As a part of an exhibit of historic Cincinnati photos, the Museum + Center for History and the Union College Jewish Institute of Religion will be hosting a new exhibit called “The West End: a neighborhood of opportunity.” The exhibit will feature hundreds of historical photos and artifacts that depict the West End’s transformation from a impoverished community to one of opportunity. The exhibit is open to the public from November 15 to November 28.

In an effort to pass new marijuana possession laws in Cincinnati, the city council has introduced a bill that would decriminalize marijuana possession. The bill proposes a $250 fine, an arrest, and up to 30 days in jail for those caught with marijuana for personal use. The bill has been met with mixed reactions from residents, with some arguing that it will help thousands of citizens who have paid their debt to society, while others believe it will fuel further drug use and crime.

Ethics violation against Smithherer by Mahogany’s attorney dismissed

A committee of the Cincinnati City Council considered and dismissed an ethics violation against Smithherer by Mahogany’s attorney. The ethics violation was filed by a group of neighborhood residents who claimed that Smithherer was acting improperly while serving as the city’s zoning commissioner. The committee determined that there was no evidence of wrongdoing on Smithherer’s part.

City Council unanimously passing new marijuana

expulsion law

The Cincinnati City Council unanimously passed a new marijuana expulsion law that will help thousands of citizens who have paid their debt to society. The new law will decriminalize marijuana possession and result in up to a $1000 fine, an arrest, and up to 6 months in jail for those caught with marijuana for personal use. The new law was met with mixed reactions from residents, with some arguing that it will help thousands of citizens who have paid their debt to society, while others believe it will fuel further drug use and crime.

Conquering Unemployment

The Women’s Club is hosting a meeting on November 15 for a forum called “Conquering Unemployment.” The forum will feature several employers and experts who will share their experiences and strategies for overcoming unemployment. The focus will be on helping those who are currently unemployed find work and transition into new careers.

5 things Ohioans need to know to get covered under Obamacare

As of November 15, it will be possible to apply for coverage under the Affordable Care Act. Here are five things Ohioans need to know to get covered under Obamacare:

1. The enrollment process can be difficult. If you fall into that category, don’t give up on the idea of getting health insurance — even if you don’t think you’re eligible.

2. If you don’t have health insurance or need to renew your plan, November 15 is your chance to find a plan you can afford and that gives you the peace of mind that comes with knowing you’re protected.

3. So you can learn more about the Affordable Care Act and what’s available to you, the Get Covered Ohio website can help you find an insurance plan that fits your needs and budget.

4. If you’re eligible, you can get free help from groups like消ing these other programs will be available to help you pay for your plan. This is called the “affordability tax credit.”

5. There are options for people who want to stay healthy — including free preventive care. And no plan can deny you coverage for a pre-existing condition. The Affordable Care Act prevents insurance plans from excluding you from coverage if you have a pre-existing condition. If you’ve been turned down for coverage in the past, you may be able to get coverage now.

5 things Ohioans need to know about the Affordable Care Act

As of November 15, it will be possible to apply for coverage under the Affordable Care Act. Here are five things Ohioans need to know about the Affordable Care Act:

1. The enrollment process can be difficult. If you fall into that category, don’t give up on the idea of getting health insurance — even if you don’t think you’re eligible.

2. If you don’t have health insurance or need to renew your plan, November 15 is your chance to find a plan you can afford and that gives you the peace of mind that comes with knowing you’re protected.

3. So you can learn more about the Affordable Care Act and what’s available to you, the Get Covered Ohio website can help you find an insurance plan that fits your needs and budget.

4. If you’re eligible, you can get free help from groups like消ing these other programs will be available to help you pay for your plan. This is called the “affordability tax credit.”

5. There are options for people who want to stay healthy — including free preventive care. And no plan can deny you coverage for a pre-existing condition. The Affordable Care Act prevents insurance plans from excluding you from coverage if you have a pre-existing condition. If you’ve been turned down for coverage in the past, you may be able to get coverage now.

5 things Ohioans need to know about the Affordable Care Act

As of November 15, it will be possible to apply for coverage under the Affordable Care Act. Here are five things Ohioans need to know about the Affordable Care Act:

1. The enrollment process can be difficult. If you fall into that category, don’t give up on the idea of getting health insurance — even if you don’t think you’re eligible.

2. If you don’t have health insurance or need to renew your plan, November 15 is your chance to find a plan you can afford and that gives you the peace of mind that comes with knowing you’re protected.

3. So you can learn more about the Affordable Care Act and what’s available to you, the Get Covered Ohio website can help you find an insurance plan that fits your needs and budget.

4. If you’re eligible, you can get free help from groups like消ing these other programs will be available to help you pay for your plan. This is called the “affordability tax credit.”

5. There are options for people who want to stay healthy — including free preventive care. And no plan can deny you coverage for a pre-existing condition. The Affordable Care Act prevents insurance plans from excluding you from coverage if you have a pre-existing condition. If you’ve been turned down for coverage in the past, you may be able to get coverage now.