This Academic Handbook will be updated for 2020-2021 during the summer
From the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost

Dear Members of the Year-In-Israel Class of 5779-80/2019-20,

I welcome you to the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion with words of blessing and advice:

ברוך אתה בבאך וברוך אתה בצאתך
(Deut. 28:6)
Blessed may you be in your comings and your goings to and from your home to and from the classroom
to and from this miraculous, beguiling land.

Blessed may you be in your becoming in your striving in your going forth to serve.

טח את ידך ופתח
(Ps. 27:14)
Let your heart be strong and resilient as you question
as you struggle
as you listen and learn.

With curiosity and gratitude experience the wonder of Hebrew letters becoming words of ancient texts yielding modern meaning of song and silence ascending to the heavens.

פתיחת ידה ופתח תפתח
(Deut. 15:8)
Open your hands
to give and receive with love,
to hold and help with compassion,
to touch the past
and to be present
as this experience unfolds,
day after day,
this year in Jerusalem.

Sincerely,
Rabbi Dr. Andrea L. Weiss

Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion
From the Director of the Year-in-Israel Program

Dear Students,

Congratulations on being accepted to the Hebrew Union College - Jewish Institute of Religion. Welcome to the Year-in-Israel program and your first year of studies! My hope is that the year will be one of personal, spiritual and intellectual growth; a year in which you develop the multiple skills necessary to begin your journey as educators, rabbis and cantors. Our purpose is to facilitate this growth and we shall do our very best to provide the necessary conditions to prepare you for your future leadership roles in the Jewish community.

HUC-JIR maintains that you, the future professional leadership of the Reform Movement, cannot assume your responsibilities without acquiring a suitable level of knowledge and understanding of the Hebrew language. Towards that end, the faculty and staff hope to foster an immersive, supportive environment for you to acquire and refine your Hebrew skills during our year together. We also feel strongly that you, as future leaders of the Jewish people, must begin to process and incorporate Israel – the people, land and state – into your own personal vision for the Jewish community. Our hope is that being in Israel for the year, experiencing the rhythm of the Hebrew calendar and the privileges and responsibilities of living in a Jewish state will help you to define the role that Israel will play in your future careers.

Take advantage of being here. Embrace each and every opportunity for learning, both inside and outside the classroom. Your year here will offer a wealth of experience, not only in our city of Jerusalem, but beyond. The faculty and program staff will facilitate many learning opportunities, but, of course, many of the most valuable experiences will be dependent upon you and your own commitment to seeking them out. Students often struggle to find a balance between their studies and other outside activities, but, although your classes and school work will continue stateside, your year living here in Israel will likely be a unique and rare opportunity.

We wish you every success for the year ahead and pledge our support in making this a meaningful, significant and reflective year.

Dr. David Mendelsson,
Director, Year-in-Israel Program

Year-in-Israel Program Statement of Purpose

The Jerusalem Campus of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion represents the institution's affirmation of the centrality of the State of Israel in the life of the Jewish People. Recognizing the importance of strong linkage between the two great centers of Jewish life, Israel and North America, HUC-JIR established the Year-in-Israel program as the introduction to the academic and professional studies of its rabbinical, education and cantorial students.

This program focuses upon the study of Hebrew language in its many genres, the study of the history and contemporary realities of Israel, and a close look through Jewish texts and experience of living in Jewish time. In addition, opportunities are provided for professional and personal growth. It is founded on the following assumptions:

1) Knowledge of modern Hebrew enhances the ability of professional leaders of Diaspora Jewish communities to maintain significant ties between their institutions and communities and the land of Israel. It provides insight into Israeli society and fosters greater understanding among all the Jewish People.

2) Extensive reading in the Hebrew language of the classical texts of Judaism is the prerequisite to serious study of those texts and the ability to make them accessible to the communities that students will eventually serve.

3) Academic inquiry and on-site exploration of current realities in the State of Israel are necessary for development of both a personal and professional ideology regarding the place of Israel in the life of the Jewish People. A thoughtful and reflective vision is an essential component of professional Jewish leadership.

4) Israel presents students with unique opportunities to refine their personal theological understanding and religious sensitivities on a number of levels. Within the Jewish state, the student can experience the fullness of expression of Shabbat and other festivals because of the synthesis of the national and religious calendars. The student can experience and come to appreciate the plurality of Jewish religious expression across cultural and ideological lines. Finally, the student can observe the relationship of three religions, Judaism, Christianity and Islam, as they each affirm their unique ties to the land of Israel. As students confront the challenges of these experiences they are urged to define their own religious identity and expression.

5) The experience of the year in Israel enables the student to develop a deeper understanding of, and stronger commitment to, the concept of Klal Yisrael, as absorption of immigrants, vulnerability to attack, the presence of social and educational problems, and the interdependence of all Jewish communities become compelling life experiences. As future Jewish leaders, students will be called upon to mobilize and guide their communities in responding to the needs of the Jewish People.

6) The inclusion of three student bodies, who will in the future share the responsibility for synagogue and communal leadership, in an intensive and collective experience at the start of their studies has important implications for the future. During this formative first year, relationships, grounded in the values of collegiality and collaboration, are developed. The foundation for cooperative professional relationships is established during the shared experience of the Year-in-Israel.

The program is an important foundation stone in the preparation of future rabbis, educators and cantors. Moreover, it is an elevating experience on its own terms. Through the Year-in-Israel program, students will be challenged to begin to synthesize the academic, personal and religious dimensions of their chosen profession and to develop their personal vision. Of course, student initiative is indispensable for accomplishing all of these goals.
PROGRAM OF STUDIES

NOTE: The Education Program differs in that it only requires the course on the History of Zionism or From zionist Idea to Israeli state in the /summer or fall term. Occasional meetings will take place during the fall and spring semesters.

Rabbinical Students who are also enrolled in the Education programme must attend the occasional meetings that will take place on Monday afternoons. (Details to follow).

OTHER REQUIREMENTS
Tefillah
ówki Inquiry groups
I-Involve project
Field Study Trips - טיולים
Israeli Culture evenings

Inquiry Groups
Wednesdays, once a month

Approximately six times throughout the year, students will meet in small groups with faculty facilitators to discuss issues related to the development of their leadership vision. Conversations will focus on essential questions relating to core areas of Jewish life including Torah, God, Israel, ritual, and prayer. Each session will include an assignment to be submitted to the faculty facilitator in advance. Attendance and participation is a required part of the Year-in-Israel Program.

Colloquium: - Israel Engagement and Jewish Peoplehood - April 26th and 27th

The Colloquium provides an opportunity for students to explore more intensely essential questions relating to issues of Israel and Jewish Peoplehood. We are hopeful that as in previous years, students from the Jewish Theological Seminary will participate in the Colloquium.
The Cantorial Program is divided into Core Courses and Professional Courses.

Course Descriptions

I. CORE COURSES

In order to accommodate the diverse backgrounds of incoming students, Modern Hebrew, Liturgy Classical Grammar and Rabbinic Literature are taught in sections based primarily on Hebrew proficiency.

Every effort will be made to insure that each student studies at an appropriate level for each discipline. The assignment of Hebrew classes is not final and, upon the request of a student, the recommendation of the instructor, and the approval of the Director, the student may shift up or down during the term. It is to the advantage of the student to make such a change as early as possible, after the first week of studies. Switches after the middle of the term are not permitted.

Placement in a beginning Hebrew level is not a reflection of the student's academic potential. It is merely an indication of a student's language level at a particular point in time.

Modern Hebrew - Fall and Spring terms
Kita Aleph, Bet, Gimel 5 credits per term:
Instructors: Dr. Zohara Pardess-Feinstein, Sharon Bar Shaul, Tali Debbi, Tammy Khayat-Shapira and Rivki Rosner.

The Modern Hebrew course provides intensive instruction in: Functional Grammar, Reading Comprehension (Hebrew newspaper and non fictional texts), Conversation and Composition. Through this integrated course, the student acquires both passive and active skills in the use of Modern Hebrew. Oral and written comprehension and expression are stressed with a special emphasis on the oral aspect. The course is designed to equip the entering student with the basic tools required for further study of Modern Hebrew, as well as the ability to communicate freely with Israelis in order better to understand and connect with Israel and Israelis.

Course Title: Living in Jewish Time - Summer term
0.5 credit
Rabbi Josh Herman

Over the years, many students have reported that one of the most powerful experiences of their first year at HUC-JIR is "living in Jewish time." Being removed from one culture's experience of time, and experiencing a new culture's experience, can be both unnerving and exhilarating. The purpose of this course is to prepare students for this experience intellectually and spiritually, to deepen our understanding of the rhythms of Jewish time, to contemplate our own temporal setting, and to help students make the most of their limited time here in Israel. Our study and awareness of time might remind us that time is perhaps our most precious resource. We do not know how much time we have on this earth, but we know that it is limited and goes quickly, as the Psalmist writes "A person is like a breath; one's days are like a passing shadow" (Psalm 144:4).

Cantillation of the Torah (Required for all students) - Summer term
0.5 credit
Instructor: Cantor Tamar Havilio

The course is designed to instruct students in chanting Torah according to the traditional signs of the tea’šim.
Jewish Thought (taught in Hebrew to כיתה ג only) - Fall term
1 credit

Instructor: Rabbi Dr. Yehoyada Amir

Jewish Thought is the path through which Jewish intellectuals – sages, philosophers, mystics, Bible commentators – throughout the ages have strived to understand their being as humans, as Jews, as religious creatures. Jewish thinkers were heavily influenced by various prevailing philosophies. They conducted close, though often critical dialogue with the surrounding cultures. At the same time they were anchored in the unique Biblical culture and religiosity, and later that of the Oral Torah. Some genres of Jewish Thought are mostly Hebrew and Aramaic (Midrash, Kabbalah, Biblical interpretation). In contrast, Jewish philosophy was mostly written in the non-Jewish prevailing cultural-philosophical languages. Nevertheless, some works are in Hebrew, others are most known and influential in Hebrew translation.

Our reading will focus on philosophies of mediaeval epoch (Maimonides) and modern area (Geiger, Krochmal, Israeli thinkers). We will take advantage of our access to complex Hebrew text in order to follow their religious and intellectual directions.

Classical Hebrew Grammar - Fall and Spring terms
1 credit fall term and 1 credit spring term

Instructor: Sima Haruv, Eyal Nahum
This course provides an introduction to the fundamentals of Biblical Hebrew grammar and vocalization. The goals of the course are to equip the beginning student, as rapidly as possible, with the grammatical tools necessary for the study of Biblical narrative texts and to build a foundation for the continued study of the Hebrew language.

Parashat HaShavua - Fall and Spring terms
1 credit fall and 1 credit spring term: Instructor: Rabbi Dr. Michael Marmur

The public reading of a weekly portion of the Pentateuch has been a feature of Jewish religious life for two millennia. Over time, the rhythm of reading and re-reading, studying and interpreting, considering the ancient text and linking it to contemporary context, has become one of the most influential dimensions of Judaism, a core cycle according to which Jewish time is measured and experienced. In this course, students will be invited to engage in close reading of the Pentateuch; to learn something of the interpretive methods of ancient, medieval and modern Biblical exegesis; to see how the core stories of the Hebrew Bible inform and resonate with much in contemporary culture, ethics and society; and to engage in their own creative interpretations of the ancient text. Along the way, some key aspects of Jewish literacy – using a concordance, a modern library, databases and more – will also be featured.

Liturgy Lecture and Shiur - Fall and Spring term
2 credits

Instructors: Rabbis Dalia Marx, Alona Lisitsa, Josh Herman and Myra Hovav

What is Jewish prayer? How did the traditional siddurim develop historically, sociologically, and theologically? What are the central difficulties with prayer in modernity and post-modernity? What are the principles of change in liberal liturgy? These questions will animate our inquiry. The course includes a weekly lecture followed by small group sessions designed to provide an opportunity to discuss assigned readings, work on translation skills, and process issues raised in the lecture.
Rabbinic Texts - Fall and Spring terms (Rabbinical and Education students only)

1.0 credits
Instructors: Rabbi Dr. David Levine and Dr. Zohara Pardess-Feinstein

This will be a reading course of texts in rabbinic Hebrew from the different literary compilations of classic rabbinic literature. Class will be geared toward developing reading comprehension, addressing language and grammar. Discussions will critically analyze different concepts presented in the texts studied. Some issues of wider import will be introduced, such as aspects of the literary development of talmudic literature and the evolution of rabbinic ritual and legal norms.

The 'beit midrash' format of the session will combine, 'hevruta' style study, in-class reading and discussion, presentations and teacher-accompanied preparation. All this will take place in a weekly double-session in the library, its classrooms and study areas.

Second Temple through Late Antiquity History

Spring term Intensive - Education and Rabbinic students
1.5 credit
Instructor: Rabbi Dr. David Levine
Sunday 5th January - Friday 10th January

During the Second Temple period the Jewish people developed from a small ethnic group in a land-locked district during the Persian and early Hellenistic periods, to a high-profiled minority in the early Roman Empire. A wide variety of cultural and religious expression is accompanied by different postures in the face of political challenges.

After the abortive anti-Roman revolts, Jewish society and culture resiliently regrouped. The rabbis - who we associate with Talmudic Judaism - suggested a new approach to meet the challenges of the period. However, the rabbis were only one component of a wider, varied picture of cultural expression in Jewish Late Antiquity.

This week-long intensive course will examine several of the main concepts and developments of these centuries of Jewish history. Each day will have an in-class component and a field trip. Central processes, events, and people will be discussed in class; then a site visit will provide illustration and further context for analyzing the events.

Introduction to Biblical History: Geography, Chronology and Selected Polemics

Spring Intensive – All students
1.5 credits
Instructors: Dr. Yifat Thareani
Tuesday 22nd October - Monday 28th October (Inclusive)

This course is a series of lectures/discussions and field trips that will survey the history, geography and archaeology of the Biblical Period. The goal of the course is to familiarize the student with the chronological flow of biblical history, with the geography of ancient (and modern) Israel and to place biblical historiography in its cultural and political contexts. The course helps to provide a context for the text work students will engage in throughout their HUC experience and beyond.
Modern Jewish History and Thought - Fall and Spring terms

Instructors: Dr. David Mendelsson, Jeremy Leigh,

NOTE: These courses are required for all students. Cantorial and Rab/Ed students must take the course in the summer whilst other students can choose to take the course in either the Fall or the Spring term. In the Spring term, these courses are required for Rabbinical students and may be audited by Cantorial and Education students.

A History of the Zionist Movement to 1948    Either Summer or Fall term
1 credit
Instructors: Jeremy Leigh and Dr. David Mendelsson

Course themes include aliyah, nation building, internal conflicts between religious and secular and the triangular conflict between Jews, Arabs and the British.

From Zionist Idea to Israeli State, 1882-1948    Fall term
1 credit
Instructor: Jeremy Leigh

This course is for students who have studied a University course in Modern European Jewish history. It is divided into two sections; the first deals with key issues that confronted the Zionist movement such as its relations with the Arabs, its attempt to formulate a secular Jewish identity and its encounter with Jewish opponents of Zionism. The second section focuses on political developments in Palestine from 1882 – 1948 particularly the triangular conflict between Zionists, British and the Arabs.

The Jew in the Contemporary World    Spring term
1 credit
Instructor: Jeremy Leigh

This course is concerned with developments and changes within world Jewry in the period since the Holocaust and the establishment of the State of Israel. Offering a multi-disciplinary approach, the course will explore cultural, intellectual, political and social changes amongst world Jewish communities. We begin by explaining and interpreting the impact of these two dramatic events on the lives of Jewish communities and Jewish identity. The course will then explore key topics such as: demographic changes with particular emphasis on the emigration of Jews from Arab speaking countries; Jewish life in the Soviet Union; cultural and artistic movements within world Jewry; Israel – Diaspora relations; changes in Jewish – Christian relations; Chabad and the rise of neo Jewish Messianism; Jewish political activity in the United States with particular emphasis on the campaigns for Soviet Jewry and Israel. Finally, the course will offer a comparative analysis of Jewish life in selected Jewish communities: France; UK; Argentina; Hungary; South Africa; Australia; FSU.

Assessment- (mid-term equivalent) each student will be required to make a class presentation on one Jewish community they have researched (not US or Israel); write a research paper on an agreed topic.
Readings in Modern Jewish Thought, American and More

Spring term

1 credit
Instructor: Rabbi Dr. Michel Marmur

This course will be based on a new anthology of readings in American Jewish Thought which is to be published in 2020, edited by David Ellenson and Michael Marmur. In this course we will choose from that book’s seven chapters – the themes it covers are God, Law and Commandment, Spirituality, Hermeneutics and Politics, Holocaust and Israel, Feminism and Gender, and Peoplehood. It won’t be possible to cover everything, so we will select one chapter from which to start and proceed from there. We will supplement the American Jewish thinkers mentioned in that work with the thinking of some modern Jewish thinkers from Israel and around the world. It is hoped that the course will expose students to the thinking of some of the most significant men and women in contemporary Jewish thought, in the hope that this thinking will challenge and inform them as they grapple with some of the great questions of contemporary Jewish life.

Seminar - Israeli Society: Its multiple voices and search for solidarity (All students)

Fall and Spring terms Wednesdays

3 credits fall term; 3 credits spring term
Instructors: Jeremy Leigh and Dr. David Mendelsson

The seminar explores the changing nature of Israeli society from its pre-state emphasis on the molding of the new Jew to the contemporary reality of competing ideational-cultural voices. After examining notions of the New Jew and statism as the civil religion of Israel, the course focuses upon the various voices in Israeli society and their attempt to shape Israel in their own image. The course then examines the interaction between these voices and the struggle to find a modus-vivendi between them. The seminar includes lectures, museum visits, and the use of film, music and literature.

Israel Cultural evenings

Israel cultural evenings will be held during the year and are intended to introduce students to the nuances of Israeli cultural expression. The focus of these sessions will be Israeli cinema and literature. Last year among the events was an encounter with the renowned Israeli short story author, Etgar Keret and an evening with musician Shaanan Street. The seven session program will be held with students from JTS. Three of the sessions during the year will be required.
II. PROGRAM SPECIFIC COURSES

A. EDUCATION PROGRAM

Education Seminar - Fall and Spring terms
There will be occasional meetings of the Education student and those Rabbinical Students who are also enrolled in the Education programme. These will take place on Monday afternoons. (Details to follow)

B. CANTORIAL PROGRAM

Cantorial Workshop
Fall 1.5 credits; Spring 2 credits
Instructors: Fall term - Cantor Tamar Havilliot, Spring term - Cantors Evan Kent and Tamar Havillio
With Pianist Anastasia Sobolev

This course on Cantillation of the Bible, Daily, Shabbat, Festival and High Holy Day nusach and repertoire is designed to give students a foundation of leading prayer and the cantorial arts. It is also a class that dedicates time to rehearsal and preparation for two required public concerts: The Debbie Friedman Memorial concert and the Classical Reform concert.

Musicianship
1 credit
Instructor: Naama Nazarathy Fall term

The course will provide a variety of methodical strategies aspiring to ease the approach to the fundamental musical aural skills of Sight singing, Rhythm and ear training all together. Exercises and repertoire from the tonal and A-tonal classical, Israeli folk, and cantorial music will be used throughout the course as a ground for training.

History of Jewish Music
1 credit
Instructor: Professor Eliyahu Schleifer Spring term

This course surveys the music used by Jews from Biblical times to the eighteenth century, with special emphasis on sacred music. The course includes analyses of source materials and guided listening to recorded musical examples.

Israeli Folk and Popular Songs
1 credit
Instructor: Dr. Naomi Cohn-Zentner Spring term

An introduction to Israeli folk songs, their background and stylistic development and the styles of Israeli popular songs.

Cantorial Coaching
0.5 credit
All students will be coached for a total of twelve hour-long sessions for the year (6 each term) with Cantor Evan Kent. These will take place at times set between the student and Cantor Kent
C. RABBINICAL PROGRAM

The mission of the HUC-JIR Rabbinical School is to train rabbis, who.
· engage in ongoing study of Jewish tradition, culture, history, language and text;
· effectively teach these to people of all ages, across denominations and faiths;
· organize and lead inspiring Jewish worship services and religious ceremonies;
· advocate and act for social justice;
· promote meaningful relationships with Israel and its cultural life.
· provide pastoral care and chaplaincy services;
· collaborate productively in their work and communities;
· are self-reflective in their personal practice, ritual observance, and belief;
· act as spokespersons for Judaism and klal Yisrael, representing their aims and values; and · contribute to the vibrant development of the Reform Movement.

Rabbinic Text Electives:
Rabbinic Students may choose to take either in the Fall and/or Spring terms the following classes. These classes can be transferred for stateside elective credit.

Fall Electives:

Either:
1.5 Credits
From Adam to Israel
Dr. Zohara Pardes-Feinstein
The course will engage with various texts from the world of rabbinic literature which deal with the creation story and Adam, the story of the patriarchs and matriarchs, Israel enslaved in Egypt and the redemption of Israel. The aim of the course is to give students the opportunity to read selected midrashim from the world of rabbinic literature; to encounter its content, its multiple directions and language.

Or:
1.5 Credits
Jewish time and Jewish questions
Rabbi Dr. Alona Lisista
Each Jewish holiday brings its unique set of theological and observance-practice questions. Frequently the values and forms of our ancient calendar and its marked days seem to be incompatible with our modern reality. Divine reward and punishment, miracles, prayer and fast as means to influence God are just a few examples. In this class we will read texts that deal with different theological aspects of the holidays and their practice. These texts will be selected from different types of rabbinic traditions. Furthering language skills and reading comprehension of Rabbinic Hebrew will be another class objective.

Spring Elective:

Torah-study in Rabbinic Antiquity: intellectual pursuit, religious experience and social practice
1.5 Credits
Rabbi Dr. David Levine
The dominance of Torah-study in Talmudic culture is one of its innovative and striking characteristics. The intellectual dimension of the activity is, of course, the prominent characteristic of the rabbinic routine of study. Other aspects such as a religious duty, spiritual experience and social cohesion present themselves as well.
This class will read texts that deal with different aspects of the Torah-study experience. These texts will be selected from different types of rabbinic traditions, e.g. theoretical formulation, normative prescription and rabbinic anecdote. Furthering language skills and reading comprehension of rabbinic Hebrew will be another class objective.

Students in search of further academic challenges are invited to discuss this with Dr. Mendelsson.

In some cases, courses offered by our Israeli Rabbinic Program may be suitable for Year in Israel students. Attendance in such courses is subject to the approval of the Director of the Israeli Rabbinical Program, Rabbi Talia Avnon and the Director of the Year-in-Israel Program.

III. OTHER REQUIREMENTS

T’filah - Fall and Spring terms
Supervisor: Rabbi Josh Herman and Cantor Tamar Havilio

Students are expected to attend t’filah both in the Murstein synagogue as a community and, as individuals, in synagogues throughout the Jerusalem area and beyond. Some of these t’filot will be student-led while others will be led by faculty. The Student-Led T’filah Madrikh, which will be distributed to students in August, details the preparation and review process for these worship experiences. In addition, all rabbinic and education students will be required to deliver a five-minute D’var Torah over the course of the year. Each student will be assigned an advisor who will help the student prepare and review the D’var Torah with the student after its delivery. T’fllah is held regularly during the Fall and Spring terms on Sunday afternoons and Tuesday and Thursday mornings. A full schedule of both weekday and Shabbat t’filot is included in the Student-Led T’filah Madrikh.

Shabbat Morning Services
When there is a student-led t’filah on Shabbat, all students are encouraged to attend. As we wish to encourage our students to experience Shabbat morning t’filot around Jerusalem and throughout the country, we recognize that sometimes students will wish to be absent from student-led t’filot in the Murstein synagogue so that they might daven elsewhere. Our request is that students attend no less than 75% of the Shabbat morning student-led t’filot.

High Holy Day Services
Cantorial students will be assigned to help lead High Holy Day services in the HUC community with Rabbis Kelman, Marmur and Cantorial support staff. Rabbinical and Education students are invited to join the HUC student choir for these services. There will also be an opportunity for all students to facilitate study sessions on Yom Kippur afternoon.

Synagogue Tours
Cantorial students are expected to participate in special visits to various Jerusalem synagogues. The synagogue tours are guided by members of the faculty and provide an important source of information about the customs and liturgies of the various Jewish communities.

Student Public Concerts
The cantorial class gives at least one concert for fellow students and the Israeli public.

I-Involve Project - Required for All Students
To become a leader of the Jewish People requires study, reflection and an understanding of the ongoing endeavor to serve the community, an obligation without end. The I-Involve Projects are designed to help students connect and learn about Israel and Israeli society in a direct and unmediated manner; give students an opportunity to use and improve Hebrew language skills; give a voice to pastoral and educational skills that will be useful in future professional endeavors; and give a context for fulfilling our Jewish values of mutual responsibility and Jewish solidarity. Some projects require a weekly commitment others will be on a monthly basis, perhaps even an entire weekend. The emphasis is on the experience rather than the hours. In July students will receive The I-Involve Projects Guide with a list and explanation about the projects offered. The I-Involve Projects are organized and supervised by Nancy Lewitt, Head of Student Life.

Field Study (All students)
The College has scheduled field study as part of the Biblical, Second Temple and late Antiquity History courses and three major overnight field trips throughout Israel. These are required tiyulim designed to help students encounter the Land, People, and State of Israel in deeper, more diverse ways.

NOTE: On selected tiyulim where spouses and children are invited to participate, they will be required to pay the actual costs incurred. Some programming is unsuitable for children. It is the responsibility of the parent, in advance of the program, to check with the Head of Student Life before bringing children.

Visits to Progressive congregations throughout the country (ALL students)
Students will have the opportunity to experience the great variety of religious expression available in Jerusalem and throughout the country. They are encouraged to visit many synagogues and Progressive communities during the year. Organized visits to synagogues in the area will be arranged.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

FSU Pesach Partnership Project
A co-operative venture linking students, the World Union for Progressive Judaism, the Joint Distribution Committee the Hebrew Union College and the Progressive communities in the former Soviet Union. Students develop, plan and facilitate an 8 day learning/teaching trip to the FSU.

Study visit to Jewish sites in Lithuania (Vilna, Kovno, Zezhmir) led by Jeremy Leigh ‘Between Memory and Meaning’ Students are offered the opportunity to participate in this five day program, in the days immediately before Pesach.
In its time, Vilna was a ‘capital’ of Jewish life in the diaspora and one of the most vibrant centres of Jewish cultural and political creativity. Vilna was both a capital of both rabbinic learning as well as Haskalah and secular Jewish culture. It was home to critical political movements such as Jewish Socialism and Zionism. Given its almost total destruction by the Nazis and later on during Soviet times, we investigate the nature of that legacy, including important interactions with those attempting to rebuild and strengthen Jewish life today. In addition to many site visits to the area of former Jewish life and also destruction in Vilna and Kovno, we also aim to meet with key figures in the local Jewish community incl. Prof. Dovid Katz, formerly head of the Yiddish Studies; Rachel Kostanian, Director of Vilna Holocaust Museum, Fania Branstovsky, former Jewish partisan; Simon Gurevicus, Director of the Vilna Jewish community.
Finally, it is important to stress that the primary purpose is to offer students a chance to investigate the complex relationship between past histories and the contemporary Jewish world.

Public Lectures
Occasional lectures in English and Hebrew, part of the College’s Outreach Program, feature scholars, writers, artists and political figures.

Student Organization
In many respects, the first year program is a cooperative enterprise between administration, faculty and students working together to build community. Some years, students have created organizational structures early in the year. These have included committees that deal with social, philanthropic, welfare and religious activities.

Social Activities
Social activities at the College, such as Friday evening dinners, celebration of various Jewish holidays, and other social events depend to a large extent on the initiative of the student body. These events should be coordinated with the Head of Student Life. Students participate in preparing and serving the meals, and help clean up afterwards.

The Gottschalk Family Lounge and Activity Center (otherwise known as the Moadon) is available for student meetings, parties. All events, however, must be cleared, in advance, with the Head of Student Life.

Miscellaneous Information

Mail: Student mail is placed in the boxes situated off the end of the corridor in the administration building. Mail is usually received once a day. Stamps may be purchased from the receptionist.

Year in Israel Master Calendar
A Google Calendar has been created that lists all tefillot/events/activities which are not included in the weekly academic schedule. Students are responsible for keeping up to date with the Google Calendar. It can be accessed at http://www.google.com/calendar/embed?src=hav2om7v855l23t83bjkdhrqrc%40group.calendar.google.com&ctz=Asia/Jerusalem

Travelling to areas not governed by Israel
We are aware that throughout the year students travel and participate in programs in the West Bank and areas not governed by Israel, travel to Egypt and Jordan and tour in East Jerusalem. As our students' safety and security is a high priority, we recommend that students follow the guidelines in accordance with US State Department recommendations. Students will be updated by the administration whenever necessary. Students who are receiving MASA scholarships must abide by their security regulations.

Counseling

Advisors
Interested students are invited to meet informally with some of the many Jewish professionals who live in Jerusalem and are affiliated with the College. Contacts will be facilitated by the Office of the Year in Israel Program. Students may also meet with both faculty and staff for counsel and advice.

Psychological Counselling
References for crisis counselling and outside support can be provided by the Office of the Year in Israel Program. HUC does not provide private therapy sessions but the student office can recommend names of private therapists.

Academic Procedures

Academic Integrity
אמרת קנה ואל תמכור, "Acquire truth, do not sell it. (Proverbs 23:23) Cheating in the Jewish tradition is known as גניבת דעת, literally “stealing the knowledge” of another. The Tosefta teaches that גניבת דעת is the worst type of theft imaginable. (Bava Kama 7:8)
Students of HUC-JIR are expected in all academic settings to conduct themselves with integrity and uprightness and in a way that will bring כבוד to our community and institution. Consequences of a failure to behave according to these standards might include academic probation, suspension, or expulsion. Since תוכחה, loving rebuke, is likewise a core value of our tradition, students who are aware of instances of גניבת דעת among classmates are expected to bring this to the attention of the Director of the Program.

Attendance
Regular and prompt attendance is not just a matter of professionalism and good-manners: it is required for all classes and required activities including Field Study Tiyulim, the Colloquium and=zeros Inquiry Group sessions. Students who are unable to attend any class, seminar or planned event must inform the relevant teacher or staff member in a timely fashion as well as the Office of the Year in Israel Program. Attendance is part of the course grade. Between 10- 20 percent of the final grade for each course will be determined on the basis of attendance and class participation.

If absent, students are responsible for written or oral work due on the day of the absence or for the substance of material covered. A student who cannot attend an exam needs to bring a doctor’s note identifying the reason for absence. If a student is absent from examinations or presents papers or major reports later than the scheduled date, the student may be subject to failure or lowered grades for those examinations or reports

A student is allowed to miss no more than five days of study in order to participate in a professional enrichment program. Professional enrichment programs include but are not limited to the URJ educational gathering of summer camp shlichim and Encounter.

Tfila is an integral part of your learning experience this year. Your attendance at services is an essential element of your professional and your personal growth as well as your spiritual development. It also is important in building a sense of community and an atmosphere of mutual support among the students. To that end, you are expected to attend all weekday services at the College.

Students who will be away from Israel for any reason during the year, must inform the Director of the Year in Israel Program. Leave of absence and early departure forms are available from Helen. Please make all travel and work plans in accordance with the academic calendar and examination schedule. The annual calendar appears at the end of this handbook. Students are required to be present for all end of term and end of year exams. Examinations cannot be taken earlier than the stated times.

Auditing
Auditors do not receive credit for the course, and an audit may not be changed to a credit registration once registration has closed. If you register in the SIS to audit a course it appears on your transcript. Attendance is worked out with the faculty member, but the faculty member has the right to establish minimum attendance expectations. If these minimum requirements are not met by the student, the faculty member may enter an Administrative Withdrawal in the SIS. Generally, students auditing a course do not turn in assignments or take exams. Students may want their transcript to show an audit in case they decide to undertake future graduate work in that field. Some professionals may use an audit for professional continuing education purposes. Tuition for an audit is charged differently than a course for credit, if a student is not already paying the full program tuition.

Course Exemptions or Transfers and Class changes
Students who have studied an equivalent course to one that we offer at Master’s level and can provide a transcript to that effect may request an exemption from that course. Transfer to another course or change of class must be authorized by the Director of the Year-in-Israel Program.

Grades Evaluation

1. The default grading system for students will be Pass/Fail. Students will indicate their choice of grading systems at the beginning of their academic program and may change from one grading system to the other annually, prior to the first day of classes of the Summer or Fall semester.

   a. The change must be submitted to the Office of the National Registrar in writing or via the student’s HUC email account.
   b. The request must be submitted before the first day of classes for the Fall semester.
   c. Requests cannot be honored to retroactively change a student’s grading scale and grades for prior semesters.

2. Grade point averages will be calculated in the SIS and on transcripts for all students with any letter grades.

3. Transcripts will carry a legend that explains the College-Institute grading systems and explains that the Pass is valued at a "B" or higher, and that a Low Pass is valued as a "C."

4. As new courses are developed, the faculty member will be asked whether the course is to be graded on a letter grade basis only, pass/fail only or either. This decision overrides the student’s grading preference.

5. Program faculty may designate courses as pass/fail only, letter grade only or either. This decision overrides the student’s grading preference. Where a course exists on more than one campus, the grading system should be the same.

Submission of Grades and Evaluations

1. Faculty are expected to submit grades into the Student Information System (SIS) for all students within two weeks after the end of final examinations.

2. Suggested Grade Scale

   The grading scale used in a class to arrive at the final grade, whether letter grade or pass/fail, is determined by the individual faculty member. Below is a suggested scale for those faculty members who calculate a class average for a student based on the points achieved for exams, papers, and other assignments. This chart is provided for guidance and is not required for faculty use in grading.

Change of Grade

1. Faculty may submit Change of Grade forms to the Office of the National Registrar. When the grade change has been processed, the student’s Program Director will be notified by the National Registrar’s staff.

Student Academic Standing and Evaluation

1. Academic standing (good standing, probation, suspension, and dismissal) will be determined as soon as possible at the conclusion of each semester. Based on the standards below, the National Registrar’s Office will automatically determine which students are on academic probation and communicate that information to the program directors. Additional academic action will be determined by the student’s Program Director and/or Student Tenure Committee, as defined in this document. Every semester, each Program Director must send a report of students who are not in good academic standing to the National Registrar and National Financial Aid Director. This report will be used in determining a student’s satisfactory academic progress (SAP) and eligibility for financial aid.

2. A student’s academic standing may fall within the following categories:
   a. Good Standing
   b. Probation
   c. Suspension
   d. Dismissal

3. A student in good academic standing:
   a. is not on probation
   b. is making acceptable progress toward his/her degree or certificate which includes the maintenance of a minimum grade of “P” or “B” in no less than 80% of the total attempted credits.
   c. has earned grades at the “Pass” or “B” level or higher
   d. has no more than one LP (other than Modern Hebrew) or C in a semester

4. If a student receives two or more “LPs” or “C’s” and/or fails one or more courses in a semester or is not meeting the 80% standard in 3.b., the National Registrar’s Office will place the student on Academic Probation. The Program Director will be notified and shall meet with the student to provide counseling and guidance and may convene a Student Tenure Committee.

5. If he/she receives another “LP,” “C” or “F” during a period of probation, he/she will be asked to appear before a Student Tenure Committee.

6. If the student fails two (2) courses at any time within two consecutive semesters, he/she will meet with the Student Tenure Committee.

7. If a student fails three (3) courses over two academic years, the student will be automatically dismissed. He/she has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement, citing any extenuating circumstances.

8. The procedures governing a Student Tenure Committee are described under “Academic Tenure” later in this Handbook.
9. Students have the right to respond to any particular faculty evaluation by meeting first with the faculty member and secondly with the student’s Program Director.

Students Placed on Academic Probation

Students may be placed on academic probation by their academic Program Director or the Student Tenure Committee. During the semester in which a student is on academic probation s/he will typically enroll in a reduced number of credit hours whether these come from HUC-JIR courses, or consortium, cross-campus or dual program credit programs. (This does not pertain to the Jerusalem campus). The number of credit hours that a student is permitted to enroll in during a semester on probation may be stipulated by the academic Program Director or Student Tenure Committee. The student will meet with his/her Program Director to discuss a possible reduction in outside commitments.

All instances of academic probation, suspension, and dismissal will be posted to the student's permanent academic record. Students will be removed from probation when they have completed twelve semester hours under the following conditions:

1. all work for each course must be completed by the end of its semester, without incurring any incompletes
2. all incomplete work from previous semesters must be completed
3. the grade received in each course must be Pass (B) or better

Any student who incurs a total of two occurrences of academic probation over the course of her/his academic program(s) will be recommended to a Student Tenure Committee for possible suspension or dismissal from the College-Institute.

II. Academic Tenure

The initial purpose of the student tenure review is to assist the student in succeeding at the College-Institute. If a student fails two courses or more in one term or two successive terms of the Year-in-Israel Program, a Student Tenure Committee, including the Director of the program, shall review the student's status and suggest a range of possible consequences including dismissal. Upon the recommendation of the Dean, Faculty and Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost, the student may be granted permission to retake all or some of the examinations or to repeat the Year-in-Israel Program. The Tenure Committee's decision may be appealed to the Dean.

If a student receives two or more "LPS" (Low Passes) or "C's" and/or fails one or more courses in a term and/or is not meeting the 80% standard, the Program Director shall meet with the student to provide counseling and guidance. The Program Director may place the student on probation and may convene a Student Tenure Committee.

If he/she receives another "LP" “C” or "F" during a period of probation, he/she will be asked to appear before a Student Tenure Committee.

A student who accumulates more than three LP’s over two terms, including the summer term will be called before a Student Tenure Committee, which will be constructed by the Director of the Year-in-Israel program or stateside director of the respective program and shall review the student's status and suggest a range of possible consequences.

NOTE: Students who do not pass the summer ulpan with a grade of 70 or better may not be permitted to continue in the Year-in-Israel Program in the Fall term.

Probationary status presumes that a student so designated has not demonstrated an ability to continue the course of study and must demonstrate this ability within one academic year in order to remain in the program. If a student receives an “F” during a period of probation, he/she will need to appear before a Student Tenure Committee. The student may also lose his/her eligibility for financial assistance.

B. Procedures for Academic Tenure

1. The Program Director is responsible for implementing the rules governing student tenure.

2. When necessary, the Program Director will notify the student in writing that either he/she must meet with the Student Tenure Committee or that he/she is being dropped from the academic roll, but has the right to appeal to the Student Tenure Committee for reinstatement. The student will be given a copy of that section of this handbook that prescribes the procedures in these cases.

3. The composition of the Student Tenure Committee is to be determined by the Program Director, but must include at least one student from the appropriate professional school (unless the student waives this provision) and between two and four additional faculty members. The Dean may not serve on the Student Tenure Committee since he/she is part of the Appeals process. If the program director chooses not to chair the committee, he/she may designate a member of the Committee to serve as chair.

4. At least fifteen working days prior to the meeting of the Student Tenure Committee, the Program Director will give the student written notice of the time and place of the meeting, and also inform the student that s/he will have an opportunity to present pertinent information to the Committee and that the student may be present throughout the meeting until such time as the Student Tenure Committee enters into executive session. The fifteen working days notification period may be shortened with the agreement of the student and program director.

5. The Student Tenure Committee will determine the suggested course of action by secret ballot and by a 2/3-majority vote.

6. The Program Director will communicate the decision of the Student Tenure Committee in writing to the student and the Dean within five working days.

7. As part of the evaluation process, the Committee can suggest a range of ways to proceed that may include, but are not be limited to:
   a. Dismiss the case
   b. Investigate the matter further
   c. Oversight and assistance without putting the student on probation
   d. Place the student on Academic Probation. The conditions of probation will be determined by the nature of the case and the findings of the Committee. The appropriate course of action that the student must follow is determined by the nature of the case. The Committee may decide that the student can continue in his/her program while satisfying the probationary conditions that the student may continue with a reduced course load, or that the student may not continue in his/her program until all conditions of probation have been satisfied. The Committee shall determine the timeframe for probation.
   e. Place the student on Academic Suspension for a specific period of time.
   f. Permanently dismiss the student from the academic program, the local campus, and/or the
8. Within ten working days, the student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee to the Dean; the Dean's decision to the Provost; and finally the Provost's decision to the President.

9. Copies of the communications with the student, and a confidential record of the meeting(s) of the Student Tenure Committee (other than the deliberations of the executive session, for which no written record will be made) shall be kept in the Dean's office. The student may request copies of the confidential records; such requests must be in writing to the Dean.

Teachers' evaluation of the student's overall potential, regular attendance, active classroom participation and performance in non-Hebrew courses are some of the factors which the faculty and administration will consider in deciding whether to permit re-examination or repetition of the first year. Under certain circumstances, the Dean may place a student on probation for a defined period. If the prescribed probation conditions are not met, the student may be dismissed from the program.

Extensions/Incompletes
Students may request a course extension in a maximum of two courses from each of the fall and spring terms by petitioning the Director of the Year in Israel Program after first gaining permission from the course instructor. If the Director denies permission, an appeal can be made to the Dean of the campus. If permission is granted, the student shall have three additional weeks from the end of the exam period to complete the requirements for the course. Courses with extensions that have not been completed will automatically become incompletes (“I”). Fall incompletes must be completed by the end of the spring term and spring incompletes, by six weeks after the exam period. If the course is not completed by these deadlines, it will automatically become an “F”. If the course is completed, the grade will be added to the “I”.

Tutorial Assistance
The College will provide limited tutorial assistance to students in order to correct weaknesses in Hebrew. Teachers may require these extra lessons and following the approval of the Director of the Program such assistance will be provided. Students will be expected to bear half the cost of the initial ten sessions and the entire cost thereafter. Students who have absented themselves more than ten percent of class time will not be eligible to receive any subsidy towards the cost of the initial tutorial sessions. To request tutoring, speak with the Director of the Year in Israel Program.

Past students have suggested that private tutoring can be an effective way to reinforce Hebrew skills in a one-on-one format. Even when one's grades in class are passing or higher, several students report that the additional time spent with guided tutoring has helped increase their confidence and abilities. In these cases, the College will not subsidize tutorial sessions.

Learning Disabilities
HUC's policy on disabilities can be found in the National Student Academic Handbook here.

Students are responsible to inform the program director of any disability which impacts their ability to fully participate in HUC's programs. All cases will be treated with stringent confidentiality. Students with diagnosed learning disabilities are invited to work with the program director to develop reasonable accommodations based on the documentation submitted. In order to be eligible for learning accommodations students are required to submit a neuropsychological evaluation that has been conducted within the last five years.
As soon as possible in the year, students who are finding any course work particularly challenging, especially when it comes to language acquisition, should not hesitate to be in contact with the program director.

I. Student Behavior and Professional Conduct

1. Students and other members of the HUC-JIR community are expected to abide by the highest moral values of our faith traditions, including personal conscience, professional conduct and integrity, and honorable social relationships. Students must be conscientious in avoiding the appearance of misconduct on campus, in congregations, schools, agencies, and in the broader community.

a. Community conduct and ethical standards include:

   i. Respect for the rights, differences, and dignity of others
   ii. Honesty and integrity in all dealings
   iii. Conscientious pursuit of excellence in one’s work
   iv. Accountability for actions and conduct on the campus and in the workplace

b. The College-Institute may take disciplinary action as it deems necessary should the standards of personal and ethical conduct be violated. Violation of these standards shall include, but is not limited to:

   i. Academic misconduct including, but not limited to, plagiarism or cheating
   ii. Abuse of alcohol or drugs
   iii. Discriminatory or harassing behavior
   iv. Sexual Misconduct (including, but not limited to, sexual harassment and sexual assault)
   v. Interpersonal violence (including, but not limited to, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking)
   vi. Giving false statements to the College-Institute orally or in writing including, but not limited to, one’s application for admission or registration or altering records
   vii. Violation of the Technology Usage Policy viii. Financial malfeasance
   ix. Violent behavior
   x. Use of abusive or offensive language
   xi. Creating a hostile or threatening environment
   xii. Theft of College-Institute or personal property xiii. Violation of College-Institute academic regulations and policies
   xiv. Disrespect toward a College-Institute employee
   xv. Students involved in a criminal violation are accountable to local authorities but may also be subject to discipline by the College-Institute.

2. Other than complaints related to discrimination, harassment, sexual misconduct, or interpersonal violence, complaints of a student’s alleged inappropriate behavior are to be brought to the Program Director (or the Dean’s designee). The Program Director (or Dean’s designee) will investigate the charges further, and consult with the student, appropriate faculty, student representatives and any outside consultants or other individuals deemed necessary to determine whether disciplinary action is warranted. Complaints related to sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence should be made to the Title IX Coordinator (see the Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence Policy for more
(see the Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Policy for more information).

a. When community and ethical standards have been broken, the offender should, ask forgiveness, avoid repetition, and make restitution whenever possible.
b. The student’s program director may suggest that the student seek counseling or other expert treatment.
c. The College-Institute’s National Director of Legal Affairs should also be contacted for review and consultation.
d. A Program Director (or the Dean’s designee) may issue a written reprimand to the student and may also place the student on immediate probation.
e. In an emergency situation, the Dean (or Dean’s designee) may determine that it is appropriate to immediately remove the student from the campus and related educational activities. The student’s Program Director should follow-up immediately by investigating the situation and determining the next appropriate steps which may include a Student Tenure Committee meeting.
f. A student’s tenure may be terminated if it is determined that he/she engaged in inappropriate behavior that renders him/her unsuitable for his/her chosen profession, including but not limited to behavior that is unethical, illegal, or otherwise inconsistent with the codified standards of the individual professional organization of the field for which the student is preparing himself/herself.
g. Additionally, the Program Director (or Dean’s designee) may determine that a Student Tenure Committee should be convened in order to consider the situation and, if necessary, the Committee may determine the appropriate disciplinary course of action.
h. The Student Tenure Committee will be governed by the procedures and timelines outlined elsewhere in this Handbook.
i. The disciplinary actions that may be taken by the Student Tenure Committee include:

1. Reprimand and disciplinary probation
2. Temporary suspension with time and terms of re-admission indicated
3. Indefinite suspension with time and terms of re-admission not indicated. Return to the College-Institute would be determined by the student's Program Director
4. Removal of financial assistance
5. Permanent dismissal

j. The student may appeal the decision of the Student Tenure Committee using the same process described elsewhere in this Handbook.

III. Medical-Psychological Grounds
A student with severe medical or psychological problems may be required to discontinue studies at any time during the year. In such cases, the Dean, in consultation with the faculty and a professional consultant will make the final decision.

S. Zalman and Ayala Abramov Library

Size: The three-story Abramov Library contains between 50,000- 60,000 titles and receives a lot of current periodicals mostly in English and Hebrew.

Scope: The collection includes scholarly works in the fields of Bible Studies; Ancient Near Eastern Archaeology; Judaic Studies including Talmud & Rabbinics, Midrash, Liturgy, Jewish Philosophy, Jewish Music, Hebrew Language & Literature; and Israel Studies including History, Zionism and Culture, Society & Issues. In a city of many libraries with specialized holdings, the Abramov library attempts to make a unique contribution with its collections in the areas of The American Jewish Experience, History of the Reform Movement, and a collection of Modern Hebrew fiction in English translation. In addition the library provides access to a variety of electronic databases and resources relevant to Jewish Studies.

Organization: The library is organized according to the Library of Congress classification system (LC). The major subject categories are: Rabbinics (BM); Bible (BS); Eretz Yisrael, Near Eastern archaeology and history of the Jewish people (DS); and Hebrew Literature and Linguistics (PJ); and Jewish Music (M, ML).

Catalogues: All materials can be found in the computerized catalogue. The Abramov library's catalogue is hosted by PRIMO. The link to the catalogue is as follows: https://huc-primo.hosted.exlibrisgroup.com/primo-explore/search?vid=972HUC_V1&lang=en_US&sortby=rank

On this page you can find a tutorial on how to use our catalogue.

Services: The library offers bibliographic and reference services to students, faculty and staff of HUC, members of IMPJ (Israel Movement for Progressive Judaism), alumni, the Israeli academic community, visiting researchers and the general public. Borrowing privileges are extended to students and staff of the college and IMPJ, alumni and academic partners.

The Danny Rechler Student Computer Center: Situated on the second floor of the library, the computer center's twelve terminals and printer provide students and their families with word processing, e-mail, internet access and database search capabilities.

Hours: The library is open Sunday-Thursday from 8:15 am - 4:45 pm. In addition, it operates as a reading room with volunteer student staff after 5:00 pm, when classes are in session. Hours may be abbreviated during vacations and extended during exam periods.

Music Library: The primary purpose of the music collection is to serve the College’s cantorial students, but is also available to the general public. It contains over 3,500 items and includes music notations of folk-songs, popular music, contemporary Israeli music, songs in Yiddish and Ladino, synagogue music from all streams of Judaism organized by the cycle of the Jewish year, compositions by well-known cantors and books about music. All of these materials are searchable with our catalogue.

There are 2 self-service photocopiers in the library. Photocopy cards may be purchased from the librarians. Students may also use the library printer (20 agorot per page) and scanner (free), both located on the ground floor.

Detailed information on library policies and procedures will be distributed during the library orientation session.
Academic Grievance Procedure

A. Every member of the faculty and the instructional staff is responsible for fulfilling good teaching practices as outlined in the Faculty Handbook. Should students have grievances against a faculty member relating to any academic matter, they should avail themselves of the procedure herein outlined. The goal of the academic grievance procedure is to effect a reconciliation between the instructor and the student.

B. Any Student has the right to question a grade he or she has received, but the student should recognize the difference between questioning a grade and charging an instructor with a violation of the good teaching practices. The latter is a serious act that should neither be undertaken lightly nor should the desire to have a grade reviewed and changed be the primary motivation. If the student wants to contest a grade, the student should first meet with the instructor to voice a complaint and to receive an explanation and possible redress. If the student is not satisfied with the explanation, he or she may confer the Dean and ask for a review of the grade. The Dean will consult with the faculty member and review the material. The decision of the Dean shall be final.

C. A student who feels that a faculty member has violated good teaching practices shall first discuss the matter directly with the faculty member, accompanied by another faculty member of his/her choice. If he or she feels that his or her grievance has not been properly adjudicated, he or she should request a conference with the Dean. If the intervention of the Dean still has not achieved reconciliation, the student may submit to the Dean a letter formally stating the nature of the grievance with specific reference to teaching responsibilities that have not been fulfilled. The student should also provide any materials supportive of the complaint. Within ten (10) days after receiving this written complaint from the student, the Dean will request the chairperson of the Faculty to convene a Faculty Grievance Committee which shall be made up of four full-time faculty members and a student representative selected by the Student Association. The Committee shall consider and investigate the complaint and make its recommendations to the Dean within thirty (30) days after receiving the complaint.

D. A Faculty Grievance Committee will not review a complaint unless it is lodged before the tenth week of the fall or spring term that follows the term in which the alleged violation occurred. It shall be the responsibility of the Faculty Grievance Committee to determine, prior to considering any case, whether frank and full discussions between the student, instructor, and the Dean have been exhausted as a means of resolving the grievance. If not, the case shall be referred back to the Dean as appropriate.

If the Faculty Grievance Committee decides to consider the case, the chairperson shall inform the student that the burden of proof rests with the student and that he or she may attend the hearing, excluding executive sessions. The chair shall also inform the instructor, when the committee decides to consider a case, that a grievance has been received and its supporting evidence. The chair shall request from the instructor in writing information germane to the case, inform the instructor that he or she may attend the hearings, excluding executive sessions.

E. If the Committee finds that a violation has occurred and recommends any form of redress for the student, these recommendations should be reported by the chairperson of the Committee, in writing, to the Dean, with a copy sent to the student and to the instructor. The instructor will be expected to inform the Dean of his or her compliance or non-compliance with the recommendations within ten days after the letter of notification has been sent to the instructor. Failure to respond within ten days will be taken to indicate non-compliance. If the instructor complies with the recommendations, the Dean will inform the student, in writing, with copies to the department chairperson and committee chair. If the instructor indicates non-compliance with the recommendations, copies of the recommendations and of the instructor's reply will be sent to the student, Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost, and President, and will be placed in the instructor's file. In addition, a notation of this finding may be made in the student's permanent record file.

F. If the instructor does not accept the recommendations, he or she may appeal the decision of the Faculty Grievance Committee to the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost. Written notice of the desire for a review by the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost should be made within ten (10) days of receiving the copy of the Committee's findings. If an appeal is made, a copy of the written report of the Committee and all pertinent information and material will be forwarded to the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost. The Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost will meet with the student and instructor, and review the case. The Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost then will affirm, reject, or modify the recommendations of the Committee.

G. If the instructor does not accept the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Provost's recommendations, then he or she may appeal directly to the President. The President shall review all material and meet with the student and instructor. The President's decision will be final.

Sexual Harassment Protocol

Further to the introductory document from Nancy which was in your registration welcome package: The HUC has put a protocol into place in cases of sexual harassment of students. Copies of this protocol can be found in the library and in the Office of the Year in Israel Program. An online version can be found here.

History of the College-Institute

Hebrew Union College was founded in 1875 in Cincinnati, the first institution of Jewish higher learning in America. The college was established by Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, the architect of American Reform Judaism, who had formed the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, now the Union of Reform Judaism, two years earlier. The primary purpose of the seminary was to train rabbis for the Reform Movement.

In 1922, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise (not related to Isaac Mayer Wise) established the Jewish Institute of Religion in New York. The similar orientation of the two schools led to their merger in 1950.

A third center was opened in Los Angeles in 1954 to serve the growing Jewish community on the West Coast and a fourth branch was established in Jerusalem in 1963.

From modest beginnings, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion has developed into an institution providing a wide variety of graduate academic programs in Judaic studies. In addition to its Rabbinic School, the College-Institute includes Schools of Graduate Studies, a School of Sacred Music, Jewish Education, Jewish Communal Service, Nonprofit Management and Biblical Archaeology.

The Jerusalem Campus

The Jerusalem School serves as the academic graduate center for the Year-In-Israel Program (first year of rabbinical, cantorial and Jewish education studies) and the Israel Rabbinic Program. The department of Educational Initiatives offers continuing education programs and serves as a resource center for Israeli teachers and educators, creating programs and methods of teaching a Progressive religious Jewish approach in the Israeli classroom. The Nelson Glueck School of Biblical Archaeology houses a research center for post-graduate archaeology and excavates at archaeology sites in Israel.

The five-acre Jerusalem campus, situated on King David Street, in the center of Jerusalem, overlooks the ancient walled city. The original building facing King David Street was opened in 1963 and houses the William Murstein Synagogue, the college administrative offices and the offices of the URJ Youth Programs in Israel.

The Forchheimer Ceremonial Courtyard, dedicated in July 1993, the largest of the college courtyards, is open to King David Street and surrounded on three sides by the Administration, Abramov Library and Skirball Center and Museum buildings.

The Rosaline and Myer Feinstein Building, adjacent to the Saban Gardens, was dedicated in 1970 and houses the Jerusalem residence of the President of Hebrew Union College. It also contains the offices of the Center for Educational Initiatives and provides facilities for nursery school and kindergarten, part of the school system created by the Reform Movement in Israel.

The S. Zalman and Ayala Abramov Library, which was dedicated in March of 1988, has the capacity of holding over 100,000 volumes of Hebraica, Judaica, and Biblical Archaeology. Its special collections include the personal archaeology library of the late Prof. Yigal Yadin, a rare Spinoza collection of the late Prof. Fritz Bamberger (HUC-JIR New York) and thousands of books and pamphlets on the American Jewish experience including microfilms of materials from HUC's American Jewish Archives in Cincinnati.

The Bernard Heller Torah Center consists of seven seminar rooms and four large classrooms, one of which is a Cantorial study suite, surrounding the Gersten Courtyard. In addition, the complex houses faculty studies, the Rosen Faculty Conference/Seminar Room, the Gottschalk Family Lounge and Activity Center, and the Gottschalk Lecture Hall.

The Skirball Center for Biblical and Archaeological Research houses the Nelson Glueck School of Biblical Archaeology, including restoration laboratories, storerooms, facilities for charting and drawing for preparing archaeological excavated material for publications. Adjacent to the research center is the Skirball Museum featuring a permanent exhibit of archaeological artifacts discovered during HUC excavations from 1963 to the present. The sites represented in the Museum are Tel Dan, Gezer and Aroer. One highlight is an exact replica of the "House of David" stone stele inscription from the 8th Century BCE, discovered at Tel Dan in 1994. A visit to the museum can be arranged with the curator, Dalia Packman.

Beit Shmuel Guest House and Cultural Center and Mercaz Shimshon are situated on the east end of the campus, with main entrances on Shama Street. Beit Shmuel has guest rooms, seminar rooms, a dining hall and a coffee shop. The offices of the Israel Movement for Progressive Judaism are situated on the third floor. Mercaz Shimshon includes the Hirsch Theatre, the spectacular glass domed and walled Blaustein Hall overlooking the Old City of Jerusalem, seminar rooms, guest rooms and the offices of the World Union for Progressive Judaism and Netzer Olami, the youth arm of the WUPJ.
