitted to the Rabbinical Program Director’s office at least two weeks prior to the presentation. The student is also obligated to meet with the Speech Instructor before and after delivering the sermon. The sermon will be digitally recorded so that the student can review the sermon with the Speech Instructor and can obtain a personal copy. A digital collection of the class’ sermons is provided to each student and maintained in the Klau Library.

3. A lunchtime discussion on the conference level follows each sermon. Attendance at all Student Sermons and subsequent lunch discussion is expected of all rabbinical students. Sermon review enjoys a long history at HUC-JIR and has undergone much growth and transition over the course of its lifetime. Originally, sermons were delivered on Friday afternoons as preparation for Shabbat services students were leading at their pulpits. Today student sermons are generally delivered on Thursdays as part of morning services. In some years, Student Sermons may also be given on a Monday as part of morning services. Immediately following the service, the entire community is invited to the CL for lunch and a chance to review the sermon. Some of the goals for the review are:

   a. for the entire school to have a chance to meet and engage in substantive discussion;

   b. for the darshan (it) and the community to have a chance to give and receive feedback on the sermon; and

   c. for the students to have an opportunity to gain skills in informal and extemporaneous speech.
Suggested guidelines for the sermon discussion will be provided to students when they receive their sermon date.

Student Fieldwork

1. A minimum of two years of professional experience is a requirement for ordination and involves at least one year of service as a student rabbi in a weekly, bi-weekly or student internship pulpit in a URJ congregation. Two years of a monthly student pulpit is equivalent to one year in a weekly or bi-weekly. One year of an approved supervised non-pulpit experience can be applied towards the professional requirement. In addition, all rabbinic students must complete 60-hours of supervised counseling fieldwork. Students may fulfill this requirement and earn a year of fieldwork credit (or 3 elective credits) by completing a unit of Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) over the summer or during an academic year. (See the Appendix for a more detailed description of the Fieldwork requirement.)

2. Fieldwork options

   a. Student Rabbis with Weekend Pulpits

      1. Students select, according to a lottery system of seniority established by the Fieldwork Committee, from among available student pulpits for the academic year (monthly, tri-weekly or bi-weekly) as well as for the High Holy Days.

      2. Descriptions for each weekend pulpit position and this fieldwork booklet and other information about the placement requirements and procedures are posted on SAKAI by the Fieldwork Coordinator. Students are responsible for the fulfillment of all requirements enumerated in this booklet. Students should become acquainted with these requirements and procedures prior to their first fieldwork position.

      3. The pulpit lottery takes place each spring at the College-Institute.

   b. Rabbinical Internships

      1. Student Interns work alongside rabbis in congregations and organizations. These positions are determined through interviews and a matching system arranged under the auspices of the College-Institute. The internships interviews take place in the spring, prior to the student pulpit lottery.
2. Descriptions of the rabbinical internships and the procedures to be followed by students and congregations participating in this program are posted on SAKAI by the Fieldwork Coordinator. Rabbinical Interns are responsible for the fulfillment of all requirements enumerated in this booklet. Students should become acquainted with these requirements and regulations prior to their first fieldwork position.

c. Non-pulpit Professional Experience

1. The student can fulfill one year of required supervised fieldwork by serving as an intern at a congregation, organization or health care facility that has been pre-approved by the College-Institute.

2. Any non-pulpit professional experience should entail a substantial job description, close on-site supervision and a base of approximately 400 hours of service.

3. The 400-hour requirement may be fulfilled over a two-year period. A student desiring to opt for such a non-pulpit professional experience must submit a written proposal to the Director of Fieldwork for approval.

3. Types of Services Provided

a. All job responsibilities, including hours, must be approved by the Director of Fieldwork.

b. Students may perform rabbinic functions except for marriages and conversions. The student, however, may co-officiate at a wedding in the presence of an ordained or invested clergy person. The ordained or invested clergy person must sign all civil and religious documents.

   - With regard to conversions, the student may guide the studies of the prospective convert under the supervision of an ordained Rabbi. The ordained Rabbi must sponsor the conversion, officiate or co-officiate at the conversion ceremony, and must sign the conversion certificate.

4. Fieldwork Supervision: HUC-JIR requires all students, beginning in their 3\textsuperscript{rd} year, to participate in a multifaceted fieldwork program that involves small group and individual supervision, fieldwork mentors, professional development Common Hours, and a brit limmud/learning contract.

a. All students are required to participate in two (2) years of the full supervised fieldwork program, one of which can be satisfied by completing a unit of CPE. Those fulfilling a year of supervised fieldwork prepare their own Brit Limmud/Learning contract, and participate in monthly individual supervision, weekly small group supervision, 4 Professional development workshops scheduled during lunch hours and have monthly meetings with a rabbinic mentor.
b. Students who have fulfilled the two-year supervised fieldwork requirement must remain in supervision until ordination. They can choose to participate in either individual or group or both individual and group supervision. They also are expected to continue with regular meetings with their rabbinic mentor.

Supplemental Requirements

1. Teaching – Rabbinic students are required to take 3 credits in Education in their second year; the course requires a teaching field placement. Students are expected to teach in a setting that is on-going through the year (congregational school, adult education, JCC continuing education class, etc.) It could be with any age group. Tutoring does not meet the necessary requirement.

2. Kallah – The academic year on the NY campus begins with a two-day kallah, off site, starting the Sunday afternoon of the first week of the fall semester. The kallah is an important community-building experience of the campus and includes thematic programs, tefillot and social opportunities that are developed by planning groups of students and faculty. All students and faculty are expected to attend. A student must obtain permission in advance of kallah from their program director in order to miss kallah; a make-up assignment will be required.

3. Retreat Weekends – During their third year, rabbinical students and their cantorial classmates participate in the Gerecht Institute, a two-day retreat, focusing on issues associated with conversion to Judaism. The Gerecht Institute takes place at a retreat center during the fall Y’mei Iyyun; attendance at an orientation session during a community hour prior to the retreat is required as well as some preparatory readings. During their fourth year, rabbinical students participate in the HUC-JIR Outreach Institute, a Shabbat at a URJ congregation with a strong message and program of outreach, especially towards welcoming interfaith families.

4. Social Responsibility Course and Infield Experience – One of the hallmarks of Reform Judaism has always been an emphasis on social justice and prophetic Judaism. There are two required elements of the rabbinical program that address this important area: a required course in Leadership and Social Responsibility (PDE 430) taken during the fourth year and the completion of an infield experience in an agency or organization in the field of social action during any of the four years in New York. These projects—which vary in nature, scope, and length—can come from the suggested list provided, or students may design their own project to be approved. In addition to being deemed a worthwhile project, in order to be approved, the professionals at the organization must agree to take the time to mentor the students who spend time on a project in their agency. Each student must keep a journal during the infield experience and must submit a written report upon its conclusion. HUC-JIR will cover transportation and registration expenses for participating in a Social Responsibility Infield Experience. Rabbi Jerome K. Davidson and Rabbi Darcie L. Crystal oversee the Social Responsibility Infield Experience; students will learn more about this program from them early in their first year in New York.
5. Mentoring – As part of the CCAR requirement for admissions and guidelines established by the CCAR/HUC-JIR Joint Commission on Mentoring, all fifth-year students will be assigned rabbinic mentors who will serve as mentors through their fifth year at HUC-JIR and their first two years in the rabbinate. CCAR mentors have been carefully selected and have received training for such mentoring through the Joint Commission. Students will learn more about the program in a meeting with the Director of the Joint Commission on Mentoring during their fourth year in the program when they will have the opportunity to complete forms indicating their preferences for qualities of their mentor.

Master of Arts in Hebrew Literature Degree

The Master of Arts in Hebrew Literature degree is awarded upon successful completion of the prescribed courses in the curriculum of the New York School, usually at the end of the fourth year in the program. Generally, at least two years of residence at the New York School is expected before the MA degree is granted.

Thesis/Final Project

As a requirement for ordination, students must complete an approved thesis/final project in their fifth year by the deadline announced in the academic calendar. A description of the Thesis/Final project is posted on the NY Resources Page of SAKAI (NY resources/Resources/Rabbinic Thesis/Final project folder).

Procedures for determining the subject of the Thesis/Final project

During the spring semester of the third year, the class will meet with the Director of the Rabbinical Program to review the Thesis/Final project options and procedures.

Students will then have until the beginning of the spring semester of their fourth year (the date will be announced in the Academic Calendar) to submit their proposals. This time should be spent researching potential topics and meeting with faculty members to choose a thesis/final project advisor. The Thesis/Final Project Proposal Form, Thesis/Final Project Guidelines with pages from each faculty member, sample proposals and other related documents are posted in the Rabbinic Thesis/Final projects folder on SAKAI. The faculty will review thesis/final project proposals at its February meeting. Students may be asked to refine proposals if they are not acceptable.

Students are encouraged to take either an elective course or an Independent Study course which is related in some way to his/her thesis topic during the fourth year.
Students must register for THS 500 Thesis Research for the fall and spring semesters of the fifth year and they must meet regularly with their advisors. If a student fails to meet regularly with her/his advisor, he/she will receive a failing grade (F) and will not be allowed to continue work on the Rabbinic Thesis. As a result, he/she will not be ordained that year.

The candidate must present the completed thesis with the Thesis Approval Form signed by the thesis advisor to the Faculty by way of the National Registrar, no later than the date announced on the Academic Calendar as the “Last Day for Submitting Theses.” The requirements for the format of the Thesis/Final Project are included in the Thesis/Final Project Guidelines.

A student may not enter placement if the thesis is not submitted in a timely manner. A student may request an extension to the Faculty through the Program Director for the thesis in order to be ordained or for an additional year. Any student who does not complete the thesis after a second year will have their tenure in the program terminated.

Fieldwork and Pastoral Counseling Requirements

All students have requirements for Fieldwork and for Pastoral Counseling which they must fulfill during their tenure at HUC-JIR. Both Fieldwork and Pastoral Counseling combine work with reflection; the goal is for students to develop a reflective practice that they will carry into and continue in their own rabbinates. HUC-JIR students involved in any sort of fieldwork must be in supervision.

Fieldwork Placements and Supervision

1. All students must participate in the supervised fieldwork program.
2. To fulfill the requirements of this program* students must:
   a. Serve a URJ congregation for one year (with a minimum 9 monthly visits plus the High Holy Days) while participating in:
      i. Weekly small group supervision
      ii. Monthly individual supervision
      iii. Regular individual meetings with mentor
          1. Monthly for students with weekend pulpits
          2. Bi-weekly for students with internships
      iv. The preparation of a Brit Limud
   v. PD Common Hours (3 or 4 per year).
   vi. Mentor Meetings for all mentors and students hosted at HUC-JIR
And

b. Serve a URJ congregation, an approved unaffiliated congregation, or intern with an organization or healthcare facility that participates in the HUC-JIR fieldwork placement and mentoring program and participate in all of the pieces of the supervised fieldwork program (see 2a)

c. Complete a 400-hour unit of CPE which the student has chosen to take for Supervised Fieldwork, not course, credit. **

Upon completing the supervised fieldwork requirement students are required to continue with some form of supervision throughout their tenure at HUC-JIR/NY. At this point, the student may choose individual supervision, group supervision, or both. Prior to each academic year, students will receive information from the Fieldwork Director about their status vis a vis the supervised fieldwork requirement, as well as the supervision courses, including section, for which they are eligible to register.
• To fulfill ordination requirements: students must either complete a pulpit internship or have at minimum 14 opportunities to have pulpit responsibilities at a URJ weekend pulpit (bi-weekly and tri-weekly pulpits fulfill this requirement). Students have served a URJ monthly pulpit (9 visits) must either complete two years of the monthly or make arrangements with the Fieldwork Coordinator for another approved setting that involves at least 5 service-leading opportunities. Tisch and official HUC-JIR summer residencies in congregations can count toward the 5 additional service-leading opportunities. Summer residencies do not count as a year of supervised fieldwork.

Students will opt for supervised fieldwork credit or 3 elective credits for a unit of CPE

Pastoral Counseling Requirements

1. All students must complete the two-semester required course in pastoral care and counseling

2. All students must also have a supervised pastoral placement

   a. This is arranged through the Blaustein Center with Rabbi Wiener.

   i. Most students fulfill this requirement by doing Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE).

   1. CPE is nationally accredited program that requires a 200 or 400-hour healthcare based supervised placement. Most students do this over a 10- or 11-week period over the summer. Some students do it during the academic year.

   (CPE can be done in locations around the country.) A 200-hour commitment is known as ½ unit of CPE; a 400-hour commitment is known as a full unit of CPE. Either of these will fulfill the pastoral counseling requirement.

   2. The Blaustein Center covers the student’s CPE tuition.

   3. The Blaustein Center, beginning summer 2012, provides the student with a stipend of $2,100 for 200 hours and $4,200 for 400 hours.

   ii. Some students fulfill this requirement by taking an academic year internship for 10 hours per week at a healthcare facility.

      1. Students interview for these internships along with all other congregational and organizational internships in the spring semester prior to the start of the placement.
iii. Some students do a more limited placement, either in a congregation or healthcare facility.

1. These placements are for a minimum of 60 hours of direct care.

2. They are arranged by Rabbi Wiener.

3. They carry a stipend, determined by the number of hours.

4. The student will receive some supervision on-site and will have regularly scheduled meetings with Rabbi Wiener as well.

5. In years past, students have had placements in nursing homes, at JCCs or congregations co-facilitating groups with a social worker, at hospices, etc.

b. We recommend that students try to do CPE or another pastoral placement (that will not be academic year internships) between their 2nd and 3rd years because:

1. It will enhance their understanding of the material covered in the required pastoral counseling course, which is taught spring 2nd year and fall 3rd year.

2. It will enhance their work in congregational settings, which may begin 3rd year.

3. It will not conflict with Tisch fellowship residencies (most often done summers between 3rd and 4th years) or thesis writing (summer between 4th and 5th year).

General Academic Information

Study at Other Academic Institutions

1. Cooperative arrangements with The General Theological Seminary, The Jewish Theological Seminary, New York University and Union Theological Seminary enable full-time students to take select courses at these institutions at reduced rates or with no additional tuition fee. Details about the courses and the necessary procedures are available from the National Registrar.
2. Courses taken at other institutions beyond those with cooperative arrangements are the financial responsibility of the student.

Faculty

1. The Faculty meets regularly throughout the academic year. A representative of the Student Association is invited to present a report at scheduled faculty meetings at the discretion of the Dean.

2. Student representatives may be invited to participate in various Faculty Committees.

3. Student Review

   • At each meeting of the faculty, any faculty member has the prerogative of bringing up a student’s name for discussion, provided there has been prior consultation with the student’s advisor and with other faculty members. This can occur either to follow up on a problem that has arisen or to focus on a student’s accomplishments and potential.

   • Adequate follow-up to a faculty discussion about any student is mandatory.

   • The Director of the Rabbinical Program will determine the most effective means of dealing with the issues raised.

   • At the final meeting of the spring semester, the faculty will review the progress of each student individually.

4. Faculty Evaluations of Students – Faculty will complete mid-semester evaluations for students who are facing academic challenges. Such student, their advisor and program director will receive a copy of the evaluation. The student should meet with the professor to review their work and discuss ways to improve.

At the conclusion of each semester faculty are asked to complete standardized written evaluations, Narrative Assessments, for their students in order to provide students with feedback in addition to grades. These evaluations will be shared with the student's advisor and become part of the students' academic records. When requesting that their transcripts be sent to other academic institutions or prospective employers, students may request that their letters of evaluation be included.
Students are encouraged to communicate with their professors in response to their Narrative Assessments. If students feel that either the Narrative Assessments or their grades are unjustified, they should follow the grievance procedures outlined in the National Student Academic Handbook posted on the National Registrar’s webpage.

5. Course Evaluations – Students are asked to complete evaluation forms for each of their courses in the last weeks of this semester. Currently, the evaluation process is done via an on-line survey format. The forms are anonymous, and faculty do not receive them until after grades and narrative assessments are submitted. The feedback gleaned from these evaluations is crucial for the faculty and for HUC-JIR as an academic institution. We ask for your prompt compliance with this request.

Administrative Information

Identification Card/Security

1. All students are required to have a current NYU photo identification card with them daily. It will be necessary to use this card to enter the building during regular hours and to show to the Security Guard at other times, as well as to present at all New York University facilities. Application and instructions concerning identification cards are available from the Director of Operations (Room 405) along with the HUC-JIR stickers that must be affixed to the identification card. New stickers are required each academic year. Students must go to a nearby NYU Office to obtain the identification card.

2. Students will receive a mailbox key and locker assignment from the Director of Operations at the start of their tenure on the NY campus. Lockers and mailboxes must be emptied each summer. The mailbox key must be returned at the conclusion of the student's studies.

3. All students receive an HUC email address when they begin their studies. All official emails will be sent to that address. Students are expected to check their HUC emails regularly.

4. Most faculty members will use SAKAI for communicating with their students, posting readings and collecting assignments. A variety of important documents, such as calendars, the Tefillah schedule, fieldwork documents, and list of important contact information, are posted on the NY resources site of SAKAI. A google calendar with campus events can also be found on that site as well. In addition, campus programs will be communicated via email announcements and flyers posted in the elevator and on the Conference Level.
Questions

When additional questions or concerns arise, feel free to address them to an appropriate member of the Administration: The Dean, The Director of the Rabbinical Program, The National Registrar or The Chief of Operations.

Students should refer to the National Registrar’s page and the National Student Academic Handbook for all national policies.

Tuition & Fees Policy 2019 – 2020

For all of its students, HUC-JIR strives to ensure that financial concerns are neither an obstacle to enrolling nor a challenge to successful academic progress. To this end, the College-Institute offers significant financial assistance in the form of institutional scholarships and access to federal loans. HUC-JIR also recognizes that unforeseeable financial hardships occasionally arise for students and may require payment deferrals or other extraordinary assistance. We encourage all students to contact the financial aid office for further information and assistance. The Board of Governors of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion reserves the right to revise this policy statement and the attached tuition and fees schedule at any time.

Full-time: Students enrolled for 9 credit hours or more each semester (or its equivalent) are considered to be full-time students and their fees are assessed according to the full-time fee schedule. Rabbinical and cantorial students are considered full-time students during their 5th year; continuation fees and thesis/final project fees will be charged in subsequent years if course work is complete.

Part-time: Students enrolled for fewer than 9 credit hours each semester (or its equivalent) are considered to be part-time students and their fees are assessed according to the part-time fee schedule.

Auditors (non-credit): All auditors including HUC-JIR alumni, community clergy and professionals must pay a fee per credit hour according to the part-time fee schedule.

Withdrawal/Tuition Refund Policy

Withdrawal: Withdrawal from individual courses or a complete withdrawal from all courses must be initiated by the student in writing through the National Registrar’s Office. Actions which are not considered as official notification of withdrawal are: failure to attend class, giving notice to an instructor, stopping payment on a check used to pay fees or verbal notice to any College-Institute office. The effective date of a withdrawal to be used in determining refunds is the date that the National Registrar receives written notification of withdrawal from the student.

Refund: All tuition and fees are refunded in accordance with the schedule below.

Items not subject to refund include application fees, registration fees, Ulpan fees, student activity fees, continuation fees, student health fees, graduation/ordination fees and any other charges. Students will not receive any payments or refunds until all Title IV funds and other scholarships, as required, are reimbursed and any outstanding balances with the College-Institute are paid.
Tuition, Fees and other Charges (from prior semesters)

Each semester's tuition, fees and other charges must be paid in full by the assigned payment due date given for each semester. Semester payment due dates are displayed at http://huc.edu/admissions/student-billing, and in Sakai. Also, each semester must be paid in full in order to register for classes. A late fee of $150 plus interest will be charged at a rate of 1% on past due student accounts not paid in full by the assigned payment due dates. Diplomas and academic transcripts will be issued only for those students who have: (1) paid all outstanding obligations to the College-Institute (tuition, fees, loans or other charges) or – in extraordinary circumstances - made formal recurring payment arrangements with HUC-JIR’s Business Office, including signing a promissory note and (2) returned all outstanding library materials.

Annual Full-Time Tuition Defined

An academic year is defined as Summer, Fall and Spring semesters.

The College-Institute’s full-time tuition is for the entire academic year.

Financial Assistance

In all of its full-time professional programs the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) offers generous financial assistance in the form of grants and federal loans to students with demonstrated financial need as determined by the National Financial Aid Office.

Institutional Need-Based Tuition Grants are scholarships that do not require repayment and are provided directly to the student from HUC-JIR’s own resources. All grants and scholarships are based on the student’s assessed financial need. In addition, Federal Stafford Loans will also be awarded to students based on the same materials received in the financial aid office by the annual deadline.

To be eligible for consideration for an HUC-JIR tuition grant, a student must demonstrate more than $5,000 in financial need based on the information in the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the College Scholarship Service (CSS) Profile Form. The National Director of Financial Aid may be reached at (212) 824-2206.

Payment of Fees

All students will be billed directly for tuition and fees by the National Business Office each semester. The bills will be mailed shortly after the Add/Drop period ends. If a student receives scholarship or Direct Loans, all outstanding tuition and fees will be deducted from the scholarships and loans. (Note: Health insurance will only be deducted when there is written authorization from the student to apply the Title IV Funds and the form is signed and returned to the National Business Office before loans are disbursed.) If there is a balance due, payment is due upon receipt of the invoice.
If needed, payment arrangements can be made which allow the balance due to be spread out over the semester in equal automatic monthly payments. Students need to contact Student Billing (513-487-3213) to set up payment plans. If the Business Office does not receive payment or set a payment plan in a timely manner, a Business Office Hold will be placed on the student account. Such a hold will prevent the student from registering, receiving transcripts or accessing financial aid. In addition, 1% interest will be charged on the outstanding balance and a $150 charge to remove the Business Office Hold.

Billing Statement Payment and Cancellation of Enrollment

All student billing statements are assigned a due date. Payment is due upon receipt of the student account statement. As noted above, a Business Hold, a late fee of $150, along with interest at a rate of 1%, will be charged to past due student accounts. Students who have an unpaid balance payable to HUC-JIR may be blocked via a National Business Office “hold” from enrolling for a future semester or may have their course registration cancelled.

Tuition, fees and other charges billed to a student’s account during an active semester must be paid in full by the due date on the student’s statement in order to register for future coursework. Also, diplomas and academic transcripts will be issued only for those students who have: (1) paid all outstanding obligations to the College-Institute (tuition, fees, loans, library fees or other charges) or, in extraordinary circumstances, made formal recurring payment arrangements with HUC-JIR’s Business Office, including signing a promissory note and (2) returned all outstanding library materials.

Blocked Registration and Re-enrollment

As stated above, all student billing statements are assigned a due date, and if student accounts are not paid in their entirety by the date assigned, the student’s enrollment for that future semester may be administratively cancelled. A registration block will prevent re-enrollment. The registration block will be removed only when the entire balance has been paid in full.

Once the registration block is removed, following full payment, then the student must attempt re-enrollment into the previously enrolled classes or enrollment into other open classes using either online or in-person registration. The student’s administratively cancelled class enrollments will not be reinstated automatically. Re-enrollment into classes following administrative cancellation is solely the student’s responsibility and will be on a first-come/first-served basis.

Be advised that every effort (letters, e-mails, etc.) will be made to notify students when they are at risk for enrollment cancellation for non-payment. Each student, however, is responsible both for monitoring his/her student account via the Student Information System (SIS) on a regular basis and for ensuring all charges are paid by the due date. The student solely is responsible for the administrative enrollment cancellation and/or late payment fee consequences arising from non-payment and/or late payment.
Health Insurance

Health insurance is billed to student accounts on a monthly basis. At the time of enrollment students are asked to set up a monthly charge to a credit card or an automatic debit from a checking or savings account, to ensure for smooth and reliable processing of these charges. Insurance premiums cannot be covered by Direct Loans unless a Title IV Authorization form is signed.

Library Fees

It is the policy of the Klau Library that lost books must be replaced before a student is cleared for graduation/ordination. The student has the option of purchasing a copy of the lost book for the Library (same edition, good condition), or paying a cost replacement fee that reflects the actual cost of locating, purchasing and replacing the lost item (cost plus 25%).

Financial Aid Statement & Policies

In all of its full-time professional programs the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) offers generous financial assistance in the form of grants and federal loans to students with demonstrated financial need as determined by the National Financial Aid Office.

The National Director of Financial Aid may be reached at (212) 824-2206.

Financial Aid Statement

The function of the financial aid office of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) is to provide adequate financial assistance to eligible students. This goal is to be accomplished through the coordination of governmental, community, and HUC-JIR resources within the framework of federal and College-Institute regulations and policies.

This manual is a resource to assist the financial aid office in meeting this stated goal. The manual is also available online on our website for students and prospective students. If a given issue is not addressed in the financial aid manual, the financial aid officers will be expected to use professional judgment, based upon the established policy for the administration of all financial aid programs as outlined in this manual.
Award Philosophy

The College-Institute maintains a significant program of financial aid for students who can demonstrate need and merit. As a general rule, students are expected to utilize all available personal resources before turning to HUC-JIR for assistance. Our institution remains committed to the principle that all admitted, qualified students will be able to matriculate regardless of their ability to pay tuition and fees, where institutional financial resources make this possible.

Program Descriptions

Federal Direct Loans

The College-Institute participates in the Direct Loan Program. Within that program our school offers two types of federal loans: The Federal Unsubsidized Stafford, and the Graduate PLUS Loan. The HUC-JIR financial aid office are compelled by law to determine federal loan eligibility on the basis of a government-approved evaluation service. The Higher Education Reauthorization Act requires the College-Institute to use the Federal Free Application for Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine federal loan eligibility.

To be eligible for financial aid a student must first complete the FAFSA online. www.fafsa.ed.gov. This serves as an application to both our need-based scholarship and loan programs.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan

An unsubsidized loan accrues interest while the student is in school. This loan is not based on financial need and is available to all eligible students who wish to take it, as long as their aid has not surpassed the Cost of Attendance (COA) or their loan amounts have not reached the aggregate limit. Repayment of the principal amount does not begin until six months after the borrower separates from HUC-JIR (by withdrawing, graduating or enrolling below half-time status).

The borrower is responsible for the interest beginning on the date of disbursement. There are no penalties for paying off loans earlier than the payment schedule.

Graduate PLUS Loan

The Graduate PLUS Loan is available to eligible students who wish to take out additional funds for the academic year beyond the Stafford loan. Students’ eligibility is determined by subtracting their current estimated financial assistance of loans and scholarships from the standard COA for their program. This loan has an 7.6% interest rate and requires a credit check. The Graduate PLUS Loan can be taken out in one or two installments and has a six-month grace period after you separate from the College-Institute (by withdrawing, graduating or enrolling under half-time.)
Eligibility

Matriculated students attending at least half-time, who are not in default and who do not owe a refund in any federally funded program are eligible to apply for Stafford Loans.

Students need to be in good standing with current financial aid loans and not in default, may not have a drug conviction or felony on their record, and male students need to be registered for selective service. In addition, students must be legal US citizens or have a green card.

Minimum and Maximum Awards

All United States citizens and legal permanent residents are currently eligible to receive as much as $20,500 per year in Unsubsidized Stafford Loan monies. Students will be eligible for this amount unless they have reached the aggregate limit (see below.)

The aggregate amount of Subsidized Stafford Loans obtainable is $23,000 for undergraduate students and $42,500 for graduate and professional students. The total maximum is therefore $65,500. The additional aggregate for Unsubsidized Loans is $46,000 for undergraduate students and $92,500 for graduate and professional. The total maximum is $138,500. Some lenders may indicate a loan minimum (usually $500) or a lower loan maximum.

Private - Alternative Loans

In addition to the Federal Stafford Loans there are also private student alternative loans students can take out directly with lenders. Most of these loans are based on a student’s credit rating and usually have higher interest rates. There are also private student loans for Canadian students as well as international students that certain lenders offer.

Fees

Loan origination fees can vary from 0% to 3% of the principal amount of the loan, depending on your lender. The fee is collected in advance of each loan disbursement by the lending institution.

Interest Rate and Grace Periods

For new borrowers (those with no loans outstanding), the annual interest rate on both Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford Loans varies with the 91-day T-bill. Rates in effect after 7/1/2018 is 6.6% during school as well as while in repayment. The current cap rate is 8.25%. If you have any unpaid balances on previous loans, your rate will remain the same as your initial loan. There are no penalties for paying off student loans early.
Deferment

Student borrowers can postpone repayment of loans while enrolled at least half time at the College-Institute. Upon separation from the institution (by withdrawal, graduation or enrolling under half-time), a student will have a six-month grace period for all current financial aid loans taken out during the student's residency at the College-Institute.

Previous loans from other colleges will immediately go into repayment.

Student borrowers can postpone repayment of loans while enrolled at least half time at the day you separate from the College-Institute. Questions regarding loan deferment and special conditions should be addressed to the Director of Financial Aid.

Leave of Absence

Students who request a leave of absence from the college will be granted up to 180 days leave. After that amount of time if a student fails to come back to the college they will be automatically withdrawn from the program and loans that are currently on a deferment status will be updated to withdrawn.

Students returning from a leave of absence and have not made up work from the previous semester will not be permitted to take out more Stafford Loans until the student has completed the previous semester’s workload or has completed a semester of a course load of at least half time.

For students on a leave of absence, the COA will be adjusted to reflect the student’s COA minus the months or days the student is on leave.

HUC-JIR Financial Aid Scholarships

Year-In-Israel Students

Students eligible for financial aid may receive a scholarship to cover up to full tuition and fees for the Year-In-Israel Program. (Students required to attend the Summer Ulpan will receive an additional Ulpan tuition scholarship.

Stateside Students

Institutional Need-Based HUC-JIR scholarships do not need to be repaid. They are provided directly to the student from the College-Institute’s own financial resources, often supported by generous alumni and donors who establish named scholarships. To be eligible for an HUC-JIR tuition grant, a student must demonstrate at least $5,000 in financial need based on the information in the FAFSA. Approximately 90% of students who apply receive need-based tuition scholarships.

Discretionary Scholarship Fund Policy

Students who have extraordinary financial need may apply for additional HUC-JIR scholarship funds through the Financial aid office. To apply for additional aid, students must submit a letter to the Director of Financial Aid addressed to the “Scholarship Committee”, outlining reasons for requesting extra scholarship funds. Additionally, students will need to submit documentation (i.e. tax return) to support their appeal. Each student’s case will be reviewed by a scholarship committee and those confirmed as having significant need may be awarded more scholarship if funds are available.

Outside Scholarship Policy

Students receiving full tuition scholarships from external sources that process their awards through HUC-JIR are not eligible to receive additional need-based HUC-JIR scholarship aid.

Half-Time/Full-Time Equivalency

Graduate students may be eligible for a half-time or full-time equivalency, based upon the determination of their academic department, even if they are not enrolled for actual credits. Hebrew Union College defines full-time coursework as a minimum of nine credits and half-time coursework as a minimum of six credits. Full-time equivalency students are expected to spend no less than 113 hours per semester/term and half-time equivalency students are expected to complete a minimum of 75 hours per semester/term in a combination of coursework and/or the appropriate activity or activities listed below:

Students enrolled in capstone or thesis course

Students in fieldwork, internship, clinical practice, practicum course and/or, Students participating in supervised research (capstone, thesis or research assistant), Candidacy and Dissertation.
International Students

International students may apply for HUC-JIR need-based or merit-based scholarships by completing the CSS/Financial Aid PROFILE® (PROFILE). Students who are needy may receive up to a 100% tuition scholarship.

International students with F-1 visas are ineligible for any federal or state financial aid programs. As stated on the INS (Immigration and Naturalization Service) I-20 student visa form, international students are expected to provide for their educational and living expenses from personal and family resources.

Award Eligibility

Financial aid is distributed on the basis of need or merit; all full-time or half-time students are welcome to apply.

Citizens of the United States of America

HUC-JIR's total financial aid program is available to students who can demonstrate need and merit are United States citizens or legal permanent residents. All students are welcome to apply.

The Application Procedure

All students seeking need-based financial aid must complete the FAFSA and submit it online at: www.fafsa.ed.gov. HUC-JIR's school code is G04054.

Deadlines

The HUC-JIR financial aid deadline is March 6, 2020 for returning students and February 15, 2020 for new incoming MARE/MAJE, DFSSM and RAB students. Other departments have different deadlines. If you wish to be considered for HUC-JIR scholarships and financial aid loans, you MUST complete your FAFSA, and submit additional requested information to the financial aid office. After that date, loans can still be processed on a rolling basis. However, missing this deadline will seriously impair the College-Institute's ability to continue need-based scholarship support.

Additional Items

A copy of a student’s driver’s license or passport must be submitted to the Financial Aid Office if a student is applying for federal financial aid loans.

Forms submitted without appropriate signatures or missing data will be returned to the applicant. A student’s file shall not be regarded as complete and ready for consideration until all requested documents have been submitted.
It is important to complete the application accurately for student financial aid. Errors can result in long delays in both processing applications and receipt of financial aid.

Intentional misreporting of information on application forms for federal financial aid is a violation of law and is considered a criminal offense subject to penalties under the U.S. Criminal Code.

Budgets

Budget guidelines are determined by the financial aid director and are based upon budget surveys, cost of living indexes and other data to determine appropriate annual budget amounts for each program. These student budgets—relating to campuses and programs—shall be used to determine financial aid for each applicant.

A nine-month budget will be used for all students attending fall and spring semesters. If the student attends only one semester, the budget is divided by two.

A twelve-month budget will be used for all students attending fall, spring and summer. If the student attends only one semester, this budget figure is divided by three. Half-time students will use a nine-month budget.

Note: A half-time student's educational expenses may be less, and these expenses are usually offset by an increased employment contribution compared to what would be expected from a less-than-full-time student.

Budgets will have the following components:

Tuition for most campuses and programs is $26,000 for the 2019-20 academic year and is subject to change annually.

Students enrolled in double master's programs at the Zelikow School of Jewish Nonprofit Management are subject to additional tuition for the "second institutions."

Additional fees for other programs are noted in the individual program prospectuses.

Note: Please see the financial aid web page for the COA for each campus and program.

Expected Family Contribution

The College-Institute is guided by the FAFSA analysis in determining financial need for all financial aid applicants. The FAFSA analysis is calculated according to federal standards. It provides financial aid officers with a dollar amount called the Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The EFC is the amount of money, which the student (and/or the student's parent[s]) will be expected to contribute toward the total cost of the student's education. The EFC is recalculated each time the student submits a FAFSA application.
Professional Judgment

As currently directed through congressional legislation and as historically dictated, financial aid officers are empowered to use their professional judgment as the final authority in determining a student's financial aid eligibility. The financial aid officer must use independent professional discretion in recommending variations from established policies and procedures, when, in his/her best judgment, the circumstances warrant such action.

A test of reasonableness, fairness, and legality, backed by the appropriate documentation, should be applied in all exceptional cases without compromising the financial aid officer's or the student's integrity and principles. Concern for the needs and rights of the student coupled with responsibility for institutional and governmental funds must be paramount at all times.

Misrepresentation

If the Financial Aid Office becomes aware that a student and/or student's parents or spouse has intentionally misrepresented facts relevant to the student's financial aid application, and this has resulted or could result in the awarding or disbursement of funds for which the student is not eligible, the financial aid officer must:

- Conduct a meeting with the student in order to determine whether or not there was intention to misrepresent the facts;
- Notify the student at the end of the meeting if the case is to be forwarded to the appropriate Dean for possible disciplinary action. Misrepresentation can result in the following:
  - The repayment of all wrongly disbursed funds, and/or
  - A decision not to process the financial aid application or to award financial aid.
- Any such actions would apply to the current and possibly the following year.

Return of Title IV Funds

HUC-JIR students who do not complete a semester for which they were registered, billed, and have received Federal Title IV aid, the following will occur:

- The student will be directed by the Office of the National Registrar to make an appointment with the Director of Financial Aid to discuss the financial implication of their withdrawal from classes.
- The student must work with the National Registrar to document his/her last date of attendance.
Once a date is established, the Financial Aid Office will perform the required Federal Refund calculation to determine how much of the federal student loan was earned and how much, if any, would have to be returned to Title IV aid programs. Once this is determined, the student would be notified of the result by the Director Financial Aid. The National Business Office would then be in touch with the student, if after this procedure it was determined that the student owed the College-Institute any money not paid by their student loan or returned to their lender.

For students who leave the College-Institute and are no longer in communication or are unreachable, if the last date of attendance cannot be determined for the student, then the midpoint of the semester will be used as the last day of attendance to calculate return of funds.

The Financial Aid Office will conduct a Return of Funds Calculation for students who withdraw (officially or unofficially) from the college during the academic year. Steps to ensure this process are as follows:

Students must complete an official withdrawal form and submit it to the National Registrar's Office - without submitting this form, no withdrawal will be registered, and students will remain liable for tuition and other ongoing fees. The withdrawal form must be completed no later than 10 days after the student has informed the institution of intent to withdraw.

A Notice of Withdrawal will be given to the financial aid office from the National Registrar’s Office with the date that the student has withdrawn from the college.

The Financial Aid Office will follow these steps when a student who had taken out financial aid loans withdraws during the semester of an academic year.

Funds Calculation Worksheet will be filled out and reviewed by the Financial Aid Office and the Business Office. If a refund is owed, the Financial Aid Office will return funds for the student to COD and the Student Billing Office will return funds to G5.

An exit interview is sent to the student via email link and if there is no response within 30 days a hard copy is sent to the student.

If a student left in the first semester or mid-year, future loan disbursements will be cancelled.

If a student withdraws during the first year in Jerusalem or the subsequent second year, repayment procedures for tuition grants will also be established.

For students on a leave of absence, the Cost of Attendance (COA) will be adjusted to reflect the student's COA minus the months or days the student is on leave.

Overaward

The awarding of financial aid in excess of demonstrated need constitutes an overaward. At the time of awarding, a student's financial aid "package" must be equal to or less than the student's need.
The sequence of procedures in the event of overaward and overpayment is as follows:

If over-awarded the following steps may be taken student loan funds will be reduced for the second semester if the overaward is noticed before the second semester disbursement.

If the overaward happens after the second disbursement, funds must be collected from the student. The school will follow federal policy for returning the funds back to the lender.

A Financial Aid Officer has the right to exercise professional judgment if there is a valid reason for lowering an EFC and eliminating the overaward.

Disbursement

Loan Counseling / Entrance Interviews

All students borrowing from the Stafford Loan Program for the first time at HUC-JIR must complete an entrance interview before funds will be disbursed for the student. Entrance Interviews are to be completed online by going to this website and choosing your campus location: http://mappingyourfuture.org/sg

Exit Interviews

All students who have received financial aid are required to complete an exit interview before graduation or upon withdraws from the College. Exit Interviews are completed online as well by going to this website: http://mappingyourfuture.org/spx

Master Promissory Note

A Master Promissory Note (MPN) has to be current and signed by the student with Direct Loans (information on the “How to Apply” part of the financial aid website.) An MPN is serial and can thus be used every year during the student's residency at the College. By signing an MPN, a student is promising to repay all student loans made under this note. Students may revoke their MPN at any time, however, loans previously disbursed remain an obligation they must repay. An MPN expires ten years after the note is signed. If a disbursement is not made within one year of signing, the promissory note is automatically revoked. Grad Plus loan MPNS have to be renewed every year.

Disbursing Loan Refunds in Students’ Accounts

All loan and grant checks are disbursed by the HUC-JIR Business Office. If a student has not submitted all required documentation, a "hold" will be placed on the student's financial aid disbursements. Checks or deposits made into a student's checking account will not be disbursed if a student's HUC-JIR financial aid records have been encumbered for any reason.
Notification of disbursements are sent from the Business Office notifying the student of what kind of loan, amount and date of deposit into a student's College-Institute accounts, as well as their personal bank accounts. This notification will inform the student that they have the right to cancel or reduce their disbursement amounts, and the time frame in which they should alert the school if they choose to do so. Stafford Student Loans are disbursed twice each year for two semester programs and three times a year for students enrolled in fall-spring-summer programs. For late applications student loans will be disbursed on a rolling basis.

If a student owes tuition, fees or has other financial obligations to the College-Institute, the amount due the school will be deducted from the Stafford loan refund.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Federal Definition

Federal guidelines mandate that all institutions offering Title IV funds have a Standard of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). The following information defines HUC-JIR's minimum standards for SAP to maintain eligibility for all types of financial aid, including Federal (Title IV), State and institutional (HUC-JIR) funding.

Programs administered by agencies other than HUC-JIR, such as private scholarships, may have their own academic standards for students. Students will need to contact such agencies to determine their requirements.

Federal regulations require HUC-JIR to establish SAP standards in the following areas:

- Cumulative GPA
- Cumulative Hours
- Maximum Time Frame

The school's SAP policy must include the student's total academic history.

These general principles apply to all HUC-JIR degree programs. In addition to the general principles, students must meet specific guidelines for their individual academic program(s). Program specific requirements are detailed in specific program handbooks.

SAP will be determined every payment period (semester.)

To earn hours at HUC-JIR, a student must receive a grade of A, B, C, Pass or Low Pass. Any other grade does not earn hours, but will count as hours attempted, but not as hours earned.

Classes from which a student has withdrawn, will be counted as hours attempted but not hours earned, and will thus have a negative impact on a student's ability to satisfy SAP requirements.
Classes in which a student receives a grade of Incomplete (I) count as hours attempted but not as hours earned. Therefore, these will have a negative impact on a student's ability to satisfy SAP requirements.

When a student repeats a course, the total attempted hours will increase with each repeat, but the student will only earn hours for a completed course once. Therefore, repeating courses will have a negative impact on a student's ability to satisfy SAP requirements. When a student repeats a course the higher grade will be counted towards the student’s cumulative GPA.

Attempted hours include all coursework attempted, including transfer credits, passed, repeated, incomplete, failed and withdrawn courses. Attempted hours do not include courses that have been waived, or where advanced standing has been granted.

Transfer students will be evaluated at the time of enrollment using the same SAP standards.

Students who change programs or seek to earn additional degrees are evaluated at the beginning of the semester of the new program or additional degree.

HUC-JIR Students

Cumulative GPA for students in programs where a GPA is calculated, or those students who have chosen to receive letter grades, a student must maintain a 2.5 cumulative GPA or better to satisfy SAP requirements.

For students enrolled in programs that offer Pass/Low Pass/No Pass grading, students must pass at least 70% of the credits they have attempted to satisfy SAP requirements.

Cumulative Hours

Earned In the first-year students must pass (earn) 50% of their credits attempted in that academic year. Starting in the second-year students must pass (earn) at least 70% of the credits that have attempted to satisfy Sap requirements.

Maximum Time Frame

HUC-JIR students will be eligible for financial aid for a maximum time frame of 150% of the published number of required credits. Thus, if a program is anticipated to require 100 credits for completion, then a student would become ineligible for financial aid as of the completion of the 150th credit. Eligibility for financial aid ends at this time regardless of whether that student has received financial aid or not during the period of study.

Good Standing

Good standing by semester will be evaluated by the National Registrar and will report to the Financial Aid Office every pay period who is not in good standing as well as who is on academic probation, suspension or dismissal with the program. Good standing is defined in the National Student Academic Handbook.

A student in good academic standing:

● is not on probation

● is making acceptable progress toward his/her degree or certificate

● has earned grades at the “Pass” or “B” level or higher

● has no more than one LP or C in a semester

If a student receives two or more “LPs” or “C’s” and/or fails one or more courses in a semester, the Program Director shall meet with the student to provide counseling and guidance. The Program Director may place the student on probation and may convene a Student Tenure Committee.

If he/she receives another “LP,” “C” or “F” during a period of probation, he/she will be asked to appear before a Student Tenure Committee.

If the student fails two (2) courses at any time within two consecutive semesters, he/she will meet with the Student Tenure Committee.

If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will automatically be suspended. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

Failure to Meet Satisfactory Academic Progress Requirements

Students who do fail to meet the satisfactory academic progress standards will be placed on Financial Aid Warning (FAW) for a period of up to one payment period (semester.) During the FAW, a student remains eligible to receive financial aid. Students who do meet SAP requirements during the end of the warning period will be returned to normal status and will continue to be eligible for financial aid awards and loans. Students who do not meet SAP requirements at the end of the payment period will be placed on Financial Aid Suspension (FAS.)

Students returning to HUC-JIR while they are on FAS must meet the requirements of HUC-JIR's SAP policy in order to regain eligibility for financial aid.
Appeals

Students on FAS may make a written appeal to the Director of Financial Aid. Financial aid may be reinstated by the Director upon demonstration of mitigating circumstances which must be documented to the satisfaction of the Director along with a written letter of appeal from the student. Examples of mitigating circumstances and appropriate documentation include, but are not necessarily limited to:

- Serious illness of student, documented by a signed statement from a physician that the illness interfered with the student’s ability to meet SAP requirements, along with a written letter of appeal from the student.

- Serious illness of an immediate family member documented by a signed statement from a physician along with a letter of appeal from the student.

- Death of an immediate/close family member, documented by assigned statement from a clergy person, nearest relative or an unbiased, concerned adult, along with a written letter of appeal from the student; or

- Disruptive internal family problems, documented by legal/court documentation from an attorney, statement from parents, clergy person or an unbiased concerned adult, along with a written letter of appeal from the student.

Students on FAS who have submitted an appeal and are approved will then be put on Financial Aid Probation (FAP) for one payment period. If SAP is restored at the end of the payment period financial aid eligibility will continue. If students on FAP who do not successfully make SAP at the end of the pay period can submit an academic plan with their academic advisor with a time frame of when the student will successfully make SAP and an action plan to restoring SAP. If a student has an active academic plan in place a student will be eligible for financial aid while following their academic plan.

Refunds and Repayment

All tuition and fees are refunded on a pro rata basis, using the number of remaining months divided by either the 9-month or 12-month term. Please see our Tuition and Fees Policy for further information.

Financial Aid File Maintenance

To ensure that all required documents have been received and to aid internal and external audits, all files will be maintained as follows:

- Documents Required in Each Financial Aid File:
  - Student Aid Report - Analysis generated from the FAFSA
  - Award letter
Driver's License or Passport photo ID

Miscellaneous communications from students

Paperwork that is serial and used every year will be brought forward to the current year file.

Maintenance of Records

To comply with federal requirements, the financial aid officer will maintain a master record for each student receiving financial aid.

All financial aid folders will be maintained for three years after submission of the student's last financial aid application. Records involved in any claim or expenditure questioned by federal audit will be retained until that question is resolved. After the three-year retention period has elapsed and all open issues resolved, the financial aid materials will be destroyed.

Confidentiality

As specified by law in The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 ("Buckley Amendment"), all information in a student's financial aid file is confidential and may not be released or discussed with anyone except as provided by law.

Adequate records of request must be maintained for information disclosure.

To disclose financial aid information, written consent from the student is required and must:

- Specify records to be released
- State the purpose of the disclosure
- Identify the party(ies) to whom disclosure may be made
- Be signed and dated by the student.

Information must be disclosed without written consent of the student to:

- Students who request information from their own records
- Authorized representatives of federal- and state-supported programs for the purpose of audit and evaluation.
- The College's duly appointed auditors, for the sake of audit and evaluation.

Information may be disclosed without written consent of the student to:

- Personnel within the institution determined to have legitimate educational interest.
Officials of other institutions in which the student seeks to enroll.

Organizations determining financial decisions concerning eligibility, amount, condition, and enforcement of terms of said aid.

Organizations conducting studies to develop, validate, and administer predictive tests, to administer student aid programs, or to improve instruction.

Accrediting organizations carrying out their accrediting functions.

Parents of a student who have established that student's status as a dependent according to Internal Revenue Code of 1986, Section 152.

Persons in compliance with a judicial order or a lawfully issued subpoena, provided that the institution first makes a reasonable attempt to notify the student.

The Administration of Financial Aid Programs

Responsibility for the administration of financial aid programs is a joint effort of the Financial Aid Director, the National Registrar, the Business Office and the Deans, who act in an advisory capacity. The Board of Governors of the College-Institute reviews and ultimately sets HUC-JIR financial aid policies.

The Financial Aid Office

Determines each student's financial need, eligibility for specific programs, and the amount of aid to be awarded from each program.

Maintains student financial aid records (on paper and electronically, as appropriate) and required reports that relate to those records.

Authorizes the Business Office to disburse specified types and amounts of funds.

Stays informed of government and state policies and implements school policies to stay in compliance with the Department of Higher Education.

Oversees all processes for the student financial aid program.

Awards and processes Institutional Scholarships, federal and private student loans.

Reports to the Department of Education and updates file rosters to the NSLDS in a timely and regular basis. When a roster has been updated it is reported to supervisory personnel in a timely manner.
Monitoring of the Financial Aid Office is conducted by the Chief Financial Officer or Controller for the College-Institute. A sample population of student files of randomly selected students at all campuses is chosen and reviewed twice a year and sample student selections represent every pay period. Monitoring of student billing is managed by the Chief Financial Officer.

The Business Office

Disburses funds.

Maintains permanent, cumulative records of disbursements to students as confirmation of receipt of funds.

Exercises due diligence in the collection of College-Institute loans.

Enforces holds placed on student checks by the Financial Aid Office.

Works closely with the Financial Aid Director to work out problems with individual disbursements.

Notifies students of type of loan funds, amounts and when funds are credited to student’s accounts.

The National Registrar

Is responsible for the maintenance of students' academic credits including semester and cumulative units and the grades received for those units.

Monitors students adds, drops, and withdrawals of units and the exact date on which these events occurred.

Notifies the Financial Aid Office of the date when students add or drop units, withdraw or graduate.

Notifies the Financial Aid Office of students who are not making satisfactory academic progress. (See section on "Satisfactory Academic Progress," above.)

Consumer Information

Recent legislation requires all educational institutions participating in a federal loan program to provide its students with information pertaining to the following items:

- Any special facilities and services available to handicapped students.
- An annual campus security report.
- Completion and graduation rates.
- Drug and alcohol abuse prevention information.
Due to the fact that the content of this information varies from campus to campus, the information listed above is distributed annually, by campus, at the beginning of the academic year.
Academic Policies and Procedures
Policy of Non-Discrimination

The Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion (“HUC-JIR”), as an institution of higher education and as a community of scholars, is committed to the elimination of discrimination and the provision of equal opportunity in education and employment. HUC-JIR does not discriminate on the basis of disability, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, genetic information, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, veteran status or gender identity and expression in its programs and activities.

HUC-JIR does not tolerate discrimination, harassment, or retaliation on these bases and takes steps to ensure that students, employees, professors, administrators, visitors, and other third parties are not subject to a hostile environment in its programs and activities.

HUC-JIR will respond promptly and effectively to allegations of discrimination, harassment, and retaliation. The College-Institute will promptly conduct investigations and take appropriate action, including disciplinary action, against individuals found to have violated its policies, as well as provide appropriate remedies to complainants and the campus community. The College-Institute will take immediate action to end a hostile environment if one has been created, prevent its recurrence, and remedy the effects of any hostile environment on affected members of the campus community. All students found in violation of this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension or dismissal from the College-Institute. Similarly, any employees, professors, or administrators found in violation of this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment. Behavior that violates this policy may also violate federal, state, and/or local laws.

For inquiries regarding discrimination, harassment, or retaliation based on disability, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, genetic information, marital status, age, and veteran status, please contact the EEO Coordinator at: Marviette Johnson, National Director of Human Resources, 3101 Clifton Ave., Cincinnati, OH 45220, (513) 487-3215, mjohnson@huc.edu.

Policy of Student Records

HUC-JIR maintains for a period of not less than five years, at its principal place of business in this state, complete and accurate records of all of the following information:

1. The educational programs offered by the College-Institute and the curriculum for each.

2. The names of the members of the institution’s faculty and records of the educational qualifications of each member of the faculty.

3. Although a student's rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) cease upon death, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion will not release a deceased student's/graduate’s records for a period of 25 years after their date of the death unless required to do so by law or authorized to do so by (1) the executor of the deceased's estate; or (2) the deceased student's/graduate’s spouse, parents or children. The person requesting the deceased student's records will be required to provide documentary proof that the student is in fact deceased and to fully explain the reason for the request. This information must be attached to the Official Transcript Request Form which can be found on the National Registrar’s webpage. All requests should be sent to: National Registrar Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion 3101 Clifton Ave. Cincinnati, OH 45220 Also, there may be other legal and policy implications relating to releasing the records of a deceased student. Please consult the National Registrar.

HUC-JIR follows the records retention policy of AACRAO (American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers), regarding paper records of all of our students five years after graduation/ordination or leaving the school. Transcripts are maintained permanently.
Current Students

Official College-Institute Communication and Email Accounts

HUC-JIR issues each student a College-Institute email address such as jsmith@HUC.EDU. HUC-JIR will use the student’s postal address or the HUC email address for official communications. It is the student’s responsibility to monitor the HUC email account on a regular basis.

New students become eligible for a HUC-JIR student user account upon admittance to HUC-JIR.

For consistency across all college systems, HUC-JIR uses the students legal first and last name for their huc.edu email account (for example: John.Smith@huc.edu). If your legal name changes, please submit a Request for Name Change form and supporting documentation to the National Registrar’s Office. Once the user’s first and/or last names have been changed in HUC-JIR’s databases, please contact helpdesk@huc.edu to submit a request to have your huc.edu email account updated.

Student accounts remain active while the student remains registered for courses with HUC-JIR or is on approved leave of absence through the National Registrar’s Office.

In the case of students who have not attended classes in some time (e.g. they have not graduated; are not registered for courses; have not officially withdrawn; have not gone on approved leave of absence), their accounts will be deactivated and deleted one year after they last attended classes at HUC-JIR.

Academic Schedules and Deadlines

While many programs of the College-Institute follow a traditional semester calendar, several programs follow their own academic schedules, including intensive formats or a cohort-based schedule. These programs include the Doctor of Ministry, School of Jewish Nonprofit Management, Executive Master’s Program in Jewish Education, Certificate in Jewish Education for Adolescents and Emerging Adults, and the DeLeT program.

Please refer to the appropriate Program Director for detailed scheduling information and deadlines for your program.

Attendance

It is expected that all students will attend class regularly, and attendance may be required by the instructor. Class attendance may be a criterion used by an instructor to determine the student’s grade.

Attendance is required at all announced examinations.

Attendance is also taken during the beginning of each semester or term in order to verify enrollment and to determine financial aid eligibility.
Academic programs in the College-Institute may establish attendance policies related to those programs.

Individual faculty members may also establish attendance policies for their courses.

A student absent from class is responsible for all written or oral work due on the day of the absence, knowledge of announcements made on the day of the absence, and knowledge of the substance of material discussed.

If a student is absent from an examination or submits a paper later than the scheduled due date, the student may be subject to a reduced grade or failure for the examination or paper in question. The decision rests with the instructor.

In intensives, NO absences are permitted. If a student is forced by extenuating circumstances to miss more than one day, no credit can be granted.

During the course of the academic year, attendance at some programs may require a student to be absent from classes. It is expected that students will be responsible for assignments and classes that may be missed during their absence. Students should consult with the instructor in advance of the absence. Please note the following guidelines regarding the attendance at external programming, which may interfere with class attendance.

In order to attend an external program, the student must obtain permission from the course instructor. The student should explain the event to be attended and affirm the responsibilities related to his/her absence from any missed class meetings.

In order to attend external programming which will interfere with class attendance a student must be in good academic standing as defined below under Student Academic Standing and Evaluation.

At the discretion of the instructor, a student is allowed to attend one external program that conflicts with class time per semester.

Students are required to complete all course work and any relevant extra-curricular responsibilities in a timely fashion and may have fellow students collect any materials that may have been distributed during the class that was missed.

Advising

Students are assigned an academic advisor to provide guidance throughout their tenure in the program. Academic advisors are members of the faculty or administration who meet with individual students regularly to discuss academic, professional, intellectual, religious/spiritual and personal issues. Among their many responsibilities, academic advisors offer assistance in course selection, guidance through academic difficulties and advice regarding any other matters related to the student’s progress through their academic program.
Program directors may also serve as academic advisors and are always resources for questions about graduation requirements, standing in a program, transfer of outside credits, etc.

Registration

An entering student may register at the beginning of the academic year. A student already enrolled in the College-Institute may pre-register prior to each semester at times designated by the Office of the National Registrar and indicated on the Academic Calendar.

After the end of the second week of the semester a student may not add any courses to his/her program.

Students may audit elective courses by selecting the audit status when registering for courses on the web in the Student Information System (SIS.) Auditors do not receive credit for the course, and an audit may not be changed to a credit registration once registration has closed. A student who fails to attend a course that they are auditing will have an administrative withdrawal/ “W” posted to their academic record.

Students may not receive credit for any course for which they did not formally register at the appropriate time. Students should correct or update their registration information on the SIS when they decide to drop or add a course.

No student may register for more than 18 credits per semester without the permission of his/her advisor or Program Director.

Approval for a departure from normal registration procedures must be obtained from the student’s Program Director in consultation with the National Registrar. Students may be able to move through an academic program at a reduced pace if necessary, in consultation with their Program Director, taking up to a year beyond the normal degree program structure to complete the program. If the student needs more than one year, he/she shall submit a formal request to the student’s Program Director, who shall consult with the Faculty. A student who wishes to move through an academic program at an accelerated pace must obtain the permission of his/her Program Director.

Add/Drop

Using the Student Information System (SIS), students may drop a course before the semester begins and during the semester until registration closes. A student may drop a course until the end of the second week of classes without a notation appearing on the student’s academic record. After the close of registration, students must use an add/drop form. These are available on the National Registrar’s website.
With permission, students may withdraw from a regularly scheduled course up to and including week seven of the semester and receive a grade of “W.” The decision to withdraw from a course will be made in consultation with the Program Director. The Add/Drop form is available on the National Registrar’s website.

Students may withdraw after week seven and receive a grade of “WF,” unless there are extenuating circumstances for which an “F” is not warranted. This will be determined by the Program Director in consultation with the faculty member.

Specific programs in the College-Institute may establish more specific add/drop policies based on their academic and course calendars.

In intensive courses or in the summer session (other than the SJNM), students may not add a course after the first-class meeting. Students may withdraw after the first-class meeting of an intensive course with no notation on the academic record. Withdrawing from an intensive course after the second meeting will result in a “W.”

In the SJNM Summer Session, students may not add a course after the first week of classes. Students may withdraw from a course until the end of the first week with no notation on the academic record. Withdrawing from a course after the beginning of the second week will result in a “W.”

If a student does not officially withdraw from a course by the stated deadlines, he or she may receive a grade or an “F,” for the course and that grade will appear on the transcript.

Students Enrolling in Courses Taught by Relatives

College-Institute faculty are strongly advised to dissuade family members from enrolling in their courses when other options are available – for example, a different section of the same course taught by a colleague or taught by a different faculty member in another semester or taught by a faculty member on another campus.

This policy also applies to cases where a family member would be the student’s academic advisor or field work supervisor. Other arrangement should be made in these cases.

However, when specialized courses are taught by a relative and the relative is the sole specialist in that area at HUC-JIR, taking a course with a relative may be the only reasonable option for a student to pursue his/her academic program. In this case, it is incumbent upon the faculty member to avoid not only favoritism but also the appearance of favoritism. These circumstances are rare but can be problematic; therefore, faculty members must inform their campus Dean when a relative enrolls in one of their courses. In turn, campus Deans must alert the Provost. If the instructor is the campus Dean, s/he should inform the Provost.
Policy and Process

College-Institute students are not permitted to take courses taught by a faculty member who is their close relative by blood or marriage without the permission of the Provost. A student is also advised to avoid registering for a course taught by a faculty member with whom s/he has a close personal relationship.

The student may be granted the Provost’s permission only if:

- It is clearly demonstrable that there is no other course selection that will meet the student’s academic needs.

The campus Dean submits an alternative plan for evaluating the student’s work. One such example would be to have another faculty member serve as a second reader for exams and papers submitted by the student. If the student’s academic program requires the course, the student and the faculty member must consult with the campus Dean to prepare the plan. The campus Dean will submit this plan to the Provost for consideration and approval.

Program Directors will caution students regarding the policy and report any concerns to the campus Dean. If a situation involving nepotism is discovered and the Provost’s approval has not been obtained in advance of the beginning of the course, the Provost may direct that the student be withdrawn from the course. If the discovery is made after the conclusion of the semester, the student will be brought before a student tenure committee. If the student is deemed to have knowingly violated the policy, the Committee may determine that no credit will be awarded for the course. The faculty member involved will be referred to the campus Dean for resolution of the matter.

In no case does the College-Institute allow a parent/relative faculty member to undertake an independent study with his/her child, spouse, or other close relative.

“Relatives” are defined as spouses/partners, parents, siblings and their spouses, children, stepparents, stepchildren, domestic partners, grandparents, grandchildren, aunts, uncles, first cousins, nephews, nieces and their spouses, and in-laws, plus roommates and other persons with whom the student may have economic and emotional tie.

Leave of Absence

Students desiring a leave-of-absence for medical or personal reasons, to serve as an intern, or to pursue studies at other institutions of higher education, must apply in writing to the student’s Program Director. The form is available from the National Registrar’s website. Program Directors may grant such leaves for a specific term up to one year, and it is the responsibility of the student to observe the terms and remain within the limits set. Failure to do so may result in automatic dismissal.
Students must inform their Program Director of their intention to return to the program no less than two months before resuming their studies.

Students pursuing studies at other accredited institutions during a leave of absence may, upon prior approval of the student’s Program Director, receive transfer credit. However, in no case may the total transfer credits earned during a leave of absence or from prior transfer credit total more than 25% of the credits in a student’s academic program. The Program Director’s approval for these courses must be given prior to the student’s departure for the leave of absence. Approval for courses taken during a leave of absence will not be given retroactively.

After a leave-of-absence, students must petition the appropriate Program Director in writing to return to full-time resident student status. The Program Director will notify a student before the leave-of-absence if there are specific conditions to be met before the student may return to full-time studies. The Program Director may ask the student for supporting documentation as part of the petition.

A student who has been dismissed or asked to withdraw is not eligible for a leave-of-absence for the following year.

A student on a leave-of-absence may be required to begin repayment of financial aid. For specific information, please contact the National Financial Aid Office.

A leave-of-absence may be granted for a semester or a year. If a student on a one semester leave-of-absence wishes to extend his/her leave, he/she must request permission from his/her Program Director for a one semester extension. If, after a one-year leave of absence, a student does not return to the College-Institute, he/she must apply for re-admission.

Withdrawing from an Academic Program

A student desiring to withdraw from his/her academic studies at HUC-JIR must complete the Notice of Withdrawal form available on the National Registrar’s webpage. This form must be signed by the student and the Program Director and submitted to the National Registrar’s Office.

If a student withdraws from his/her program and then wishes to resume his/her studies, he/she must apply for readmission through the National Admissions Office and meet the readmission requirements in effect at that time. If a student is readmitted more than one year after withdrawing, he/she must adhere to the academic requirements in effect at the time of readmission.

Catalog and Curriculum Eligibility

A student who withdraws from the College-Institute for a year or longer loses the right to graduate under the catalog and curriculum in effect during his/her last date of attendance. The student may be required, at the discretion of his/her Program Director, to meet the academic requirements in effect upon his/her return to HUC-JIR. This policy does not apply to a student who was away from the College-Institute on an approved leave-of-absence.
Change or Addition of Academic Program

A student who wishes to change academic programs or add an academic program must contact the National Admissions Office in order to initiate the process of admission to the new or additional program. Additionally, the student should also inform the Program Director of the new program and the Program Director of the former or ongoing academic program.

Current students must be in good academic standing in order to matriculate into another academic program.

Credit Hours

In accordance with accreditation standards and Federal guidelines, 1 semester hour generally equals 15 contact hours plus 30 preparation hours. A 3-semester hour course would include 45 hours of contact plus 90 hours of preparation.

Clinical or Fieldwork Courses

Three to four hours of clinical activity or internship per week equal a single contact hour. Thus, one credit-hour requires 45-60 hours of practice or internship.

Grades

At the conclusion of each semester, faculty will use the Student Information System (SIS) to submit grades to the Office of the National Registrar in the form of letter grades (A, B, C or F) or Pass/Fail.

With the exception of the School of Graduate Studies, during registration, students may elect to be graded under either the letter grade scale or on a Pass/Fail basis.

Grades are available to students by logging into the Student Information System (SIS).

The instructor shall specify in the course syllabus those aspects of the course that will be monitored for grading, such as examinations, papers, class participation and attendance. The instructor shall also specify in the syllabus the relative weight given each aspect to be monitored for grading.

The default grading system for students will be Pass/Fail. Students will indicate their choice of grading systems at the beginning of their academic program and may change from one grading system to the other annually, prior to the first day of classes of the Summer or Fall semester.

The change must be submitted to the Office of the National Registrar in writing or via the student’s HUC email account.
The request must be submitted before the first day of classes for the Fall semester.

Requests cannot be honored to retroactively change a student’s grading scale and grades for prior semesters.

Grade point averages will be calculated in the SIS and on transcripts for all students with any letter grades.

Transcripts will carry a legend that explains the College-Institute grading systems and explains that the Pass is valued at a “B” or higher, and that a Low Pass is valued as a “C.”

As new courses are developed, the faculty member will be asked whether the course is to be graded on a letter grade basis only, pass/fail only or either. This decision overrides the student’s grading preference.

Program faculty may designate courses as pass/fail only, letter grade only or either. This decision overrides the student’s grading preference. Where a course exists on more than one campus, the grading system should be the same.

Submission of Grades and Evaluations

Faculty are expected to submit grades into the Student Information System (SIS) for all students within two weeks after the end of final examinations.

Suggested Grade Scale

The grading scale used in a class to arrive at the final grade, whether letter grade or pass/fail, is determined by the individual faculty member. Below is a suggested scale for those faculty members who calculate a class average for a student based on the points achieved for exams, papers, and other assignments. This chart is provided for guidance and is not required for faculty use in grading.

Change of Grade

1. Faculty may submit Change of Grade forms to the Office of the National Registrar. When the grade change has been processed, the student’s Program Director will be notified by the National Registrar’s staff.

Incompletes

If for reason of illness or other comparable extenuating circumstances a student cannot complete his/her work on time, the instructor may enter a grade of Incomplete (“I”) into the Student Information System (SIS.)

A form indicating date for completion and reasons for the Incomplete shall be signed and submitted by the faculty member to the Office of the National Registrar. The form is available on the National Registrar’s website. A copy of the completed form will be forwarded to the student’s Program Director and will be kept on file in the National Registrar’s Office. If a student is not able to contact the faculty member, he/she may petition the Program Director for an Incomplete.

Incurring three or more Incompletes in one semester or term may jeopardize the student’s financial support.

Work needed in order to resolve Incompletes incurred during the Summer term must be submitted to the faculty member by the last day of classes for the Fall semester. Work needed in order to resolve Incompletes incurred at the end of the Fall semester must be submitted to the faculty member by the last day of classes for the Spring semester. Work needed in order to resolve Incompletes incurred during the Spring semester must be submitted to the faculty member by the first day of classes for Fall semester. In all cases, the faculty member may impose more stringent deadlines. Students in the School of Graduate Studies should refer to the School’s handbook for due dates for Incompletes.

The student will have an “I” entered for the particular course. If the student fails to finish the Incomplete during the time allotted to him/her by the faculty member, the National Registrar will record an "IF" (Incomplete Failure) on the student’s academic record.

No Incompletes are granted for Intensive courses.

In order to be considered as a candidate for graduation or ordination, a student must resolve all incomplete grades on his/her academic record at least three weeks before the date of graduation/ordination.

In rare cases where due to illness or other extenuating circumstances a student receives an incomplete grade in the final year, the coursework must be resolved and submitted to the faculty member by March 31 so that faculty member may submit the grade by the due date for senior grades. After that date the grade will turn to “IF.”
Course Repeats

Courses may be repeated with permission of the student’s Program Director and in consultation with the faculty member.

Courses for which grades of “F” have been received may be repeated without limit. The student should discuss the matter with their Program Director before re-enrolling in the course. If the specific course is not available, an equivalent course may be taken for the repeat if approved by the student’s academic program director in consultation with the faculty member who taught the original course.

Courses for which grades of “C-” or better have been earned may be repeated upon receiving approval from the student’s Program Director. The approval process is initiated by the student using a form from the National Registrar’s Office. A maximum of 3 passed classes per degree or certificate may be repeated.

Only the credits and grade for the repeated attempt count toward degree completion and the grade point average. All entries on the transcript, however, remain a part of the student’s permanent academic record.

Reduced Academic Load

Students shall be able to move through the program at a reduced pace if necessary, in consultation with the Program Director, taking up to a year beyond the normal degree program structure to complete the program.

If the student needs more than one additional year, he/she shall submit a formal request to the Program Director, who shall consult with the Faculty.

Independent Study Courses

An independent study is a course not regularly offered but developed specially by a student and faculty member. Students shall generally be allowed to take one (1) independent study course per semester/term. Up to a total of three (3) such courses are permitted per year. Exceptions may be made by Program Directors on a case-by-case basis for advanced students. Students in the School of Graduate Studies are exempt from this limit but should consult with their advisor and the Director of the School of Graduate Studies.

Students must consult with their Program Directors in order to determine where the Independent Study course will count in the curriculum and other limits relative to the student’s academic program.

To apply for an Independent Study Course, students must complete the Independent Study form available on the National Registrar’s website and submit it to the National Registrar’s Office by the close of registration.
The faculty member shall meet with the student enrolled no fewer than four times during the semester and the course requirements must be fulfilled by the end of exam week.

Any full-time faculty member may be asked to sponsor an Independent Study course. Part-time faculty members may do so with the approval of the Program Director. Since the faculty members are asked to participate in this program in addition to their regular teaching load, they shall undertake to work with students at their own discretion. If they feel that their own teaching obligations have already been maximized, or that other circumstances exist which make the Independent Study request inadvisable, then they may decline to sponsor such an Independent Study. It is recommended that no faculty member sponsor more than two such courses in any one semester.

No student who has failed a course in either of the previous two semesters may register for an Independent Study course, unless permission is obtained from the Program Director.

Student Academic Standing and Evaluation

Academic standing (good standing, probation, suspension, and dismissal) will be determined as soon as possible at the conclusion of each semester. Based on the standards below, the National Registrar’s Office will automatically determine which students are on academic probation and communicate that information to the program directors. Additional academic action will be determined by the student’s Program Director and/or Student Tenure Committee, as defined in this document. Every semester, each Program Director must send a report of students who are not in good academic standing to the National Registrar and National Financial Aid Director. This report will be used in determining a student’s satisfactory academic progress (SAP) and eligibility for financial aid.

A student’s academic standing may fall within the following categories:

- Good Standing
- Probation
- Suspension
- Dismissal
A student in good academic standing:

- is not on probation
- is making acceptable progress toward his/her degree or certificate which includes the maintenance of a minimum grade of “P” or “B” in no less than 80% of the total attempted credits.
- has earned grades at the “Pass” or “B” level or higher
- has no more than one LP or C in a semester

If a student receives two or more “LPs” or “C’s” and/or fails one or more courses in a semester or is not meeting the 80% standard in 3.b., the National Registrar’s Office will place the student on Academic Probation. The Program Director will be notified and shall meet with the student to provide counseling and guidance and may convene a Student Tenure Committee.

If he/she receives another “LP,” “C” or “F” during a period of probation, he/she will be asked to appear before a Student Tenure Committee.

If the student fails two (2) courses at any time within two consecutive semesters, he/she will meet with the Student Tenure Committee.

If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will be automatically dismissed. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

The procedures governing a Student Tenure Committee are described under “Academic Tenure” later in this Handbook.

Students have the right to respond to any particular faculty evaluation by meeting first with the faculty member and secondly with the student’s Program Director.

Students in the School of Graduate Studies should refer to the School’s handbook for policies regarding academic progress and good standing.

Students Placed on Academic Probation

Students may be placed on academic probation by their academic Program Director or the Student Tenure Committee.

During the semester in which a student is on academic probation s/he will typically enroll in a reduced number of credit hours whether these come from HUC-JIR courses, or consortium, cross-campus or dual program credit programs.
The number of credit hours that a student is permitted to enroll in during a semester on probation may be stipulated by the academic Program Director or Student Tenure Committee.

The student will meet with his/her Program Advisor to discuss a possible reduction in outside commitments and fieldwork hours.

All instances of academic probation, suspension, and dismissal will be posted to the student’s permanent academic record.

Students will be removed from probation when they have completed twelve semester hours under the following conditions:

- all work for each course must be completed by the end of its semester, without incurring any incompletes
- all incomplete work from previous semesters must be completed
- the grade received in each course must be Pass (B) or better

Any student who incurs a total of two occurrences of academic probation over the course of her/his academic program(s) will be recommended to a Student Tenure Committee for possible suspension or dismissal from the College-Institute.

Class Standing

Class standing and progress through the curriculum is determined by the Faculty and Program Directors as set forth in the academic handbooks for each program.

Non-Degree & Consortium Students

Anyone auditing courses or taking courses for credit, but not pursuing a degree or certificate program at the College-Institute, is designated a Non-Degree Student. An Audit, like a grade, appears in the Student Information System (SIS) and on College-Institute transcripts. A student who fails to attend a course that they are auditing will have an administrative withdrawal/ “W” posted to their academic record.

Non-degree students must fill out the Application for Non-Degree Graduate Study which is available on the National Registrar’s website along with the current tuition and fees. Additionally, the Non-Degree Student must obtain the permission of the faculty member teaching the course.

Guests from the community who may wish to be a visitor in a particular class should contact the faculty member teaching the course for permission. No academic record is maintained, and the guest is not a registered student of the College-Institute.
The College-Institute has various agreements with other colleges and universities permitting their students to study at HUC-JIR. These Consortium students receive grades which are sent via transcript to their home colleges.

Veterans

The National Registrar’s Office can assist eligible veterans with filing the certification for their educational benefits each semester. Please contact the National Registrar’s representative on your U.S. campus. Veterans are encouraged to use web registration each semester as soon as it is available so that the certification of benefits may be filed as soon as possible. The College-Institute does not charge late fees, restrict access or impose penalties on students for delayed payments by the Veterans Administration.

International Students

HUC-JIR welcomes international students. The United States campuses are authorized to enroll F-1 students and to issue I-20 forms for these students. This process is handled by the Office of the National Registrar through its representatives on each U.S. campus. International students should keep the National Registrar’s staff informed of their arrival and departure plans, and any changes in their visa, financial, marital, or employment status, and other matters related to their stay in the United States.

Advanced Standing and Transfer of Credit

Students who have successfully completed graduate courses or a graduate degree in an accredited academic institution prior to their admission to HUC-JIR may request that transfer credits be applied toward their program of study at HUC-JIR. The amount of credit given shall be determined by the Program Director in consultation with the appropriate faculty member in whose area credit is sought but may not exceed 25% of the credit hours required for the degree or certificate. Any application for transfer or exemption must be accompanied by an official transcript from the student’s prior institution.

For learning achieved in non-accredited institutions or in settings outside of higher education, advanced standing may be possible. The extent of advanced standing shall be determined by the Program Director in consultation with the appropriate faculty member in whose area advanced standing is sought. Students may be evaluated based on examinations, performance in a specific course or group of courses, or other methods approved by the Program Director. As with accredited institutions, any application for transfer or exemption must be accompanied by an official transcript from the student’s prior institution.

All Advanced Standing decisions must be documented and sent to the National Registrar by the Program Directors so that appropriate credit may be recorded on the student transcript and in the Student Information System. The Outside Credit form is available on the National Registrar’s webpage.
No more than 25% of course requirements for a degree, certificate, or ordination can be fulfilled by coursework from outside HUC-JIR. Within this context, credit earned through consortium agreements will be considered “in residence.”

Transferability of Credits and Credentials Earned at HUC-JIR

The transferability of credits you earn at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) for any of the programs is at the complete discretion of an institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the agree or certificate you earn is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the credits, degree, or certificate that you earn at this institution are not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason, you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending HUC-JIR to determine if your credits, degree, or certificate will transfer.

Internal Transfer Credit

When a student in or alumnus of one HUC-JIR program enrolls in a second program at HUC-JIR (whether after withdrawing from or completing the first program or while enrolled in that program), he/she does not need to repeat any course common to both programs. Any course common to both programs may be counted toward the requirements for each.

Students whose prior work at HUC-JIR includes courses that are similar in content and scope although not identical to required courses in another program may petition to apply the courses from the prior program toward requirements in the new program with the approval of the director of the new program in consultation with the instructor(s). In some cases, students may be required to take similarly titled courses in multiple programs if those courses are deemed to be program specific.

In these situations, the total exemptions, equivalencies and substitutions may not total more than 33% of the student’s second academic program.

Students who complete the Rabbinic Education program or the SJNM certificate or degree program concurrent with their rabbinic studies may apply a total of six credits from these programs toward post-MAHL electives. Rabbinical School Directors may determine which courses in other programs fulfill distribution requirements in their program.

Rabbinical students or rabbinic alumni who choose to pursue the MAJE or the MARE through the Rabbinic Education year, or the certificate or Master’s in Jewish Nonprofit Management may apply coursework from the rabbinic program to fulfill all of the Judaica requirements for these degrees.

Fieldwork requirements for one program may not be fulfilled with fieldwork done in another program, unless the programs have a memo of understanding regarding joint fieldwork.
Exemptions

Exemption from the Year-In-Israel program may, upon application, be granted anyone admitted to the Rabbinical, Education, or Cantorial programs of the College-Institute. Applicants must demonstrate that they are able to pass the exemption examination for the Year-In-Israel program. The exempted coursework and credit hours will be noted on the student’s transcript.

A student may be exempt from certain required courses due to prior preparation. To receive such advanced standing, the student should submit a petition to their Program Director no later than 60 days prior to the beginning of the term in which the course in question would normally be taken. The Director will consult with faculty members in the academic field in question to determine the method of evaluating the student’s prior preparation. An exemption may result in the exempted courses being replaced by higher-level electives or the direct transfer of accredited graduate-level courses to replace HUC-JIR coursework.

Such evaluation normally would include an examination of the student’s transcript(s), prior course syllabi, and written work. A written or oral examination may be required as well. The Program Director will then approve or deny the petition and notify the student and the National Registrar accordingly.

Graduation

In order to graduate and/or be ordained by the College-Institute, a student must:

Successfully complete all academic and non-academic (i.e. institutes, seminars, etc.) elements of the curriculum for his/her program of study as certified by the academic program director.

For programs requiring a thesis or dissertation, all deadlines regarding submission and approval of the thesis/dissertation must be met prior to graduation and/or ordination.

Successfully complete all fieldwork/clinical requirements of the program as certified by the academic program director.

At the time of graduation/ordination, students must have completed all required courses in their program and have received a minimum grade of “P” or “B” in no less than 80% of the total attempted credits earned in each program while at the College-Institute.

Communicate with his/her academic program director(s) prior to the beginning of the final year of study in order to determine eligibility for graduation/ordination. The Program Director will review each student’s progress towards the completion of requirements for graduation/ordination and convey any concerns to the student.

Have resolved all grades of Incomplete at least three weeks prior to the date of graduation/ordination.
Successfully complete all assignments by the deadline established for the submission of assignments in the semester of graduation/ordination.

Have completed an exit interview with the Office of Financial Aid, if applicable.

Have completed an exit interview with his/her Program Director(s).

Have made arrangements with all HUC-JIR libraries and resource centers for the return of all materials.

Have made arrangements with the Student Accounts Office to settle all outstanding financial matters including any health care/insurance charges.

Have complied with the requests from campus offices for senior students including the return of mailbox keys, IDs, etc.

Failure to meet these requirements may result in a delay of graduation/ordination until any unresolved matters are settled.

The Academic Calendar

Prior to the academic year the National Registrar publishes an Academic Calendar on the National Registrar’s webpage. The Academic Calendar contains dates when classes are in session, scheduled reading and examination periods, and other pertinent information. HUC-JIR campuses also publish calendars of local events, days the campus is closed, intensive courses, and special academic terms for non-residential programs.

Some academic programs schedule a reading period at the end of each semester, preceding final examinations. Exceptions to this format may include intensive or online courses.

No regular classes or make-up classes are to be scheduled during reading days or during final examinations. If classes are canceled during the term, those classes are to be made up during the term.

The National Registrar’s Office publishes the semester schedule for final examinations for each campus.

Student Transcripts and Files

Maintenance of student transcripts and files is consistent with the rules and regulations of the American Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) and in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA.)

The College-Institute maintains an electronic file for each student in the Student Information System (SIS.) Additionally, an admission file is maintained by the National Admission Office, and academic files may be kept by the student’s campus Dean and Program Director.
Students have access to all pertinent information in their files and may check them for accuracy. Students should contact the National Registrar for access to their files except as defined in #4 below.

Official requests for transcripts are made in writing to the National Registrar. Transcripts are released only with the student’s written consent and if there are no unsettled student financial obligations. A transcript request may be made from the Student Information System (SIS) or by using the Transcript Request Form on the National Registrar’s webpage. There is a $5.00 charge for each official transcript requested.

The student’s file contains material that usually falls into the following four categories:

- Confidential letters of reference written in support of the student’s application.
- Application materials other than confidential letters of reference. These include the application itself, transcripts, Graduate Record Examination scores, autobiographical statement, medical forms, letter of acceptance and letter of acknowledgment.
- Grade Evaluations and general correspondence concerning the student contained in a student file, HUC-JIR transcript.

The student has access to all material in categories b, c and d as specified above. Appropriately designated administrative personnel, approved by the Office of the National Registrar, may have access to material in all four categories. The student’s advisor has access to the material in categories b, c, and d.

Name Change Process

The College-Institute maintains the full legal name of students. Name changes are available only to current students. Upon withdrawal/dismissal/graduation the student’s permanent record is sealed and no further changes will be made.

The Request for Name Change Form is available on the National Registrar’s webpage or from any staff member of the National Registrar’s Office. Acceptable supporting documentation includes valid driver’s license, marriage license, divorce decree that reinstates the maiden name, adoption documents, court order, or valid passport. Documents that are not considered acceptable legal documents include a social security card and a notarized statement. For international students on a visa, the name must reflect the name that appears on the visa.

The student’s name that appears on the Application for Graduation/Ordination document must match the name on file with HUC-JIR. Request for Name Change with acceptable documentation needs to submit to the Office of the National Registrar before Graduation/Ordination. If proper legal documentation has not been provided to the Office of the National Registrar before Graduation/Ordination the Diploma/Simcha will be held.
FERPA Annual Notice to Students: Access to Student Records

Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion annually informs students of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, (FERPA) as amended. The Office of the National Registrar will disclose FERPA information by publishing a notice on the College-Institute’s National Registrar Website and in other appropriate locations. This annual notice shall prescribe the procedures whereby a student may make a formal request for non-disclosure of directory information, exercise the right to inspect and review education records, request an amendment of education records and obtain a copy of the College-Institute’s education records policy. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. See Section “6” below on your right to prevent the disclosure of directory information. The FERPA rights of students are:

(1) The right to inspect and review your education records.

Students should submit to the National Registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. If the records are not maintained by the College-Institute official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed. All such requests must be forwarded to the Office of the National Registrar immediately for review. The Office of the National Registrar, in coordination with the appropriate College-Institute officials and/or offices, shall ensure that requests to inspect and review education records are responded to in a timely manner. All requests shall be granted or denied in writing within 45 days of receipt. If the request is granted, you will be notified of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the request is denied or not responded to within 45 days, you may appeal to the College-Institute’s FERPA appeals officer. Additional information regarding the appeal procedures will be provided to you if a request is denied.

Schools are not required to provide copies of records unless, for reasons such as great distance, it is impossible for students to review the records. Schools may charge a fee for copies.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

You may ask the College-institute to amend a record that you believe is inaccurate or misleading. You should write to the College-Institute official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record you want changed and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the college decides not to amend the record as requested by you, the College-Institute will notify you of the decision and advise you of your right to a hearing before the College-Institute’s FERPA appeals officer regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to you when notified of your right to a hearing.

(3) The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in your education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to college officials with legitimate educational interests. A College-Institute official is a person employed by the College-Institute in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position; a person or company with whom the College-Institute has contracted; a person serving on the Board of Governors; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another college official in performing his or her tasks. A College-Institute official has a legitimate educational interest if access is reasonably necessary in order to perform his/her instructional, research, administrative or other duties and responsibilities. Upon request, the College-Institute discloses education records without consent to officials of another college or school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

(4) You may appeal the alleged denial of FERPA rights to the:

Office of the National Registrar
Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion
3101 Clifton Avenue
Cincinnati, Ohio 45220

(5) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College-Institute to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are:

Family Policy Compliance Office:

U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue, SW Washington, D.C. 20202-5920

For additional information: https://www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/ferpa/index.html

(6) The College-Institute will make the following “directory information” concerning current and former students available to those parties having a legitimate interest in the information:

*attendance dates (periods of enrollment) *address
*telephone number *place of birth
*photograph
*email address
*full- or part-time status *enrollment status (undergraduate, graduate, etc.)
*level of education (credits) completed
*major field of study *degree enrolled for *participation in officially recognized activities and sports *height and weight of athletic team members *previous school attended *degrees, honors and awards received

By filing a “Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information” form with the National Registrar’s Office, current and former students may request that any or all of this directory information not be released without their prior written consent. This form is available in the National Registrar’s Office and on the National Registrar’s Office website and may be filed, withdrawn, or modified at any time.

Possible Federal and State Data Collection and Use

As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education’s FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which your education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records — including your Social Security Number, grades, or other private information — may be accessed without your consent.

First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities ("Federal and State Authorities") may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state- supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is "principally engaged in the provision of education," such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution.

Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when we object to or do not request such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the Authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities.
In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

Residency Requirements

The minimum residence requirement for each degree, certificate, and ordination program of the College-Institute may be found in the program handbooks, available from the Program Directors. However, in all cases, at least 75% of degree or certificate credits must be earned from HUC-JIR.

Academic Integrity

HUC-JIR students are expected to maintain the highest standards of integrity with respect to their academic work. The College-Institute considers all breaches of personal and academic integrity to be serious offenses.

Cheating involves, but is not necessarily limited to, the use of unauthorized sources of information during an examination.

Plagiarism, the appropriation of unattributed ideas or verbatim copying, is entirely at odds with the core principles of Jewish tradition and academic rigor. Students are expected to be familiar with the proper rules of citation (see the MLA Handbook, or similar works). Students must ensure that they understand their instructors’ expectations and avoid utilizing completed work, notes, drafts or homework of other students when it is inappropriate.

Work completed for one course may not serve to fulfill obligations of another course, unless explicitly permitted in writing by the two professors involved. When in doubt, ask the professors involved about the appropriate actions to take.

It is a violation of the standards of academic conduct to alter any academic or official institutional record used in the admission or academic records process.

Disciplinary action regarding cases of cheating, plagiarism or other violations of academic integrity may be taken by faculty members, the administration or the Student Tenure Committee where necessary.

Copyright Law and Peer-to-Peer File Sharing

What is Peer-to-Peer?
Peer-to-Peer ("P2P") file sharing is a way of exchanging or transferring files over the Internet. Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement. Below is a partial list of various P2P programs that allow users to exchange and share files, this list is not exhaustive:

- Ares
- Azuereus
- BitComet
- BitLord
- Bit Tornado
- BitTorrent
- FlashGet
- Gnutella
- KaZaA
- Limewire
- Morpheus
- uTorrent

What is wrong with Peer-to-Peer file sharing?

Copyrights help to ensure that authors of creative works can control how those works are used and prevent others from capitalizing on, or using or distributing, the works without permission. While P2P file sharing programs may be used for legitimate reasons, these programs are overwhelmingly used for the illegal distribution of copyrighted works such as music, movies, software, books, images, and TV programs without permission from the copyright owner.
Sharing any file of a work that you did not create yourself as an original work, is not in the public domain, or for which you do not have permission to share can have serious consequences. Not only are there substantial legal risks, using P2P programs degrade the speed of the College-Institute’s network, may contain spy-ware, viruses, or exploits that may allow unauthorized access to the machine as well as the network hosting the program. The laws that govern copyright are not specific to any one technology; you can violate the rights of a copyright holder using many different types of technology.
Both uploading and downloading of copyrighted files can violate copyright law.

What is the College-Institute’s policy on Peer- to-Peer file sharing?

Most, if not all, of the P2P programs listed above threaten or disrupt the integrity of the College-Institute’s computing services and its network. The College-Institute respects the intellectual property of others, regardless of the medium in which the material is transmitted as this is a cornerstone of academic integrity. Access to the College-Institute’s technology is a privilege granted to students, faculty, staff, and approved guests. Everyone using these resources is responsible for using them in an effective, ethical and lawful manner. We prohibit the use of unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material.

What is the College-Institute doing to combat Peer-to-Peer File Sharing?

The College-Institute currently employs bandwidth-shaping technology to prioritize network traffic. We also block known Peer-to-Peer software.

What will happen if I am caught using these programs?

If you use the HUC-JIR wireless network to download or use file sharing software like Bit Torrent, or LimeWire, etc. and use that program to share copyright material or violate College- Institute policies, the College-Institute may terminate your campus computer connection.

Continued use of file sharing software or services will require the College-Institute to impose additional sanctions. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, revocation of access rights and/or other sanctions up to and including suspension or expulsion for students, and termination for employees.

In addition to HUC-JIR sanctions, there are civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or "statutory" damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense.

For more information, please see the web site of the U.S. Copyright Office at www.copyright.gov, especially their FAQ's at www.copyright.gov/help/faq.
If you have questions about this policy, please contact the College-Institute’s Chief Technology Officer at CTO@huc.edu

Required Textbooks

In accordance with Federal policy, HUC-JIR makes available to students the list of required textbooks for a course several weeks before the beginning of the semester/term so that the student can determine cost efficient options for obtaining the books. Faculty members will provide the required textbook information for their courses to the Office of the National Registrar at least six weeks prior to the beginning of the upcoming semester/term.

Syllabi

Faculty are required to distribute course syllabi to students on the first day of class. A syllabus will outline expected student learning outcomes, including the minimum requirements for a passing grade and the calendar dates by which requirements, such as papers and examinations must be fulfilled.

Course syllabi are to be distributed by individual faculty members and may also be available from the Program Directors.

Student Behavior and Professional Conduct

1. Students and other members of the HUC-JIR community are expected to abide by the highest moral values of our faith traditions, including personal conscience, professional conduct and integrity, and honorable social relationships. Students must be conscientious in avoiding the appearance of misconduct on campus, in congregations, schools, agencies, and in the broader community.

   a. Because a HUC-JIR student’s primary reason for serving in fieldwork settings is due to her/his affiliation with the College-Institute, this policy on student behavior and professional conduct will govern the student in those settings. However, this does not preclude action by the organization where the fieldwork is being performed or the involvement of local law enforcement and courts with appropriate jurisdiction.

   b. Community conduct and ethical standards include:

      i. Respect for the rights, differences, and dignity of others

      ii. Honesty and integrity in all dealings

      iii. Conscientious pursuit of excellence in one’s work

      iv. Accountability for actions and conduct on the campus and in the workplace
c. The College-Institute may take disciplinary action as it deems necessary should the standards of personal and ethical conduct be violated. Violation of these standards shall include, but is not limited to:

i. Academic misconduct including, but not limited to, plagiarism or cheating

ii. Abuse of alcohol or drugs

iii. Discriminatory or harassing behavior

iv. Sexual Misconduct (including, but not limited to, sexual harassment and sexual assault)

v. Interpersonal violence (including, but not limited to, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking)

vi. Giving false statements to the College-Institute orally or in writing including, but not limited to, one's application for admission or registration or altering records

vii. Violation of the Technology Usage Policy

viii. Financial malfeasance

ix. Violent behavior

x. Use of abusive or offensive language

xi. Creating a hostile or threatening environment

xii. Theft of College-Institute or personal property xiii. Violation of College-Institute academic regulations and policies

xiv. Disrespect toward a College-Institute employee

xv. Students involved in a criminal violation are accountable to local authorities but may also be subject to discipline by the College-Institute.

2. Other than complaints related to discrimination, harassment, sexual misconduct, or interpersonal violence, complaints of a student’s alleged inappropriate behavior are to be brought to the Program Director (or the Dean’s designee). The Program Director (or Dean’s designee) will investigate the charges further, and consult with the student, appropriate faculty, student representatives and any outside consultants or other individuals deemed necessary to determine whether disciplinary action is warranted. Complaints related to sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence should be made to the Title IX Coordinator (see the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy for more information).
All other complaints of discrimination and/or harassment should be made to the National Director of Human Resources who serves as the Title IX Coordinator (see the Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Policy for more information).

a. When community and ethical standards have been broken, the offender should, ask forgiveness, avoid repetition, and make restitution whenever possible.

b. The student’s program director may suggest that the student seek counseling or other expert treatment.

c. The College-Institute’s National Director of Legal Affairs should also be contacted for review and consultation.

d. A Program Director (or the Dean’s designee) may issue a written reprimand to the student and may also place the student on immediate probation.

e. In an emergency situation, the Dean (or Dean’s designee) may determine that it is appropriate to immediately remove the student from the campus and related educational activities. The student’s Program Director should follow-up immediately by investigating the situation and determining the next appropriate steps which may include a Student Tenure Committee meeting.

f. A student’s tenure may be terminated if it is determined that he/she engaged in inappropriate behavior that renders him/her unsuitable for his/her chosen profession, including but not limited to behavior that is unethical, illegal, or otherwise inconsistent with the codified standards of the individual professional organization of the field for which the student is preparing himself/herself.

g. Additionally, the Program Director (or Dean’s designee) may determine that a Student Tenure Committee should be convened in order to consider the situation and, if necessary, the Committee may determine the appropriate disciplinary course of action.

h. The Student Tenure Committee will be governed by the procedures and timelines outlined elsewhere in this Handbook.

i. The disciplinary actions that may be taken by the Student Tenure Committee include:

1. Reprimand and disciplinary probation

2. Temporary suspension with time and terms of re-admission indicated

3. Indefinite suspension with time and terms of re-admission not indicated. Return to the College-Institute would be determined by the student’s Program Director.
4. Removal of financial assistance

5. Permanent dismissal

j. The student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee using the same process described elsewhere in this Handbook.

Student Tenure

A. Academic Tenure

1. The initial purpose of the student tenure review is to assist the student in succeeding at the College-Institute. If a student receives two or more “LPs” or “C’s” and/or fails one or more courses in a semester, the Program Director shall meet with the student to provide counseling and guidance. The Program Director may place the student on probation and may convene a Student Tenure Committee.

2. If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will automatically be dropped from the academic roll. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

3. Probationary status presumes that a student so designated has not demonstrated an ability to continue the course of study and must demonstrate this ability within one academic year in order to remain in the program. If a student receives an “F” during a period of probation, he/she will need to appear before a Student Tenure Committee. The student may also lose his/her eligibility for financial assistance.

B. Procedures for Academic Tenure

1. The Program Director is responsible for implementing the rules governing student tenure.

2. When necessary, the Program Director will notify the student in writing that either he/she must meet with the Student Tenure Committee or that he/she is being dropped from the academic roll but has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement. The student will be given a copy of that section of this handbook that prescribes the procedures in these cases.

3. The composition of the Student Tenure Committee is to be determined by the Program Director but must include at least one student from the appropriate professional school (unless the student waives this provision) and between two and four additional faculty members. The Dean may not serve on the Student Tenure Committee since he/she is part of the Appeals process. If the program director chooses not to chair the committee, he/she may designate a member of the Committee to serve as chair.
4. The Program Director will give the student written notice of the time and place of the meeting, and also inform the student that s/he will have an opportunity to present pertinent information to the Committee and that the student may be present throughout the meeting until such time as the Student Tenure Committee enters into executive session. The fifteen working days notification period may be shortened with the agreement of the student and program director.

5. The Student Tenure Committee will determine the suggested course of action by secret ballot and by a 2/3-majority vote.

6. The Program Director will communicate the decision of the Student Tenure Committee in writing to the student and the Dean within five working days.

7. As part of the evaluation process, the Committee can suggest a range of ways to proceed that may include, but are not be limited to:

   a. Dismiss the case

   b. Investigate the matter further

   c. Oversight and assistance without putting the student on probation

   d. Place the student on Academic Probation. The conditions of probation will be determined by the nature of the case and the findings of the Committee. The appropriate course of action that the student must follow is determined by the nature of the case. The Committee may decide that the student can continue in his/her program while satisfying the probationary conditions, that the student may continue with a reduced course load, or that the student may not continue in his/her program until all conditions of probation have been satisfied. The Committee shall determine the timeframe for probation.

   e. Place the student on Academic Suspension for a specific period of time.

   f. Permanently dismiss the student from the academic program, the local campus, and/or the College-Institute.

8. Within ten working days, the student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee to the Dean; the Dean’s decision to the Provost; and finally, the Provost’s decision to the President.

9. Copies of the communications with the student, and a confidential record of the meeting(s) of the Student Tenure Committee (other than the deliberations of the executive session, for which no written record will be made) shall be kept in the Dean’s office. The student may request copies of the confidential records; such request must be in writing to the Dean.
C. Procedures for Non-Academic Tenure

Allegations related to sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence will be governed by the policies and procedures seen in the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy. Allegations related to any other form of discrimination and/or harassment will be governed by the policies and procedures seen in the Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Policy. All other allegations of a student’s alleged inappropriate behavior are governed by the procedures set forth in this section of the handbook.

1. Allegations of a student’s alleged inappropriate behavior are to be brought to the Program Director. The Program Director will investigate allegations further and consult with the appropriate faculty and student representatives in order to determine whether or not the matter is to be brought to the attention of a Student Tenure Committee. The Program Director may consult with outside experts and professionals. If it is determined that the matter should be brought before a Student Tenure Committee, then the student will be notified in writing of the charges that have been made and the findings that pertain to those allegations, and will be given a copy of that section of this handbook that prescribes the procedures to be followed by the Student Tenure Committee.

2. The composition of the Student Tenure Committee is to be determined by the Program Director but must include at least two faculty members and one student from the appropriate academic program. Since the Dean is part of the appeals process, he/she may not serve on the Student Tenure Committee. The Committee shall be chaired by the Program Director or the Program Director may designate a chair from among the Committee members.

3. At least fifteen working days prior to the meeting of the Student Tenure Committee, the Program Director will give the student written notice of the time and place of the meeting, and written notification that the student may be present throughout the meeting until such time as the Student Tenure Committee enters into executive session. The fifteen working days notification period may be shortened with the agreement of the student and program director.

4. At the meeting of the Student Tenure Committee, the Program Director will present information pertaining to the charge(s) of inappropriate behavior. The student may present pertinent information to the Committee or may ask others to present information on his/her behalf. When all of the information has been presented, the Program Director, the members of the Committee and the student may raise any questions they may have. When all questions have been raised, the members of the Student Tenure Committee will enter into executive session.

5. The Student Tenure Committee will deliberate in executive session and will determine its decision by secret ballot and by 2/3-majority vote. The Committee may consider the following options (or other options that the Committee may deem appropriate):

   a. Dismissal of the charge(s.)
b. Suspension: The Committee will stipulate an appropriate course of action for the student. The student may not continue in his/her program until he/she demonstrates to the Committee that he/she has met all of the Committee's stipulations.

c. Dismissal of the student from the program.

6. Within five working days, the chair of the Committee will communicate the decision of the Student Tenure Committee in writing to the student and the Dean.

7. Within ten working days, the student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee to the Dean; the Dean’s decision to the Provost; and finally, the decision of the Provost to the President.

8. Copies of the communication with the student, and a confidential record of the meeting(s) of the Student Tenure Committee (other than the deliberations of the executive session, for which no written record will be made) shall be kept in the Dean’s office. The student may request copies of the confidential records; such request must be in writing to the Dean.

Thesis / Dissertation

The policies concerning the preparation and submission of a thesis or dissertation are contained in the various handbooks of the College-Institute’s academic programs. Students should obtain one from their Program Director or from the HUC-JIR website. The student’s Program Director will work with the Library to ensure that appropriate copies of the thesis or dissertation are provided to the Library. The Program Director will notify the Office of the National Registrar of successful completion of the thesis/dissertation requirement for the purpose of graduation.

Academic Grievance Procedure

1. All faculty members and instructional staff have received the Faculty Handbook that clearly outlines good teaching practices. Faculty members are responsible for fulfilling the good teaching practices outlined in the Handbook. Should students have grievances against a faculty member relating to any academic matter, they should avail themselves of the procedure outlined below. The goal of the academic grievance procedure is to effect reconciliation between the instructor and the student.

2. Any student has the right to question a course grade he or she has received, but the student should recognize the difference between questioning a grade and charging an instructor with a violation of the good teaching practices. Such a charge is a serious act and should neither be undertaken lightly nor should the desire to have a grade reviewed and changed be the primary motivation.
3. If the student wants to contest a grade, the student should first meet with the instructor to voice a complaint and to receive an explanation and possible redress. If the student is not satisfied with the explanation, he or she may confer with the faculty member's Academic Program Director and ask for a review of the grade. The Academic Program Director will consult with the faculty member and review the material. If the decision of the Academic Program Director is not acceptable to the student, he or she may appeal to the Dean whose decision shall be final.

4. A student who feels that a faculty member has violated good teaching practices shall first discuss the matter directly with the faculty member, accompanied by his/her faculty advisor, if applicable. If he or she feels that his or her grievance has not been properly adjudicated, he or she should request a conference with the Academic Program Director. If the intervention of the Academic Program Director still has not achieved reconciliation, the student may submit to the Dean a letter formally stating the nature of the grievance with specific reference to teaching responsibilities that have not been fulfilled. The student should also provide any materials supportive of the complaint.

5. Within ten (10) days after receiving this written complaint from the student, the Dean will request the chairperson of the Faculty to convene a Faculty Grievance Committee that shall be made up of four full-time faculty members and a student representative selected by the student association. The Committee shall consider and investigate the complaint and make its recommendations to the Dean within thirty (30) days after receiving the complaint.

6. A Faculty Grievance Committee will not review a complaint unless it is lodged within 10 weeks of the alleged violation. For students attending SJNM, DeLeT, or summer session, the tenth week of the fall semester is the deadline. It shall be the responsibility of the Faculty Grievance Committee to determine, prior to considering any case, whether frank and full discussions among the student, instructor, Academic Program Director, and Dean have been exhausted as a means of resolving the grievance. If not, the case shall be referred back to the Dean as appropriate.

7. If the Faculty Grievance Committee decides to consider the case, the chairperson shall inform the student that the burden of proof rests with the student and that he or she may attend the hearing, excluding executive sessions. The chair shall also inform the instructor, when the committee decides to consider a case, that a grievance has been received by the Committee and provide the instructor with a full bill of particulars regarding the grievance and its supporting evidence. The chair shall request from the instructor in writing information germane to the case, inform the instructor that he or she may attend the hearings, excluding executive sessions.

8. If the Committee finds that no violation of the good teaching practices has occurred or that a violation has occurred but recommends that no redress is warranted, these findings will be reported by the Committee chairperson, in writing, to the student and the instructor, with copies sent to the Academic Program Director and Dean.
9. If the Committee finds that a violation has occurred and recommends any form of redress for the student, these recommendations should be reported by the chairperson of the Committee, in writing, to the Academic Program and Dean, with a copy sent to the student and to the instructor. A copy of this letter will be added to the faculty member’s file. The instructor will be expected to inform the Academic Program Director of his or her compliance or noncompliance with the recommendations within ten days after the letter of notification has been sent to the instructor. Failure to respond within ten days will be taken to indicate noncompliance.

10. If the instructor complies with the recommendations, the student will be informed, in writing, by the Academic Program Director, with copies to the committee chair. If the instructor indicates noncompliance with the recommendations, copies of the recommendations and of the instructor’s reply will be sent to the student, Provost, and President, and will be placed in the instructor’s file. In addition, a notation of this finding may be made in the student's permanent record file.

11. If the instructor does not accept the recommendations, he or she may appeal the decision of the Faculty Grievance Committee to the Provost. Written notice of the desire for a review by the Provost should be made within ten (10) days of receiving the copy of the Committee's findings. If an appeal is made, a copy of the written report of the Committee and all pertinent information and material will be forwarded to the Provost. The Provost will meet with the student and instructor and review the case. The Provost then will affirm, reject, or modify the recommendations of the Committee.

12. If the instructor does not accept the recommendations of the Provost, then he or she may appeal directly to the President. The President shall review all materials and meet with the student and instructor. The President’s decision will be final.

13. If the student has not resolved the concern/complaint to his/her satisfaction after exhausting the aforementioned process, s/he can utilize the appropriate state’s complaint process.
Equal Opportunity

Scope of the Policy

This policy applies to all College community members, including students, employees, professors, administrators, visitors, or any third parties performing services on any College campus.

This policy applies not only to discriminatory conduct occurring within the typical classroom or campus settings, but also to any location owned or operated by the College as well as College-sponsored or College-sanctioned functions taking place outside those typical settings. Such College-sanctioned functions include, but are not necessarily limited to, Field-Based Educational Experiences. The College expects that all members of its community will help promote a learning environment free from discrimination. Any off-campus discriminatory conduct that has an actual or potential adverse impact on another’s College environment may also be addressed under this policy.

Discriminatory Harassment

Discriminatory harassment is conduct that has the purpose or foreseeable effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work or academic performance or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment for that individual. It is not necessary that the consequences actually occur; HUC-JIR strives to stop any such conduct before the consequences occur. Discriminatory harassment is harassment that is based on the targeted individual’s disability, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, genetic information, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, veteran status, or gender identity and expression. Discriminatory harassment includes sexual harassment, which is further defined in the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.

Forms of harassment include, but are not limited to: Epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping, threatening, intimidating or hostile acts relating to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, or any other legally protected class; written or graphic material circulated by any means that creates a hostile or offensive educational environment toward an individual or group of individuals because of their race, color, religion, gender, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, or any other protected class. Examples of sexual harassment can be found in the definition of sexual harassment located in the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.

Please be aware, however, that just because the expression of an idea or point of view may be offensive or inflammatory to some, it is not necessarily discriminatory. HUC-JIR values freedom of expression and the open exchange of ideas. While this value of openness protects controversial ideas, it does not protect harassment or expressions of bias or hate.
Retaliation

The College will not tolerate any form of retaliation taken against anyone who makes a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy or anyone who cooperates in the investigation of a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy.

How to Report a Complaint

If your complaint involves conduct of a sexual nature, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.

All other complaints involving conduct prohibited by this policy should immediately be reported to the EEO Coordinator, Marviette Johnson, National Director of Human Resources, 3101 Clifton Ave., Cincinnati, OH 45220, (513) 487-3215, mjohnson@huc.edu

If you believe that criminal conduct has been committed, you are encouraged to contact the local police department and/or dial 911 for emergencies.

After receipt of a complaint (or after being put on notice of conduct that may violate this policy), the EEO Coordinator for your campus will take a statement from you regarding what happened. That EEO Coordinator will ask you to describe the accused individual(s) and may ask questions about the scene of the incident, any witnesses, and what happened before and after the incident. If necessary, a referral to the local police department may be made at that time.

You may have a support person with you during the interview. Unless you request confidentiality and the College is able to honor that request, an investigation into the incident will begin promptly after you report the incident.

In addition to reporting a complaint to the EEO Coordinator, you may also report a complaint to or seek information from federal or state agencies such as:

The U.S. Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights (“OCR”)

Chicago Office (for Cincinnati campus): (312) 886-8434

San Francisco Office (for Los Angeles campus): (415) 556-4275

New York City Office (for NY campus): (212) 637-6466

The Ohio Civil Rights Commission (“OCRC”), Cincinnati Regional Office: (513) 852-3344

The State of California Department of Fair Employment and Housing (“DEFE”): (800) 884-1684 (toll free for complaints and information)
The New York City Equal Employment Practices Commission: (212) 240-7902

The New York State Human Rights Commission on Discrimination Complaints: (212) 306-7450

Interim Measures

If your complaint involves conduct of a sexual nature, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.

Interim measures, also known as accommodations, are available upon receipt of a report of discrimination or harassment and prior to the resolution of a complaint, as appropriate.

Available interim measures include, but are not limited to, restrictions on contact between an alleged victim and an alleged perpetrator (“no contact” orders); changes in academic or living situations; access to counseling, health, and mental health services at no cost ; academic support; victim advocacy; and escort services. If appropriate, the Title IX Coordinator, Marviette Johnson, National Director of Human Resources, generally will offer interim measures upon receipt of a report of sex discrimination, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. Individuals requesting additional interim measures or experiencing difficulty obtaining interim measures that have been approved should immediately contact the EEO Coordinator. Interim measures will be offered to a complainant regardless of whether the complainant chooses to participate in a hearing against the accused or whether the complainant chooses to report the incident to law enforcement. To the extent possible, any interim measures that are provided will be confidential.

Protective Measures

In addition to the interim measures described above, other protective measures also may be available by contacting law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office. For example, in addition to the normal criminal process, law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office may assist a student in obtaining a protection order. A protection order is a temporary order intended to help provide safety and protection to victims of certain crimes. If you have a protection order against someone and that person violates the protection order in any way, law enforcement may be able to arrest that person and charge that person with a violation of the protection order. To the extent possible, any protective measures that are provided will be confidential. If needed and to the extent necessary, HUC-JIR will provide assistance in obtaining a protection order.

Please see the EEO Coordinator for your campus for more information about these protective measures, including for contact information for local law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office.
Investigation

If your complaint involves conduct of a sexual nature, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.

While all investigations will vary due to the individual circumstances surrounding the particular complaint, investigations falling under this policy will typically involve the following:

Preliminary review of the complaint by the EEO Coordinator to determine whether probable cause exists to believe a violation of this policy occurred.

Assignment of the investigation from the EEO Coordinator to an investigative team of no fewer than two (2) persons who have been trained annually to investigate complaints.

Notification to the accused that an investigation has commenced.

Interviews of the complainant, the accused, and any witnesses. The accused shall be provided a copy of any written complaint or otherwise informed of the substance of the complainant’s allegations. Similarly, the complainant shall be provided with a copy of any written response provided by the accused or otherwise informed of the substance of the accused’s response to the allegations.

Gathering and examining of relevant documents or evidence (e.g., law enforcement investigatory records, student and/or personnel files, etc.). Both the complainant and respondent will be asked to provide a list of possible witnesses as well as any written or physical evidence (e.g., test messages, social media postings, emails, photos, medical records, etc.) that they wish to be considered by the investigatory team.

Preparation of an investigatory report complete with a summary of interviews, relevant documents, findings, and recommendations for further action.

Both the complainant and the accused have a right to be accompanied by one support person of his or her choosing during any meeting with an investigator. That support person should not be someone who may be considered a witness. The purpose of the support person is to provide support, not advocate or impede the investigation.
Disciplinary/Adjudication Procedure

If your complaint involves conduct of a sexual nature, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy and the Complaint/Grievance Policy – Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence.

Upon completion of its report, the investigatory team will deliver the report to the EEO Coordinator. In the event that the EEO Coordinator finds that there are reasonable grounds to believe that a violation of this policy has occurred, the EEO Coordinator will issue a notice of violation in writing to the accused and provide a copy of that notice to the complainant. Any notice of violation will also include a recommendation with regard to disciplinary action. In the event that the EEO Coordinator does not find that there are reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, the EEO Coordinator will notify both the complainant and the accused in writing of that finding.

If either party feels aggrieved by the findings, he or she may challenge those findings through the College’s applicable grievance procedure. The procedure for challenging those finding through a grievance can be found in the policy titled “Complaint/Grievance Policy – Discrimination and/or Harassment.”

Possible Discipline/Sanctions

Possible discipline or sanctions for engaging in discrimination and/or harassment may include:

- Oral warning
- Letter of warning or reprimand, and a copy placed in the student’s file
- Probation
- Forced leave of absence
- Suspension for a defined period of time
- Dismissal from the College

Complaint/Grievance Procedure – Discrimination and/or Harassment

For conduct of a sexual nature, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, please refer to the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy.
Introduction:

The Hebrew Union College –Jewish Institute of Religion (“HUC-JIR”), as an institution of higher education and as a community of scholars, is committed to the elimination of discrimination and the provision of equal opportunity in education and employment. HUC-JIR does not discriminate on the basis of disability, race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, genetic information, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, veteran status or gender identity and expression in its programs and activities. HUC-JIR does not tolerate discrimination, harassment, or retaliation on these bases and takes steps to ensure that students, employees, professors, administrators, visitors, and other third parties are not subject to a hostile environment in its programs and activities.

When an allegation of discrimination or harassment is brought to the College’s attention, a prompt investigation will be performed. Please see the College’s Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Policy for more detailed information related to filing a complaint and a possible resulting investigation. Upon conclusion of the investigation, a report will be prepared and submitted to the EEO Coordinator. In the event that the EEO Coordinator has reasonable grounds to believe that a violation of this policy has occurred, the EEO Coordinator will issue a written notice of violation to the accused and provide a copy of that notice to the complainant. Any notice of violation will also include a recommendation regarding disciplinary measures. In the event that the EEO Coordinator does not have reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, the EEO Coordinator will notify both the complainant and the accused student in writing of that finding.

If either party feels aggrieved by the findings, he or she may challenge those findings through this grievance procedure.

If a notice of violation has been issued, and the accused fails to challenge the notice of violation by submitting a written grievance within the requisite time period, the notice of violation will be submitted to the Provost for a final decision regarding discipline.

Grievance and Adjudication Procedure:

Step 1: All grievances shall be written and submitted to the EEO Coordinator within ten (10) days of the date the grievant receives the above-described notice from the EEO Coordinator. All written grievances shall include the following: (1) the name, addresses, and phone number of the grievant; (2) a detailed description of the circumstances surrounding the grievance; and (3) the specific relief the grievance is requesting through the grievance procedure. The EEO Coordinator will promptly provide a copy of the grievance to the other involved individual(s), hereafter referred to as the respondent(s). The respondent may submit a written response to the grievance to the EEO Coordinator within 10 days of receipt of the grievance.
If the grievant or respondent believes that the EEO Coordinator has a conflict of interest or bias, the grievant or respondent shall identify his or her reasons for that belief in writing and submit that writing within 3 business days of the filing of the grievance. If it is determined that the EEO Coordinator has a conflict of interest or bias, the EEO Coordinator will be recused from the grievance process and a non-involved member of the senior administration will perform all duties assigned to the EEO Coordinator.

Step 2: After receipt of the grievance, the EEO Coordinator will contact the grievant and the respondent within five (5) business days to schedule separate pre-hearing meetings. Pre-hearing meetings are not mandatory. These pre-hearing meetings are designed to allow the grievant and/or the respondent to ask questions regarding the grievance and adjudication procedure as well as review any investigatory report. Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted to be accompanied by an advisor during the pre-hearing meeting. The advisor should not be someone who may be considered a witness to the incident at issue.

Step 3: After the pre-hearing meetings (or after the parties decline the pre-hearing meetings), the EEO Coordinator will submit the grievance and the respondent’s response, if any, to a Grievance Committee. The Grievance Committee will consist of three (3) College faculty members or administrators randomly chosen from a defined pool. If either party is a faculty member or administrator, no faculty member or administrator from that party’s same department will be chosen to be on the Grievance Committee. Each of the faculty members in the defined pool receives annual training on issues related to sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking and on the College’s grievance and adjudication process. The grievant and the respondent will be promptly notified of the Grievance Committee’s composition.

If either party believes that a member of the Grievance Committee has a conflict of interest or bias, that party shall identify his or her reasons for that belief in writing and submit that to the EEO Coordinator within three (3) business days of notification of the Grievance Committee’s composition. If the EEO Coordinator determines that a member(s) of the Grievance Committee has a conflict of interest or bias, that member(s) of the Grievance Committee will be replaced by a different faculty member(s) from the defined pool. That process will continue with the newly identified member(s) until the Grievance Committee is finalized.

Step 4: After the Grievance Committee is finalized, the EEO Coordinator will notify the grievant and the respondent of the date, time, and location of the grievance hearing. The parties will receive at least ten (10) days’ notice of the hearing. Prior to the Grievance Committee hearing, the Grievance Committee will be provided a copy of any investigatory report. The parties will also be provided a copy of the investigatory report, but without copies of sensitive documents such as medical records. Note that the parties have an opportunity to review the full investigatory report in the pre-hearing meeting.
Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted to present relevant witnesses and evidence at the hearing. Each party must identify in writing to the EEO Coordinator the witnesses and/or evidence he or she intends to present at the hearing no later than seven (7) days prior to the hearing. The College prefers the use of live witnesses, but if a witness is unavailable to participate in a live proceeding, a signed, written statement may be submitted for the witness. If a signed, written statement is submitted for a witness, it must be provided to the EEO Coordinator no later than seven (7) days prior to the hearing.

The EEO Coordinator will promptly provide each party with the other party’s list of identified witnesses, evidence, and/or signed, written statement(s).

Step 5: Grievance hearings are closed to the public. Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted have an advisor present. However, that advisor is not permitted to participate as a vocal advocate during the hearing. The investigators shall be present at the Grievance Committee Hearing.

At the hearing, each party will be permitted to give an opening statement. Each party will then be permitted to present evidence and/or witnesses. A party will be permitted to ask questions of the other party and/or the other party’s witnesses, but the questions must be first submitted to the Grievance Committee. The Grievance Committee will then ask the questions on the party’s behalf. The Grievance Committee retains discretion to refrain from asking questions it believes are irrelevant or unnecessary and/or exclude presentation of any witnesses or evidence. For example, information about a party’s prior sexual history with persons other than the other party will typically be excluded. Each party will also be permitted to make a closing statement.

Official minutes of the hearing will be kept. The official minutes will be made available to either party.

Step 6: Within fourteen (14) days of the conclusion of the grievance hearing, the Grievance Committee will issue a written decision. The Grievance Committee will use a preponderance of the evidence (i.e., “more likely than not”) standard to determine whether or not an alleged violation occurred. The Grievance Committee will also issue a recommendation on the discipline, if applicable. If the Grievance Committee is not unanimous in its findings or recommended discipline, its written decision shall record that fact.

The EEO Coordinator will promptly provide written notice to both the grievant and the respondent of the Grievance Committee’s decision. The EEO Coordinator will also notify the parties of their right to appeal the decision and, if applicable, the sanctions or disciplinary measures to be imposed.
Step 7: After the EEO Coordinator notifies the parties of the Grievance Committee’s decision, either party will have ten (10) days to submit a written appeal of the Grievance Committee’s decision to the Provost. The possible bases for appeal include: (1) a procedural error that has significantly impacted the outcome of the hearing; (2) the introduction of previously unavailable relevant evidence which would have significantly impacted the outcome of the hearing; or (3) where a sanction is substantially disproportionate to the Grievance Committee’s findings.

If either party chooses to appeal, the other party will have ten (10) days to submit a written opposition to the appeal to the Provost. Upon receipt of the written opposition or the passing of the timeframe allowed to submit a written opposition, the Provost will promptly issue a written decision affirming the Grievance Committee’s decision; reversing the Grievance Committee’s decision; or remanding the grievance back to the Grievance Committee to consider additional evidence or remedy a procedural error. If the Provost remands the Grievance Committee’s decision, the Provost may order that a new Grievance Committee hear the matter. The Provost’s decision will be issued in writing to both parties.

A decision will be considered final if no party submits a timely appeal of a Grievance Committee’s decision or if the Provost affirms or reverses the Grievance Committee’s decision. Any sanctions or discipline imposed will be stayed until the resolution of the appeal process.

All of the time frames above may be extended by a showing of good cause. All parties involved will be promptly notified if a time extension has been granted.

A student is not required to file a grievance with the College and, if applicable, may file a complaint with federal or state agencies such as:

- The U.S. Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights (“OCR”)
  Chicago Office (for Cincinnati campus): (312) 886-8434
  San Francisco Office (for Los Angeles campus): (415) 556-4275
  New York City Office (for NY campus): (212) 637-6466

- The Ohio Civil Rights Commission (“OCRC”), Cincinnati Regional Office: (513) 852-3344
  The State of California Department of Fair Employment and Housing (“DEFE”): (800) 884-1684 (toll free for complaints and information)

- The New York City Equal Employment Practices Commission: (212) 240-7902
  The New York State Human Rights Commission on Discrimination Complaints: (212) 306-7450

In the event that the College finds that any student has been a victim of discrimination or harassment, the College will take immediate measures to remediate and/or correct the conduct or circumstances.
Any individual who is subjected to such conduct will be notified of the College’s measures to remediate and/or correct such conduct.

The College prohibits retaliation against anyone who files a grievance under this section or otherwise complains that he or she has been a victim of discrimination or harassment. This prohibition of retaliation similarly extends to anyone who has testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing relating to a grievance or complaint under this section.

All documents, witness statements, evidence, and written submissions associated with a grievance under this section will be confidentially maintained, to the extent permitted by law, in the student’s disciplinary record. Any request by a student to review the documents, witness statements, evidence, and written submissions associated with his or her grievance under this policy should be submitted to the EEO Coordinator.

Statement Concerning Field-Based Educational Experiences

Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) is highly committed to Field-Based Education Programs as an integral part of the educational process. This commitment is expressed through the institution’s approach to field-based educational experiences, which are designed to be both academically rigorous and practically effective. HUC-JIR Field-Based Education Programs – which include student pulpits, internships and related placements – aim to foster learning communities that model and teach students ways of thinking, being and doing that are integral in developing their professional identity. These experiences integrate such things as knowledge, skill, moral integrity, religious tradition and commitment in actual practice, which is the very essence of religious and communal leadership formation.

In partnership with participating synagogues and community-based organizations, field-based educational experiences provide learning laboratories to practice the art and craft of (religious) leadership, including but not limited to the following:

- Critical reflection on practice and theology;
- Exploration of differing models for ministering to congregants and others;
- Examination of the issues of faith and social issues; and
- Development of professional identity and skills.
The Learning Agreement

A critical component to HUC-JIR’s Field-Based Education programs is the Learning Agreement. A Learning Agreement is the institution’s official document which outlines the expectations and responsibilities of each party for the semester-long or year-long Field-Based Education placement, student pulpit or internship.

In general, students should be exposed to as much of the day-to-day functioning of the organization as possible. For students working in synagogues, this will often include experience with worship, teaching, youth engagement, committee meetings, social gatherings, and both the pastoral and administrative responsibilities associated with congregational settings.

For HUC-JIR students working in community-based organizations or similar Field-Based Education placement sites, this will often include meeting with clients, participating in the development and/or execution of programs, becoming familiar with administrative aspects of operating the organization, participating in staff meetings and lay committee meetings, and possible exposure to the role that fundraising plays in maintaining vital programming.

Pre-Field Based Educational Experience Workshop

In addition to the Learning Agreement, HUC-JIR encourages its Program Directors / Fieldwork Supervisors – prior to the start of the Field-Based Education placement, student pulpit or internship – to conduct workshops on ethical and other issues that HUC-JIR students might encounter in field placements. These workshops shall be a prerequisite to students’ participation in field placements. They shall be designed both to introduce and address many of the specific issues faced in congregational or organizational settings.

Orientation of HUC-JIR Students at Field-Based Educational Placements

Institutionally, HUC-JIR strongly encourages that students participating in Field-Based Education placements – including student pulpits and internships – be oriented at the field site on the day the placement begins. The objective of this orientation is to familiarize the student with the following:

- The organization’s history and mission;
- The organizational structure in place at the field placement site and the particular individuals with whom the student will work;
- The needs of those being served by the congregation, community-based organization or other field placement site; and
- The organization’s expectations and policies, as well as the student’s rights and responsibilities while engaged in the placement. This will include a review of protocol and procedure concerning harassment, discrimination, personal safety, emergencies, and related circumstances.
The orientation should also address the anticipated workload associated with the placement, which should be consistent with the parameters established by HUC-JIR and the congregation, community-based organization or other field placement site.

Supervision in Field-Based Educational Placements

Field-Based Education Placement Site Supervisors (hereafter referenced as the “Placement Site Supervisor”) may include ordained clergy (rabbis and cantors), chaplains, counselors, pastoral care directors, teachers and educators, administrators, social workers, advocates and activists, some of whom pursue vocations in congregational settings and others in non-congregational settings such as hospitals, community-based programs, school settings (primary, secondary, and higher education), governmental agencies, nonprofit organizations and other diverse types of organizations. Whether supervising an HUC-JIR student in a congregational or non-congregational setting, the Placement Site Supervisor is critical to the success of the field-based educational placement.

All Placement Site Supervisors are expected to have:

- A thorough understanding of HUC-JIR’s mission and philosophy, as well as working knowledge of the institution’s approach to Field-Based Education and the objectives of this aspect of the students’ training;

- A desire to work collaboratively with HUC-JIR staff who oversee field-based placement and the ability to ensure open communication with both the student and HUC-JIR staff;

- The ability and willingness to engage the HUC-JIR student participating in Field-Based Education as a “colleague in training”;

- A commitment to participate in any required Orientation and/or Training developed by the College-Institute, to adhere to all of the requirements of HUC-JIR Field-Based Education Placement Programs and to conform to HUC-JIR policy relating to behavioral conduct, including policies prohibiting discrimination, harassment and similarly offensive and potentially illegal conduct.

Professional Ethics

The Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) expects all Placement Site Supervisors, clergy, educators, social workers and other professionals with whom our students work in Field-Based Education Placements to conduct themselves in accordance with the highest standards of professional and personal ethics. HUC-JIR students are expected to conduct themselves in a similar manner.

Adhering to such ethical standards involves a commitment to behaving in an honest way and with integrity, manifest in simple actions such as keeping one’s word and following through on commitments.
For the student this is exemplified by arriving at the field placement on time and prepared to work, offering the time and energy expected in the Field-Based Education Placement, and presenting one’s best effort. The Placement Site Supervisor demonstrates comparable integrity by respecting the agreed upon parameters of the placement and by focusing her/his best efforts on the student.

Policies and Practices in the Context of Field-Based Educational Placements

Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion considers Field-Based Education programs to be an extension of its campus-based education programming and central to the curriculum. As such, all Field-Based Education Placement Sites must adhere to the policies of the College - Institute. Prior to the start of a Field-Based Education Placement, HUC-JIR will provide the Placement Site Supervisor with a current version of the National Student Academic Handbook, which contains the institution’s policies regarding appropriate student conduct. Field-Based Education Placement sites will also receive HUC-JIR policies relating to conduct expected of HUC-JIR faculty and staff. Throughout the fieldwork period HUC-JIR students and their Placement Site Supervisors, as well as other individuals associated with the placement, are expected to maintain proper bounds of conduct as outlined in HUC-JIR institutional policy.

Any student who violates these policies while serving in a Field-Based Education Placement or internship will be subject to disciplinary action, as specified in the National Student Academic Handbook. Additionally, the Field-Based Education Placement or internship site, including the Placement Site Supervisor and any individual associated with the site who is connected with the fieldwork or internship in any manner, is expected to maintain an appropriate, professional environment free from harassment, discrimination, intimidation and related conduct.

Use of Power

In the realm of covenants, one of the most fundamental relationships is the use of power. As students advance through HUC-JIR’s programs of study and participate in Field-Based Educational Placements – irrespective of whether they are student pulpits, internships or other types of placements – it is important that both the Placement Site Supervisor and the student understand and appreciate the ethics of power. Power is inherent in the role of clergy and in the role of the supervisor. As HUC-JIR students and their Placement Site Supervisors work together it is important that appropriate boundaries are both observed and acknowledged. In Field-Based Education Placements, students should also recognize the need and develop the ability to relate in a responsible manner to congregants, clients, colleagues and others with whom they interact.
Sexual Ethics

As discussed in the “Equal Employment and Non-Discrimination Policy” and the “Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy,” HUC-JIR will not tolerate sexual harassment in any organizational setting in which HUC-JIR students are placed. It is always the Placement Site Supervisor’s responsibility to maintain appropriate boundaries and a professional relationship with the student. It is also important for Placement Site Supervisors and students to remember that it is not appropriate for sexual contact to occur in the context of Field-Based Educational Placements, including but not limited to sexual contact between the Placement Site Supervisor (as well as others within the organization who participate in guiding aspects of the field-based educational placement) and the HUC-JIR student, between the student and a congregant in a synagogue setting, or between a student and a client in a community-based organizational setting. Such conduct will result in the immediate termination of the Field-Based Educational Placement.

Procedures for Handling Incidents of a Sexual Nature in Field-Based Educational Placements

Any student who has been subjected to sexual harassment, or any untoward conduct of a sexual nature, should refer to the “Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy” for information regarding how to proceed.

Immunization

For those students participating in the Year-in-Israel Program, all health documents (reports of immunizations, medical conditions, vaccinations, etc.) must be submitted to the HUC-JIR Office of Admission prior to departure for Jerusalem.

Disability Services

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) as amended by the ADA Amendment Act of 2008 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion is committed to the admission of all qualified students without regard to disability. We further commit to provide accommodations to ensure that academic programs and support services are accessible to all students and that the academic programs and support services do not discriminate against or have the effect of discriminating against students. We provide reasonable accommodations to help facilitate academic success. Students with documented disabilities may receive assistance and support from our designated staff on each campus. Services are available for students with documented disabilities on a case-by-case basis according to individual needs.
National Disability Services Coordinator

One member of the HUC – JIR national administration will be designated by the Provost as the National Disability Services Coordinator. This administrator will in turn work with the campus staff members who are designated by their campus dean as the primary contacts for students with disabilities on their campuses. This national staff member will participate in training for new disability services staff members and remain up to date regarding Federal and state laws concerning persons with disabilities. This person may serve as a resource person for the National Office of Recruitment & Admission staff and for potential students. Additionally, s/he will be responsible for updating HUC-JIR disability policies and procedures, coordinating and documenting staff and faculty training, and keeping the College-Institute informed about disability services and policies. These duties may be handled in addition to the person’s other administrative role.

The National Disability Services Coordinator can be contacted via Clyde Parrish in the National Registrar’s Office: (513) 487-3202

Disability Services Staff Members for Each Campus

Each campus will have a Disability Services staff member, designated by the campus dean and the National Disability Services Coordinator, to assist students with disabilities. That staff member will be trained and familiar with the applicable state and Federal laws such as the 504 and ADA regulations from the US Department of Education, be well-versed in the relevant policies of the College-Institute and should conduct the initial interview and follow-up with each student seeking disability accommodations. The staff member will also maintain a confidential file for each student, including the education plan/accommodations developed to aid that student. These duties may be handled in addition to the person’s other administrative role.

Cincinnati: Autumn Wheeler, Dean’s Office, (513) 487-3231
Jerusalem: Dr. David S. Mendelsson, Year-in-Israel Program Director, 972-2-6203365
Lo Angeles: Dr. Madelyn Katz, Associate Dean, (213) 765-2665
New York: Rabbi Andrew Goodman, Dean of Students, (212) 824-2230

Accommodations

Students who believe they will need academic accommodations to participate fully in the activities related to their academic program at HUC-JIR should make those needs known as early as possible, preferably as soon as they have received notification of acceptance.
Accommodations are adjustments made for students with disabilities in order to allow them to access the same educational experiences as their peers. Generally, a person with a disability is an individual who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. Major life activities include, but are not limited to, caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, and working.

Accommodations are equitable modifications of the learning environment that eliminate, as much as possible, physical or instructional barriers to learning encountered by the student with a disability. An accommodation is considered appropriate and reasonable if the accommodation is feasible and reasonable in its alternative method or format and does not impose an undue burden or hardship on the school. Accommodations are individualized and dependent on the nature of the specific disability or disabilities.

Accommodations are provided on an individual basis according to documentation provided by the student, tailored to individual needs, and may include, but are not limited to the following:

1. Notification letters to professors
2. Quiet room in which to take examinations.
3. Flexible deadlines for assignments
4. Extended time for reading assignments.
5. Extended time for examinations.
6. Alternate format textbooks.
   - Pdf- or Word-formatted books
   - E-books
7. In-class note taker. (Request is made in cooperation with professor.)
8. Oral reader for exams
9. Recording device in classroom
10. Computer in class
11. Preferred seating in the classroom.
Accommodation requests that (1) alter requirements that are essential to the program of instruction, (2) cause a fundamental alteration in the nature of a specific course or academic program, (3) impose undue financial or administrative burden, or (4) pose an appreciable threat to personal or public safety will not be granted.

HUC-JIR will assess on a case-by-case basis whether a particular accommodation request would cause undue hardship. An “undue hardship” is a significant difficulty or expense and focuses on the resources and circumstances of the school in relationship to the cost or difficulty of providing a specific accommodation. Undue hardship refers not only to financial difficulty, but to accommodation requests that are unduly extensive, substantial, or disruptive, or those that would fundamentally alter the nature or operation of a course or program of study.

Additionally, HUC-JIR commits itself to making its campuses accessible. The campus Disability Services staff member will work with the campus Operations Manager to ensure that the campus is physically accessible. Where applicable, handicap-accessible parking will be made available. Classes may be relocated to rooms that are physically accessible to meet student and faculty needs.

Alternative textbooks

Students who need alternative textbooks, such as textbooks in PDF format, should make this request as soon as their course syllabus is made available. Students should contact the Disability Services staff member on their campus.

E-books

Students may wish to purchase e-books, when possible, to use with their speech-to-text readers. Many publishers provide textbooks through third-party resources such as BookShare and Accessible Textbook Network (ATN.)

Procedures and Policies

Request for Services All students in need of disability services must notify the Disability Services staff member for their campus as soon as possible after the need for an accommodation becomes apparent. In order to begin the process of assessing potential accommodations as soon as possible, it is preferable that students notify the Disability Services staff member for their campus upon registration for classes of such need. The student will be assigned to meet with the Disability Services staff member to discuss his or her needs and recommendations.

A student previously diagnosed with a disability and who used academic accommodations in a prior educational setting must request that a copy of his/her test results and recommendations be sent to the Disability Services staff member for the student’s campus.
If a student is seeking an accommodation for a learning disability for the first time and has not used an academic accommodation at a prior educational setting, the student must provide updated documentation of the student’s disability. Documentation should be completed and signed by a professional familiar with the student and the student’s disability such as a physician, psychologist or rehabilitation counselor. It should verify the disability and suggest appropriate accommodations.

The documentation required may include diagnostic test results, interpretations of test results, evaluation and assessments of the student demonstrating the need for accommodations due to a disability that substantially limits one or more major life activities; and information regarding the history of the disability and its impact on the student’s ability to function. At a minimum, the documentation must be sufficient to apprise the College-Institute that the student currently has a disability that excludes the student from participation in, denies the student the benefits of, or otherwise subjects the student to discrimination in any program or activity.

The Disability Services staff member for the student’s campus will review the documentation and any requested accommodations with the National Disability Services Coordinator. If necessary, the Disability Services staff member will discuss any alternative recommended accommodations with the student and the National Disability Services Coordinator. The Disability Services staff member will notify the student of the determination and, if appropriate, any accommodations to be implemented.

If the accommodation is to be used in a specific class(es), the student must notify the faculty member responsible for the class(es) as soon as the determination is reached.

Students receiving accommodations must meet with the Disability Services staff member for their campus at the beginning of each semester to review their status and, if necessary, update their records.

If a student feels that his/her accommodations are not being met, he/she must immediately notify the Disability Services staff member for the student’s campus or the National Disability Services Coordinator.

NOTE: HUC-JIR does not provide diagnosis of learning disabilities or differences or the educational therapies to address those disabilities or differences. Any expense a student incurs for testing and diagnosis of a disability is borne by the student. The College-Institute reserves the right to conduct its own independent evaluation if it so chooses.
Confidentiality Notice

Except where necessary to further the purpose of this policy or where otherwise required by law, all Disability Services student information will be kept strictly confidential. Release of personal or disability information is at the discretion and instruction of the student. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure, or distribution of disability documentation is prohibited. Notification to faculty of a student’s need for accommodation will only be carried out upon the written permission of the student. No further information regarding the student’s disability may be shared within the College-Institute unless the student authorizes the release of the information.

Even if a student registered with Disability Services openly discusses his/her disability, HUC-JIR staff and faculty are not permitted to discuss disclosed information with others.

Request for Reconsideration

In the event that a student’s request for accommodation is denied or the student is otherwise dissatisfied with the result of his/her accommodation request, the student should request a meeting with the designated Disability Services staff member on his/her campus to present additional information and/or documentation and to discuss the nature of the issue or complaint. This meeting should be requested within 30 calendar days of the date that the conflict or issue arises. For concerns relating to denial of accommodations, the staff member may engage an outside consultant to review the documentation and provide recommendations to the Office. The staff member may contact faculty, administrators or professionals that can provide information pertinent to the case. If confidential information is to be released to or received by a third party not affiliated with the College-Institute, the student will be asked to sign a release of information form. Following the review of the request for reconsideration, the staff member will notify the student of the decision within 30 calendar days.

Review by the Provost: If the issue is not resolved through reconsideration, the student may request a review of the process by the Provost within 30 calendar days of receiving the decision on reconsideration. The student should submit a detailed written account of the issue and sign and date the document. The Provost will make an inquiry into the complaint and may contact faculty, administrators or professionals that can provide information pertinent to the case.

Every effort will be made to resolve the grievance within 30 calendar days or as expeditiously as possible. The student will be contacted in writing with a final decision regarding the request.

Students are not required to use the internal reconsideration process and may contact the Office of Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education in order to file a complaint.

Information on filing a complaint is available on their website: www2.ed.gov/ocr.
HUC-JIR prohibits retaliation against anyone who seeks reconsideration under this section or otherwise complains that he or she has been denied equal access in the form of appropriate accommodations or has suffered discriminatory harassment. This prohibition of retaliation similarly extends to anyone who assisted or participated in any manner in an investigation or proceeding relating to a complaint under this section.

In the event that HUC-JIR finds that any student has suffered discrimination or harassment relating to his or her disability, HUC-JIR will take immediate measures to remediate and/or correct the discrimination or harassment. Any individual who is subject to such discrimination or harassment will be notified of HUC-JIR’s measures to remediate and/or correct such conduct.

Training

Campus-Wide Faculty Training – All faculty, including adjuncts, must go through ADA training. This training must include the College-Institute’s disability services policy and procedures as well as how to be helpful to students with disabilities. Additionally, faculty must be made aware of the range of accommodations that can be made by the College-Institute and who the disability services staff member is for their campus.

Administrators & Student Service Staff Training – Deans, Associate Deans, Academic Program Directors, and student services staff (Admissions, Financial Aid, National Registrar, etc.) will also be trained regarding the College-Institute’s disability services policies and procedures.

Training will be arranged by the HUC-JIR Coordinator for Disability Services. Occasional updates regarding changes to HUC-JIR, state, and Federal policies will also be provided as needed.

Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination—which includes sexual misconduct—in educational programs and activities. All public and private schools, school districts, colleges and universities receiving federal funds must comply with Title IX. If you have experienced sexual misconduct, please review this policy for information about your Title IX rights. Additionally, if you have experienced interpersonal violence including, but not necessarily limited to, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, please review this policy for more information.

The Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion (“HUC-JIR”) does not tolerate any form of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking at this institution. All students found in violation of this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including suspension or dismissal from the College. Similarly, any employees, professors, or administrators found in violation of this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment. Behavior that violates this policy may also violate federal, state, and/or local laws.
In dealing with members of the HUC-JIR community, individual integrity and respect are the primary focus of the College's concern. The College seeks to foster a climate free from sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking through a coordinated education and prevention program, the promulgation of clear and effective policies, as well as investigative and grievance procedures that are prompt, equitable, and accessible to all. In the event that the College finds that instances of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking have occurred under the scope of this policy, the College will take immediate and appropriate steps to eliminate the misconduct, prevent its reoccurrence, and address its impact.

Title IX Coordinator

Marviette Johnson is the designated Title IX Coordinator for HUC-JIR. She may be contacted at 3101 Clifton Ave., Cincinnati, OH 45220, (513) 487-3215, mjohnson@huc.edu.

Any questions concerning or related to this policy should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator.

Scope of the Policy

This policy applies to all College community members, including students, employees, professors, administrators, visitors, or any third parties performing services on any College campus.

This policy applies not only to sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking occurring within the typical classroom or campus settings, but also to any location owned or operated by the College as well as College-sponsored or College-sanctioned functions taking place outside those typical settings. Such College-sanctioned functions include, but are not necessarily limited to, Field-Based Educational Experiences. The College expects that all members of its community will help promote a learning environment free from sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Any such off-campus conduct that has an actual or potential adverse impact on another's College environment may also be addressed under this policy.

Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment as defined below, is a form of sex discrimination that has the purpose or foreseeable effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work or academic performance or of creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment for that individual. Sexual misconduct includes, but is not necessarily limited to, sexual harassment, sexual assault (both non-consensual contact and non-consensual intercourse), sexual exploitation, and indecent exposure.

Often times, incidents of sexual misconduct also involve other acts of interpersonal violence such as domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. The College prohibits such conduct, regardless of whether it is related to conduct of a sexual nature.
Retaliation

The College will not tolerate any form of retaliation taken against anyone who makes a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy or anyone who cooperates in the investigation of a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy.

Consensual Relations

The integrity of the student-teacher relationship is the foundation of the educational mission at HUC-JIR. This relationship vests considerable trust in the teacher, who, in turn, bears authority and accountability as a mentor, educator and evaluator. The unequal institutional power inherent in this relationship heightens the vulnerability of the student, as well as the potential for coercion. The same holds true for the relationship between senior faculty and junior faculty, mentors and mentees, and supervisors and employees. Therefore, HUC-JIR strongly advises against such relationships. While romantic and sexual relationships among administrators, faculty members and students, and between supervisors and employees may not involve sexual harassment, those who enter into a sexual relationship with a student or employee, where professional power differentials exist, must realize several things:

Such relationships can be detrimental to the educational process due to the creation of dual roles and may undermine the integrity of the supervision and evaluation provided. Such sexual relationships are often perceived by fellow students and coworkers as opportunities for favoritism and biased treatment when evaluations are carried out.

HUC-JIR is committed to protecting the academic freedom and freedom of expression of all members of its community. However, that expression is subject to regulation when it causes injury and pain to others or creates a hostile learning and work environment.

If a charge of sexual misconduct is subsequently lodged, it may be exceedingly difficult to prove mutual consent.
Definitions

Sexual Harassment: Sexual harassment consists of unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other physical, verbal, or visual conduct based on gender (opposite or same sex), gender identity, or sexual orientation. Such prohibited conduct may include situations where: (1) submission to the conduct is an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment decisions or academic decisions; (2) submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions; or (3) the conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person’s performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment. A single or isolated incident of sexual harassment may create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment if the incident is sufficiently severe. In addition to the foregoing, examples of sexual harassment may include: sex-oriented verbal joking or kidding; subtle pressure for sexual activity; patting, pinching or other forms of physical contact; demand for sexual favors, accompanied by implied or overt promises of preferential treatment or threats concerning an individual’s academic or employment status; sexually degrading words used to describe an individual; a display of sexually suggestive objects or pictures, or electronic (including e-mail) or written communications; or other behavior motivated by the foregoing conduct.

Sexual Assault: Sexual assault is any forced or coerced sexual activity, committed against a person’s will, or without affirmative consent. Rape is a sexual assault that includes but is not limited to forcing or attempting to force vaginal, anal, and oral penetration. In addition to rape, sexual assault also includes having or attempting to have sexual contact of any kind with another individual without affirmative consent. Sexual contact can include, but is not limited to, kissing, touching the intimate parts of another, causing the other to touch one’s intimate parts, or disrobing another without permission or affirmative consent. Rape and sexual assault are crimes of violence with sex used as a weapon that can be committed by strangers, friends, relatives, dates, boyfriends, girlfriends, partners, lovers and/or spouses.

Sexual Exploitation: Sexual exploitation includes when a person takes advantage of another person for the benefit of anyone other than that person without that person’s affirmative consent. Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to, photographing or recording someone involved in sexual activity or in a state of undress without that person’s knowledge or affirmative consent; voyeurism; non-consensual streaming or transmitting of images or video of another person involved in sexual activity; or prostituting another person.

Indecent Exposure: Indecent exposure includes the intentional exposure of one’s private or intimate parts of the body or engaging in any sexual conduct in a place where the conduct involved may reasonably be expected to be viewed by and affront others.

Dating Violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the complaining party's statement and with consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.
The violence covered by this definition includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse, psychological abuse, and/or social isolation.

Domestic Violence: Violence committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim; by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common; by a person who is cohabitating with, or has cohabitated with, the victim as a spouse or intimate partner; by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred, or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred. The violence covered by this definition includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse, psychological abuse, and/or social isolation.

Stalking: Stalking includes repeated conduct involving unwanted attention, harassment, physical or verbal contact, or any other repeated conduct that would cause a reasonable person to fear for the person’s safety (or the safety of others) or suffer substantial emotional distress. This includes, but is not necessarily limited to, making unwelcome appearances at another’s residence; unwelcome contact via phone calls, text messages, or emails; and/or unwelcome contact through various internet or social media avenues (i.e. Facebook, Twitter, etc.).

Affirmative Consent: Affirmative consent is a knowing, voluntary, and mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in the sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance, in and of itself, does not demonstrate consent. Someone who is incapacitated (e.g., due to the use of alcohol or drugs; when an individual is unconscious or asleep; involuntary restraint; or because the individual suffers from any disability rendering him or her incapable of consent) cannot give consent. Prior consent to a sexual act and/or prior sexual relations between parties cannot be used by itself to assume present consent. Consent must be ongoing throughout any sexual activity and can be withdrawn at any moment. Consent is not present when it is the result of coercion, intimidation, force, or threat. Intoxication by alcohol or drugs does not excuse the person initiating the sexual act from ensuring that consent is present. The person initiating the sexual act must take all reasonable steps to ensure affirmative consent is present. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant’s sex, sexual orientation, gender identify, or gender expression.

Retaliation: Retaliation includes acting upon or attempting to seek retribution against anyone who makes a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy or anyone who cooperates in the investigation of a complaint of conduct prohibited by this policy.

The above definitions are those used by the College for its disciplinary policies. If you are interested in the specific criminal law definitions of the foregoing terms (to the extent they exist) in the state your campus is located, please contact the Title IX Coordinator. Additionally, the educational programming described below will be tailored to your specific campus so as to provide another resource available to educate you regarding the above terms.
Options and Recommendations for Assistance

Interim Measures: Interim measures, also known as accommodations, are available upon receipt of a report of sex discrimination, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking and prior to the resolution of a complaint, as appropriate. Available interim measures include, but are not limited to, restrictions on contact between an alleged victim and an alleged perpetrator (“no contact” orders); changes in academic or living situations; access to counseling, health, and mental health services at no cost; academic support; victim advocacy; and escort services. If appropriate, the Title IX Coordinator generally will offer interim measures upon receipt of a report of sex discrimination, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking.

Individuals requesting additional interim measures or experiencing difficulty obtaining interim measures that have been approved should immediately contact the Title IX Coordinator. Interim measures will be offered to a complainant regardless of whether the complainant chooses to participate in a hearing against the accused or whether the complainant chooses to report the incident to law enforcement. To the extent possible, any interim measures that are provided will be confidential.

Protective Measures: In addition to the interim measures described above, other protective measures also may be available by contacting law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office. For example, in addition to the normal criminal process, law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office may assist a student in obtaining a protection order. A protection order is a temporary order intended to help provide safety and protection to victims of certain crimes. If you have a protection order against someone and that person violates the protection order in any way, law enforcement may be able to arrest that person and charge that person with a violation of the protection order. To the extent possible, any protective measures that are provided will be confidential. If needed and to the extent necessary, HUC-JIR will provide assistance in obtaining a protection order. Please contact the Title IX Coordinator for more information about these protective measures, including for contact information for local law enforcement and/or the local prosecutor’s office.

Educational Programming: HUC-JIR provides educational programming designed to target, prevent and eliminate sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. That programming includes, but is not necessarily limited to, primary prevention programs, awareness programs, ongoing prevention and awareness campaigns, programs regarding bystander intervention, and programs regarding risk reduction.

The primary prevention programming includes programming, initiatives, and strategies informed by research or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome that are intended to stop sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking before they occur through the promotion of positive and healthy behaviors that foster healthy, mutually respectful relationships and sexuality, encourage safe bystander intervention, and seek to change behavior and social norms in healthy and safe directions.
HUC-JIR’s awareness programs are designed to help prevent sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking which would also include promoting the awareness of: Rape, acquaintance rape, other forcible and non-forcible sex offenses and procedures to follow when a sex offense occurs. The awareness programs offered by the College include audience-specific programming, initiatives, and strategies designed to increase audience knowledge and share information and resources to prevent violence, promote safety, and reduce perpetration.

The College will also offer ongoing prevention and awareness campaigns, which include programming, initiatives, and strategies that are sustained and focused on increasing understanding of topics relevant to and skill for addressing sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking.

Further, the College offers programs regarding bystander intervention. The bystander intervention programs are designed to provide safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of sexual misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene. The programming on risk reduction is designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.

These programs are typically offered at the beginning of the academic year.

Medical Treatment and Services: If you have been the victim of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, it is important to seek immediate and follow-up medical attention for several reasons: first, to assess and treat any physical injuries you may have sustained; second, to determine the risk of sexually transmitted diseases or pregnancy and take preventive measures; and third, to gather evidence that could aid criminal prosecution. Physical evidence should be collected immediately, ideally within the first 96 hours. It may be collected later than this, but the quality and quantity of the evidence may be diminished. A special exam should be conducted as soon as possible following an assault to make sure of your physical well-being and to collect evidence that may be useful in criminal proceedings. Even if you have not been physically hurt, this special exam is strongly recommended to maintain all your legal options. After the evidence is collected, it is stored in case you wish to press criminal charges. The exam is performed by a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (S.A.N.E.). A support person of your choice can also be present. There is no charge for this exam.

Awareness and Preparation: Often times your first line of defense to any type of harm is your own awareness and preparation. Be aware of your capabilities and limitations.

Your judgment and thinking will often be your best weapons. Evaluate the situation for possible avenues of escape. Your first concern should be for your safety and survival.

Use your judgment to do what is necessary to save your life. That may mean making a scene or drawing others’ attention so that the assailant leaves. It may buy you enough time to escape. It may mean fighting back. It may mean not physically resisting. If you choose not to physically resist the attack, it does not mean that you have asked to be assaulted or harmed. It means that you did what you needed to do to survive.

Remember—There is no one “right” way to respond. The person being attacked is the best judge of which options will work well for him or her in that situation.

This information, as well as other information throughout this policy, is designed to assist in reducing the risk of violence in the College community. Risk reduction information is designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.

Recommended Steps if you are the Victim of Sexual Misconduct:

(1) Get to a safe place as soon as you can. Try to preserve all physical evidence.

(2) If it can be avoided, do not wash, use the toilet, or change clothing. If you do change clothes, put all clothing you were wearing at the time of the attack in a bag separated from other materials.

(3) Get medical attention within 96 hours, if possible, to make sure you are physically well and to collect important evidence in the event you may later wish to take legal action. If the incident occurred on an HUC-JIR Campus, immediately contact the Title IX Coordinator and/or the local police.

(4) Contact and report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will assist you in notifying any other appropriate authorities.

(5) Contact someone you trust to be with you and support you.
How to Report a Complaint

You should immediately report any complaint of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking by contacting any designated campus official. The designated campus official to contact is the Title IX Coordinator, Ms. Marvette Johnson, (513) 487-3215. You may also always contact the local police department and/or dial 911 for emergencies. If you report your complaint to a designated campus official other than the Title IX Coordinator, that designated campus official shall contact the Title IX Coordinator as soon as practicable.

Although you are under no obligation to do so, if you choose to involve law enforcement, the Title IX Coordinator will be available to assist you in notifying the local police department.

Depending on when the conduct at issue took place, either the official to whom you made your complaint, or the Title IX Coordinator will take a statement from you regarding what happened. That individual will ask you to describe the accused individual(s) and may ask questions about the scene of the incident, any witnesses, and what happened before and after the incident. A referral to the local police department may be made at that time. You may have a support person with you during the interview. Unless you request confidentiality and the College is able to honor that request, an investigation into the incident will begin promptly after you report the incident. The Title IX Coordinator will also provide you with a written explanation of your rights and options under Title IX and this policy which will include, but may not be limited to, your right to make a report to local law enforcement, your right to file a complaint with HUC-JIR, your right to be free from retaliation for reporting an incident, and your right to receive assistance and resources from HUC-JIR.

In addition to reporting a complaint to an HUC-JIR official, you may also report a complaint to or seek information from federal or state agencies such as:

- The U.S. Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights (“OCR”)
- Chicago Office (for Cincinnati campus): (312) 886-8434
- San Francisco Office (for Los Angeles campus): (415) 556-4275
- New York City Office (for NY campus): (212) 637-6466
- The Ohio Civil Rights Commission (“OCRC”), Cincinnati Regional Office: (513) 852-3344
- The State of California Department of Fair Employment and Housing (“DEFE”): (800) 884-1684 (toll free for complaints and information)
- The New York City Equal Employment Practices Commission: (212) 240-7902
- The New York State Human Rights Commission on Discrimination Complaints: (212) 306-7450
Investigation

All complaints of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking will be addressed in a prompt and equitable manner, including in instances where there is a pending law enforcement proceeding. The College will not delay its own independent investigation until after a criminal investigation, if any, is complete. Additionally, because the College has a duty to provide a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students, the College may be required to conduct an investigation into an incident regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed.

Confidentiality: The College will, to the extent permitted by law, honor a request by a complainant that his or her complaint of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking will not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator or that no investigation be pursued. Such requests should be made to the Title IX Coordinator. If a student requests the College to not reveal his or her name to his or her alleged perpetrator or asks the College to not investigate his or her complaint, this may limit the College’s ability to respond fully to the incident, including pursuing disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator. In order to ensure a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students or if required to report the incident by law, the College may not be able to honor a request for confidentiality. Additionally, the College has a duty to complete certain publicly available recordkeeping including reporting and disclosing information about certain crimes pursuant to a federal law known as the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. However, duties under the Clery Act will not require the College to report or disclose a complainant’s personally identifying information. Nonetheless, even where HUC-JIR cannot guarantee confidentiality, your privacy will be maintained to the greatest extent possible. If confidentiality cannot be guaranteed, the information you provide will be relayed only as necessary for the Title IX Coordinator to investigate and/or seek a resolution.

Typical Steps in an Investigation of Sexual Misconduct, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, or Stalking:

While all investigations will vary due to the individual circumstances surrounding the particular complaint, investigations falling under this policy will typically involve the following:

1. Preliminary review of the complaint by the Title IX Coordinator to determine whether probable cause exists to believe a violation of this policy occurred.

2. Assignment of the investigation from the Title IX Coordinator to an investigative team of no fewer than two (2) persons who have been trained annually to investigate complaints.

3. Notification to the accused that an investigation has commenced.

4. Interviews of the complainant, the accused, and any witnesses. The accused shall be provided a copy of any written complaint or otherwise informed of the substance of the complainant’s allegations. Similarly, the complainant shall be provided with a copy of any written response provided by the accused or otherwise informed of the substance of the accused’s response to the allegations.
5. Gathering and examining of relevant documents or evidence (e.g., law enforcement investigatory records, student and/or personnel files, etc.). Both the complainant and respondent will be asked to provide a list of possible witnesses as well as any written or physical evidence (e.g., text messages, social media postings, emails, photos, medical records, etc.) that they wish to be considered by the investigatory team.

Preparation of an investigatory report complete with a summary of interviews, relevant documents, findings, and recommendations for further action.

Both the complainant and the accused have a right to be accompanied by one support person of his or her choosing during any meeting with an investigator. That support person should not be someone who may be considered a witness. The purpose of the support person is to provide support, not advocate or impede the investigation.

Typical Timeframe: Generally, an investigation and, if applicable, a Grievance Committee proceeding regarding conduct falling under this policy will be completed within 60 days of the complaint. However, each situation will vary depending on its individual circumstances.

During the investigation, the College will continue to provide any appropriate interim or protective measures.

Disciplinary/Adjudication Procedure

Upon completion of its report, the investigatory team will deliver the report to the Title IX Coordinator. In the event that the Title IX Coordinator finds that there are reasonable grounds to believe that a violation of this policy has occurred, the Title IX Coordinator will issue a notice of violation in writing to the accused and provide a copy of that notice to the complainant. Any notice of violation will also include a recommendation with regard to disciplinary action. In the event that the Title IX Coordinator does not find that there are reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, the Title IX Coordinator will notify both the complainant and the accused in writing of that finding.

If either party feels aggrieved by the findings, he or she may challenge those findings through the College’s applicable grievance procedure. The procedure for challenging those findings through a grievance can be found in the policy titled “Complaint/Grievance Policy – Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence.”
Possible Discipline/Sanctions

Possible discipline or sanctions for engaging in sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking may include:

- Oral warning
- Letter of warning or reprimand, and a copy placed in the student’s file
- Probation
- Forced leave of absence
- Suspension for a defined period of time
- Dismissal from the College

Alcohol/Drug Use Amnesty

When reporting instances of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, students and/or bystanders who are acting in good faith will not be subject to alcohol and/or drug use policy violations occurring at or near the time of the alleged incident. This policy is intended to encourage reporting by eliminating students’ hesitation to report sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking out fear that their own conduct may subject them to HUC-JIR disciplinary action.

“No Contact” Orders and Interim Suspensions

After receiving a report or complaint of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, the Title IX Coordinator has discretion to issue an order of “no contact” between the parties at issue and/or order that the accused be suspended on an interim basis, pending further review. Interim suspensions will be reserved for those situations where the Title IX Coordinator reasonably believes that the accused may present a continuing threat to the health and safety of the HUC-JIR community. Within five (5) days of the Title IX Coordinator issuing a “no contact” order or an interim suspension, any affected party may submit a written request (with evidence, if applicable) to the Title IX Coordinator to review the need for, and terms of, the “no contact” order or interim suspension. The other affected party or parties will be notified of the request and similarly given five (5) days to respond in writing (with evidence, if applicable) to the Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will then promptly notify all parties regarding a modification, if any, to the “no contact” order or interim suspension.
Students’ Rights

All students have the right to:

1. Make a report to local law enforcement and/or state police;

2. Have disclosures of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault treated seriously;

3. Make a decision about whether or not to disclose a crime or violation and participate in the judicial or conduct process and/or criminal justice process free from pressure by HUC-JIR;

4. Participate in a process that is fair, impartial, and provides adequate notice and a meaningful opportunity to be heard;

5. Be treated with dignity and to receive from HUC-JIR courteous, fair, and respectful health care and counseling services, where available;

6. Be free from any suggestion that the reporting individual is at fault when these crimes and violations are committed, or should have acted in a different manner to avoid such crimes or violations;

7. Describe the incident to as few institution representatives as practicable and not be required to unnecessarily repeat a description of the incident;

8. Be protected from retaliation by HUC-JIR, any student, the accused and/or the respondent, and/or their friends, family and acquaintances within the jurisdiction of HUC-JIR;

9. Access to at least one level of appeal of a determination;

10. Be accompanied by an advisor of choice who may assist and advise a reporting individual, grievant, accused, or respondent throughout the investigative and disciplinary process including during all meetings and hearings related to such process;

11. A presumption that the accused is “not responsible” for any policy violation until a finding of responsibility is made pursuant to HUC-JIR policies and procedures; and

12. Exercise civil rights and practice of religion without interference by the investigative, criminal justice, or judicial or conduct process of HUC-JIR.
Campus Climate Assessments

HUC-JIR will conduct biennial anonymous campus climate assessments to ascertain general awareness and knowledge of the provisions of its sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence policy, including, but not limited to, the role of the institution’s Title IX Coordinator or similar representative, how and where to report sexual misconduct and/or interpersonal violence, the definition of affirmative consent, and utilization of the institution’s policies and procedures addressing sexual misconduct and/or interpersonal violence. HUC-JIR will publish the results of such assessments on its website.

Complaint/Grievance Procedure – Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence

Introduction:

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination—which includes sexual misconduct—in educational programs and activities. All public and private schools, school districts, colleges and universities receiving federal funds must comply with Title IX. It is the policy of this College to prohibit all forms of sex discrimination. Additionally, it is the policy of this College to prohibit all instances of domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking.

When an allegation of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking is brought to the College’s attention, a prompt investigation will be performed. Please see the College’s Sexual Misconduct policy for more detailed information related to filing a complaint and a possible resulting investigation. Upon conclusion of the investigation, a report will be prepared and submitted to the Title IX Coordinator. In the event that the Title IX Coordinator has reasonable grounds to believe that a violation of this policy has occurred, the Title IX Coordinator will issue a written notice of violation to the accused and provide a copy of that notice to the complainant. Any notice of violation will also include a recommendation regarding disciplinary measures. In the event that the Title IX Coordinator does not have reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, the Title IX Coordinator will notify both the complainant and the accused student in writing of that finding.

If either party feels aggrieved by the findings, he or she may challenge those findings through this grievance procedure.

If a notice of violation has been issued, and the accused fails to challenge the notice of violation by submitting a written grievance response within the requisite time period, the notice of violation will be submitted to the Provost for a final decision regarding discipline.
Grievance and Adjudication Procedure:

Step 1: All grievances shall be written and submitted to the Title IX Coordinator within ten (10) days of the date the grievant receives the above-described notice from the Title IX Coordinator. All written grievances shall include the following: (1) the name, addresses, and phone number of the grievant; (2) a detailed description of the circumstances surrounding the grievance; and (3) the specific relief the grievance is requesting through the grievance procedure. The Title IX Coordinator will promptly provide a copy of the grievance to the other involved individual(s), hereafter referred to as the respondent(s). The respondent may submit a written response to the grievance to the Title IX Coordinator within 10 days of receipt of the grievance.

If the grievant or respondent believes that the Title IX Coordinator has a conflict of interest or bias, the grievant or respondent shall identify his or her reasons for that belief in writing and submit that writing within 3 business days of the filing of the grievance. If it is determined that the Title IX Coordinator has a conflict of interest or bias, the Title IX Coordinator will be recused from the grievance process and a non-involved non-involved member of the senior administration will perform all duties assigned to the Title IX Coordinator.

Step 2: After receipt of the grievance, the Title IX Coordinator will contact the grievant and the respondent within five (5) business days to schedule separate pre-hearing meetings. Pre-hearing meetings are not mandatory. These pre-hearing meetings are designed to allow the grievant and/or the respondent to ask questions regarding the grievance and adjudication procedure as well as review any investigatory report. Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted to be accompanied by an advisor during the pre-hearing meeting. The advisor should not be someone who may be considered a witness to the incident at issue.

Step 3: After the pre-hearing meetings (or after the parties decline the pre-hearing meetings), the Title IX Coordinator will submit the grievance and the respondent’s response, if any, to a Grievance Committee. The Grievance Committee will consist of three (3) College faculty members or administrators randomly chosen from a defined pool. If either party is a faculty member or administrator, no faculty member or administrator from that party’s same department will be chosen to be on the Grievance Committee. Each of the faculty members in the defined pool receives annual training on issues related to sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking and on the College’s grievance and adjudication process. The grievant and the respondent will be promptly notified of the Grievance Committee’s composition.

If either party believes that a member of the Grievance Committee has a conflict of interest or bias, that party shall identify his or her reasons for that belief in writing and submit that to the Title IX Coordinator within three (3) business days of notification of the Grievance Committee’s composition. If the Title IX Coordinator determines that a member(s) of the Grievance Committee has a conflict of interest or bias, that member(s) of the Grievance Committee will be replaced by a different faculty member(s) from the defined pool. That process will continue with the newly identified member(s) until the Grievance Committee is finalized.
Step 4: After the Grievance Committee is finalized, the Title IX Coordinator will notify the grievant and the respondent of the date, time, and location of the grievance hearing. The parties will receive at least ten (10) days’ notice of the hearing. Prior to the Grievance Committee hearing, the Grievance Committee will be provided a copy of any investigatory report. The parties will also be provided a copy of the investigatory report, but without copies of sensitive documents such as medical records. Note that the parties have an opportunity to review the full investigatory report in the pre-hearing meeting.

Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted to present relevant witnesses and evidence at the hearing. Each party must identify in writing to the Title IX Coordinator the witnesses and/or evidence he or she intends to present at the hearing no later than seven (7) days prior to the hearing. The College prefers the use of live witnesses, but if a witness is unavailable to participate in a live proceeding, a signed, written statement may be submitted for the witness. If a signed, written statement is submitted for a witness, it must be provided to the Title IX Coordinator no later than seven (7) days prior to the hearing.

The Title IX Coordinator will promptly provide each party with the other party’s list of identified witnesses, evidence, and/or signed, written statement(s).

Step 5: Grievance hearings are closed to the public. Both the grievant and the respondent are permitted to have an advisor present. However, that advisor is not permitted to participate as a vocal advocate during the hearing. The investigators shall be present at the Grievance Committee Hearing.

At the hearing, each party will be permitted to give an opening statement. Each party will then be permitted to present evidence and/or witnesses. A party will be permitted to ask questions of the other party and/or the other party’s witnesses, but the questions must be first submitted to the Grievance Committee. The Grievance Committee will then ask the questions on the party’s behalf. The Grievance Committee retains discretion to refrain from asking questions it believes are irrelevant or unnecessary and/or exclude presentation of any witnesses or evidence. For example, information about a party’s prior sexual history with persons other than the other party will typically be excluded. Each party will also be permitted to make a closing statement.

The College will accommodate requests from either the grievant or the respondent to not be present in the same room during the grievance hearing.

Official minutes of the hearing will be kept. The official minutes will be made available to either party.

Step 6: Within fourteen (14) days of the conclusion of the grievance hearing, the Grievance Committee will issue a written decision. The Grievance Committee will use a preponderance of the evidence (i.e., “more likely than not”) standard to determine whether or not an alleged violation occurred. The Grievance Committee will also issue a recommendation on the discipline, if applicable. If the Grievance Committee is not unanimous in its findings or recommended discipline, its written decision shall record that fact.
The Title IX Coordinator will promptly provide written notice to both the grievant and the respondent of the Grievance Committee’s decision. The Title IX Coordinator will also notify the parties of their right to appeal the decision and, if applicable, the sanctions or disciplinary measures to be imposed.

Step 7: After the Title IX Coordinator notifies the parties of the Grievance Committee’s decision, either party will have ten (10) days to submit a written appeal of the Grievance Committee’s decision to the Provost. The possible bases for appeal include: (1) a procedural error that has significantly impacted the outcome of the hearing; (2) the introduction of previously unavailable relevant evidence which would have significantly impacted the outcome of the hearing; or (3) where a sanction is substantially disproportionate to the Grievance Committee’s findings.

If either party chooses to appeal, the other party will have ten (10) days to submit a written opposition to the appeal to the Provost. Upon receipt of the written opposition or the passing of the timeframe allowed to submit a written opposition, the Provost will promptly issue a written decision affirming the Grievance Committee’s decision; reversing the Grievance Committee’s decision; or remanding the grievance back to the Grievance Committee to consider additional evidence or remedy a procedural error. If the Provost remands the Grievance Committee’s decision, the Provost may order that a new Grievance Committee hear the matter. The Provost’s decision will be issued in writing to both parties.

A decision will be considered final if no party submits a timely appeal of a Grievance Committee’s decision or if the Provost affirms or reverses the Grievance Committee’s decision. Any sanctions or discipline imposed will be stayed until the resolution of the appeal process.

All of the time frames above may be extended by a showing of good cause. All parties involved will be promptly notified if a time extension has been granted.

A student is not required to file a grievance with the College and, if applicable, may file a complaint with federal or state agencies such as:

- The U.S. Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights (“OCR”)
  - Chicago Office (for Cincinnati campus): (312) 886-8434
  - San Francisco Office (for Los Angeles campus): (415) 556-4275
  - New York City Office (for NY campus): (212) 637-6466
- The Ohio Civil Rights Commission (“OCRC”), Cincinnati Regional Office: (513) 852-3344
- The State of California Department of Fair Employment and Housing (“DEFE”): (800) 884-1684 (toll free for complaints and information)
- The New York City Equal Employment Practices Commission: (212) 240-7902
The New York State Human Rights Commission on Discrimination Complaints: (212) 306-7450

In the event that the College finds that any student has been a victim of discrimination or harassment relating to his or her sex, any form of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, the College will take immediate measures to remediate and/or correct the conduct or circumstances. Any individual who is subjected to such conduct will be notified of the College’s measures to remediate and/or correct such conduct.

The College prohibits retaliation against anyone who files a grievance under this section or otherwise complains that he or she has been a victim of discrimination or harassment relating to his or her sex, any form of sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. This prohibition of retaliation similarly extends to anyone who has testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing relating to a grievance or complaint under this section.

All documents, witness statements, evidence, and written submissions associated with a grievance under this section will be confidentially maintained, to the extent permitted by law, in the student’s disciplinary record. Any request by a student to review the documents, witness statements, evidence, and written submissions associated with his or her grievance under this policy should be submitted to the Title IX Coordinator.

Drug Free School/Workplace Policy

The College-Institute is committed to maintaining a drug-free environment in accordance with the requirements of the federal Drug-Free Workplace Act and the amended Drug-Free Schools and Communities legislation. The unlawful manufacture, possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and unauthorized alcohol by all students and employees on College-Institute property or at any College-Institute-sponsored activity, function, or event are strictly prohibited irrespective of whether such activities occur before, during, or after the College-Institute’s regular business hours. This standard also applies to College-Institute-sponsored social activities and professional meetings attended by employees or students. The College-Institute, however, does recognize that the conditions of alcohol and drug dependency may be considered disabilities under state or federal law. It is the policy of the College-Institute not to discriminate on the basis of such recognized disabilities.
Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion

Learning Disability/Disorder Verification Form

(To be completed by the Qualified Diagnosing Evaluator)

Hebrew Union College–Jewish Institute of Religion is respectful of students' rights and responsibilities in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), as amended by the ADA Amendment Act of 2008, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Any qualified student with a disability may request an accommodation to ensure that the academic program does not discriminate against or have the effect of discriminating against that student. The disability/disorder must not prohibit the student from meeting the course outcomes. To determine eligibility for academic accommodations the College requires current and relevant documentation from a qualified professional with expertise in the area of the diagnosed disability/disorder that establishes a disability, its impact on the student, and confirms the need for each accommodation requested. The documentation must be sufficient to apprise the College that the student currently has a disability that excludes the student from participation in, denies the student the benefits of, or otherwise subjects the student to discrimination in any program or activity.
