not; He stirreth the sleeping, waketh the fainting, causeth the dumb to speak, releaseth the captives, supporteth the declining and erecteth those who are bent. To Thee alone we render thanksgiving; we praise Thee, extol and adore Thee, and render praise to the name of Thy holiness. "Praise my soul, my God, and all my inmost sentiments, the name of His holiness."

Praise, in solemn benedictions, be rendered unto Thee, God, Lord, great King; Lord of our thanksgivings, Ruler of the wonderful universe, who delightest in the praising strains of music, O King, Lord, Eternal life.

H. נְבַרְךָ—The great name of God be exalted and sanctified in the world which He created, according to His will. May His kingdom be established in your lifetime, and in the days and lifetime of all the house of Israel, even speedily, in a short time. Amen.

c. Amen. His great name be glorified, for ever and ever.

h. Render praise and benediction, glory and exaltation, ascribe eminence and excellency, sing psalms and hymns to His hallowed name. Render praise to Him who is exalted high above all benedictions and hymns, which are uttered in the world.

c. Amen.
MORNING SERVICE.

ii. O worship ye our God, who is ever adored.

iii. We worship God, who is adored for evermore.

iv. Praise be rendered unto Thee, O God, our Lord, universal king, former of light, creator of darkness, maker of peace and creator of all:

For Sabbath.

The universe rendereth thanks unto Thee, the universe uttereth Thy praise, nature proclaimeth, "None is as holy as God!". The universe exalteth Thee, Selah, Creator of Nature, Almighty, who openeth daily the gates of the eastern portal, causeth the morning dawn to break through the azure windows, the sun to come forth from his place, and the moon from her choice residence, to illuminate the universe and its inhabitants, whom He created in the abundance of mercy. So He causeth in mercy the illumination of the earth

For Weekday.

He, who in benignity illuminateth the earth and enlighteneth those who sojourn thereon, reneweth daily in His infinite goodness, the work of creation. Now various are Thy works, O God, Thou hast made them all with infinite wisdom, the whole fullness of the earth is Thy possession. O King, alone exalted from henceforth, praised, glorified and extolled from creation's beginning, O eternal Lord, be benign unto and its inhabitants, and renovateth daily and perpetually, in His goodness, the work of creation. He is thus praised, the King, alone and forever, exalted above all, praised, adored and extolled from time immemorial. Lord of the universe in the abundance of Thy mercy, have mercy also on us, Ruler of our destiny. Shield of our salvation, Fortress of our existence. None is eminent like Thee, God our Lord, in this world; and beside Thee, our King, we have none in life eternal.

 Almighty Ruler of all works, praised and adored art Thou, by the mouth of every rational being. His greatness and goodness fill the world, wisdom and intellect radiate around Him. He, the Self Sublime, is exalted above the holy spheres, and the lustre of His glory illuminates creation's mechanism. Purity and rectitude are before His throne, grace and mercy go before His glory. The luminaries which our Lord created are good. He formed them with knowledge, intellect and wisdom. He gifted them with strength and power, to rule in the midst of the world. They us in the magnitude of Thy benignity; for Thou art the Ruler of our destiny, the Rock of our protection, the Shield of our salvation, the Protector of our existence. The Lord is praised, and great in knowledge; He prepared and finished the luster of the sun; He, in glory to His name, hath formed perfectly the luminaries, are full of motion and radiate brightness: beanteous is their motion in the universe. They rejoice in going forth, are glad on returning, and perform with fear and veneration, the will of their Maker. They proclaim the majesty and glory of His name, and lustré and joyous song to the memorial of His Kingdom. He bid the sun—and he glared in light. He looked—and the figure of the moon was finished.—Heaven's host sound His praise, Orbs, Orbits and Sacred Spheres proclaim His majesty and greatness.

h. Thy name, God our Lord, is sanctified of itself, and Thy memorial, our King, is glorified in heaven above and on earth beneath.

Praised art Thou, God our Lord, for the excellency
of Thy handiwork, and adored for the orbs of light which Thou hast made. Selah.

Praised be our Rock, our King and our Redemer, the Creator of all saints; Thy name, our King, and set them around His palace; the revolutions of His holy spheres, the sublime witnesses of Providence, declare continually the glory of the Lord and His holliness.

Praised art Thou, God our Lord, for the excellency
of Thy handiwork, and adored for the orbs of light
which Thou hast made. Selah.
be extolled for ever. He created the ministers who are His ministers, all of whom stand at the zenith of the universe, and listen together with veneration to the sounding words of the Lord of life, and the King of the universe. They are all beloved, all purified, almighty, and all of them perform the will of their Maker, with fear and reverence. All of them utter His praise with holiness and purity, with song and spherical music. And they praise, adore, glorify, extol, sanctify and proclaim the regal power of:

The name of the Lord, the great, omnipotent and venerable. He is the Most-Holy.

And all of them prompt each other to the service of Heaven's majesty, and give permission to one another to proclaim the sanctity of their Creator, with delightful inspiration, pure lips, and pleasant songs of holiness.—All of them say in one grand chorus—

Holy, holy, holy is God Zebaoth, the whole earth is full of His glory.

Praised be the glory of God from His place.

Sing pleasant songs in praise of the Lord, let hymns resound and benedictions be uttered to the King, the ever living immutable Lord; for He alone is omnipotent in His works, the Maker of all new things, the Lord of battles, the Arm of Justice, the Fountain of sal-
