School of Jewish Communal Service

Summer Program

Registration Booklet

2008/5768
May 2008

Dear Students,

Welcome to the 2008 Summer Session of the School of Jewish Communal Service, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. This is an exciting time to be entering the field of Jewish Communal Service, and we are looking forward to a great summer of learning, community building, and professional growth.

In this booklet, you will find important information about the SJCS Summer Session and registration including:

- Course descriptions and model programs
- Special SJCS events during the summer
- Week-by-week Schedule of Classes
- Roster of SJCS students
- Student Questionnaire and response form
- Academic policies and procedures
- List of HUC-JIR Administration and Summer Faculty
- 2008-09 Academic Calendar

Please look over the summer course schedule and read the descriptive information carefully. Then complete the registration process through the on-line Student Information System (SIS) beginning May 5, but no later than May 20, 2008. Please complete the response form and, if you are a new student, the questionnaire, and send them to the SJCS office or fax them to HUC at (213) 747-6128.

If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to give me a call (213-765-2118) or send me an email (rsiegel@huc.edu).

I am looking forward to meeting all of you at the June 12th Opening Program and to sharing a stimulating summer together.

Richard A. Siegel,
Interim Director, School of Jewish Communal Service

Coskey Public Speaking Seminar (CS 550)
The SJCS will once again be offering the Coskey Public Speaking Seminar to better prepare students for the variety of public presentations which they will be giving in their careers, from committee reports to formal lectures. This six session seminar is required for Second Year students. This year’s seminar will be taught by Drew Kugler, a noted consultant in leadership training and the founder of The Kugler Company, a Los Angeles-based leadership coaching practice for professional services organizations and corporations. (Note to Second Year students: Please see the weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.)

Professional Writing Seminar (CS 551)
Written communication is critical to success in Jewish Communal Service, both as a graduate student and as a professional in the field. For the first time, the SJCS is offering a Professional Writing Seminar, taught by Rabbi Julie Pelc, to enhance students’ skills and help them develop professional written communication styles. This six session seminar is required for First Year students and optional for Second Year students. (Note to First Year students: Please see the weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.)

Rabbi Louis Bernstein Scholar in Residence
Monday, August 4-Wednesday, August 6

This year we are delighted to have Shifra Bronznick, a leading consultant to not-for-profit organizations in change management, as our fourth Rabbi Louis Bernstein Scholar in Residence. Shifra will be a guest presenter in various classes on Monday, August 4th, will conduct a seminar on Tuesday August 5th, and will be the keynote speaker at the Summer Culmination Exercises on Wednesday August 6th.

Shifra is the founding President of Advancing Women Professionals and the Jewish Community (AWP) and co-author of the recently published Leveling the Playing Field: Advancing Women in Jewish Organizational Life, a how-to guide for championing gender equity in the workplace. AWP is a national non-profit organization whose mission is to advance women into leadership positions in Jewish life; stimulate Jewish organizations to become more equitable, productive and vibrant environments; and promote policies that support work-life integration and flexibility for professionals and volunteers.

Currently, Shifra is designing, Women Rule! O The Oprah Magazine and the White House Project’s Leadership Training Program. She is also the lead investigator of Visioning Justice and the American Jewish Community, a major inquiry commissioned by the Nathan Cummings Foundation to identify the trends and strategies that influence the growth and impact of Jewish social justice.

Ms. Bronznick has consulted to a broad range of organizations, including the American Indian College Fund, the Public Education Network, the Fresh Air Fund, Hebrew Union College, American Jewish World Service, the Medicare Rights Center, Ma’yan, the Nathan Cummings Foundation, the Charles H. Revson Foundation, and the United Jewish Communities. She developed the National Women's Leadership Initiative, in collaboration with Ma’yan, and convened Impact & Influence, a summit for Jewish women volunteer leaders.

In 2002 and 2003, Shifra designed the program for the White House Project’s National Women’s Leadership Summit, which convened the most influential women in business, government, not-for-profit, and academia. For HUC-JIR, she was the lead consultant in developing the institution’s current strategic plan adopted in February 2006.

Previously, Ms. Bronznick served as Executive Vice-President of Swig, Weiler & Arnow Mgt. Co., Inc., one of the premier commercial real estate firms in New York.
Academic Policies
The official HUC-JIR Student Academic Handbook will be distributed to all students during summer orientation. Please refer to the Handbook for a complete description of academic policies and procedures of HUC-JIR.

Hebrew Policy
All students enrolled in the School of Jewish Communal Service are required to have completed one year of college-level Hebrew or its equivalent, based on the submission of appropriate transcripts or by passing a Hebrew equivalency examination. Students who have not already completed this requirement must meet with Professor Rivka Dori, Director of Hebrew Studies, who will advise them of their options and outline for them the level of Hebrew competency they will be required to achieve prior to their graduation from HUC-JIR.

If you have questions about your level of Hebrew proficiency, please call Rivka Dori at (213) 749-3424, ext. 4266; or check with Richard Siegel.

“Lunch and Learn” Course (CS 510B)
The Tuesday “Lunch and Learn” is required for all students and can be taken for credit once during the course of studies. This year’s “Lunch and Learn” is organized around the theme: “Presenting Culture: (In)Forming Jewish Identity.” Sessions will feature prominent curators and producers from the LA area who are responsible for presenting Jewish culture in a variety of media: art exhibitions, film festivals, concerts, special events and public lecture series. Presenters will discuss the motivations, objectives, mechanics, artist relations, and marketing behind successful Jewish cultural productions, as well as how they evaluate success and impact. Students interested in earning credit should register and speak with Richard Siegel.

Israel Seminar
Offered every other winter, this 2 ½ -week intensive experience exploring the core issues of Israel-Diaspora relations is an integral part of the School of Jewish Communal Service curriculum and is required for all students. The tentative dates for this year’s Israel Seminar, entitled “Israel at 60: Assessing the Character of the Jewish State,” are from Wednesday, December 17, 2008 through Friday, January 2, 2009 (final dates will be determined over the summer). Incorporating classes and briefings with Israel’s leading scholars and authorities, the Seminar’s itinerary includes meetings with key decision-makers, visits to social and human service agencies, and tours to historic and contemporary sites throughout the country. Students will have the opportunity to meet their professional counterparts serving Israeli institutions, and begin to grapple with ways to integrate Israel into their professional identity.

Prof. David Mendelsson, the faculty coordinator and seminar scholar, will be on campus at the beginning of the summer and will be conducting a three session Orientation to the Israel Seminar (CS 552) which is required for all students. (See weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.)

Books and Course Readers
For the summer program, a master list of books and readings requested by faculty for all courses is compiled by Hattie Pearson, Administrative Assistant, School of Jewish Communal Service. The booklist will be distributed to students by email.

Mentorship Program
The SJCS offers a Mentorship Program through which students are paired with lay mentors to gain insights into the field and reflect on the SJCS experience. An orientation to the Mentorship Program will be presented during the summer by Sara Greene, the Mentorship Coordinator. For more information on the Mentorship Program, please speak with Richard Siegel.

Student Health Fee
There is a mandatory HUC Student Health Fee for all students enrolled in six units or more per term. The HUC Student Health Fee gives students access to the USC Student Health Center located on the USC campus adjacent to HUC. Students who pay the summer health fee may use the USC Student Health Center beginning
May 19, 2008. Health Center services are available through the summer until August 17, 2008. The Health Fee is $192. The Health Center provides high-quality, client-oriented services and resources in health promotion and disease prevention, primary care and counseling. Although the health fee covers most Health Center services, nominal fees are charged for some specialty services, prescriptions, immunizations and copies of records and x-rays. The health fee does not cover the cost of hospitalization or specialty care that cannot be obtained at the USC Student Health Center.

Medical Insurance
All HUC-JIR students are required to be covered by comprehensive health insurance. Students entering HUC-JIR Los Angeles campus beginning with the summer program are permitted to enroll in the USC Student Health Insurance Plan for the summer. Students can sign up for the USC Student Health Insurance Plan on a prorated basis by completing an enrollment application, indicating dates of coverage and making the payment.

Continuing HUC students, who attended during the Spring Semester and did not enroll in the USC Student Health Insurance Plan, may not enroll in the USC plan until the next enrollment period which is Fall Semester, 2008. These students should enroll in another comparable insurance plan for the summer.

Students who have questions or need assistance in selecting a plan should contact Carol Sofer, the HUC-USC Liaison, for additional information.

Lockers
In order to provide students with a secure and convenient space for their personal items, lockers have been installed in the basement level. They are located in the west hallway, beyond the faculty offices. At the beginning of the summer program, students should select a locker and then report its number to Madelyn Katz, Director of Student Life, to have it reserved. Students need to provide their own locks for the lockers. Personal items should be stored in student lockers and not left in the student lounge, restrooms or in classrooms.

Mailboxes
All students have individual mailboxes located in the room next to the stage in the student lounge. Students may receive mail in care of HUC-JIR, 3077 University Avenue, Los Angeles, 90007. Faculty mailboxes are located behind the receptionist’s desk on the first floor.

Student Identification Cards
Official student photo identification cards will be issued as part of the new security system being installed this spring. Joan Spearman, Director of Operations, will provide more information about the IDs and security system at Orientation.

Parking
To park in the HUC parking lot at the rear of the building, vehicles must be registered and display an HUC permit. Parking permits are issued to HUC students, faculty and staff through the receptionist desk. Visitors to the campus are required to sign in, registering their vehicles at the Security desk to avoid being ticketed or towed. There is no public parking in the HUC lot. Unauthorized vehicles will be towed. Permission to park in the HUC parking lot using the Parking Permit applies during regular HUC Los Angeles school hours for HUC functions and for HUC students registered for dual HUC/USC programs. It does not apply to USC functions or other outside functions. Contact Ms. Joan Spearman for further information.

FRANCES-HENRY LIBRARY
The library web site is: http://www.huc.edu/libraries/losangeles
You can find our catalog, hours of operation, news and helpful links on the website.

The Collection
The Library makes available carefully selected materials in support of the educational programs of the Hebrew Union College’s Rabbinic School, the School of Jewish Communal Service, the Rhea Hirsch School of Education, the Edgar F. Magnin School of Graduate Studies, and the Jerome H. Louchheim School of Judaic Studies.
With its microform resources and facilities, the Library functions as the Los Angeles branch of the American Jewish Archives and the American Jewish Periodical Center.

We support all scholarly and research needs of the College Institute with books, journals, electronic databases, microfilms, music, and Internet access.

The library collection is available to HUC-JIR students, staff and faculty, and patrons from the community at large, as well as to users from the University of Southern California.

Books are recallable and must be returned when recalled. Failure to return books on time may result in fines, penalties and loss of borrowing privileges.

Most materials are found in the open stacks. Some are housed in one of the following locations that are closed to the public:
AJPC, AJARC – Microfilm stacks
CAS – Cassette tapes
CD – Electronic databases; music
DISC – LPs
R.B.R. - Rare book room
S.C. - Special collection, mostly art books
SC/Box - Mostly pamphlets and ephemera, placed in protective boxes
STR - Storage

Items from these areas will be paged by the library staff. Some do not circulate, but may be photocopied/scanned within the guidelines set by the library and copyright law.

Both the CARD CATALOG and the ON-LINE CATALOG are available for searches. The process of entering the entire collection on-line is an ongoing project, and until it is completed, we suggest using both.

Reference, Research and Inter-Library Loans
The Library staff is trained in helping patrons with locating books, basic reference questions, tips on effective research methods, and technical know-how.

For a personal/group instruction sessions, please make an appointment with the Librarian or the Associate Librarian.

Books and articles not available at our location may be requested via our Inter-Library Loan system (ILL). Please inquire about the system’s options at the circulation desk.

Printing and Photocopying
There is a fee per page of photocopying and printing off the computers.

Computers/Work Stations
Networked, public access computers are available for on-line browsing, electronic databases searches
(on CDs), Internet access, as well as word processing in English and Hebrew (Microsoft Word, Davka Writer). These computers are also linked to the library printer and photocopier.

Some terminals are connected to USC’s Shoah Foundation and to the electronic resources of USC’s library system. Signs posted throughout the library clearly indicate their location. These work stations have their own printer, and are not connected to the photocopier.

Wireless connectivity is also available.

Computers and databases in the Library are maintained by the Network Administrator.
HUC Skirball Cultural Center

The HUC Skirball Cultural Center, located in West Los Angeles/Sepulveda Pass, is devoted to interpreting Jewish life for a sizable public, with a particular emphasis on American Jews. The Center also explores the role of pluralism in American society. The Skirball Museum is a core component of the Cultural Center; its collection of art and artifacts related to Judaism is regarded as among North America’s two or three most important.

HUC students and staff receive a one-year complimentary individual membership. Staff and students must present an HUC identification card at the admission desk and the membership is valid for one year from that first visit.

Hours are: Tuesday through Saturday, noon-5 pm; Sunday, 11 am-5 pm. Closed Monday. For further information, call (310) 440-4500.

INTERNET ACCESS

HUC/USC dual degree students have the ability to access the internet through USC. Because they are USC students, they may request this directly from USC. HUC-only students may make this request by calling the Helpdesk at (213) 749-3424, ext. 4212. Within five business days after receipt of this request, the account will be ready to access on-line. Regular e-mail clients can be configured to check USC e-mail by using the instructions on the USC website.

Students who have problems accessing their accounts or questions about this process, may call the Helpdesk at the above number, or send an e-mail to lahelpdesk@huc.edu.

Only HUC-JIR students are permitted to use the computers in the library and Ha Mercaz to access the internet during normal office hours. Due to security and virus infection concerns, students are NOT allowed to disconnect any computer from the HUC-JIR network and connect their personal computers. It is against HUC-JIR policy for student computers to be connected via network cable to the HUC-JIR network. A free, unencrypted wireless internet signal named “Beit Midrash” is available for this purpose, and can be accessed by any student laptop with wireless capability.

Please be considerate of others when using computer resources and avoid listening to the radio or watching streaming video. This slows down network access for everyone. There is limited bandwidth for the campus, and non-work related usage is strongly prohibited.
REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

To facilitate the registration process, please follow the instructions below carefully:

1. Review the enclosed course requirements. Please see model programs on page 20.
2. Consult the enclosed class schedule.
3. Consult with Richard Siegel or the Registrar, if necessary.
4. Register for classes using the SIS beginning Monday, May 5th and complete your registration by Wednesday, May 28th. You should have already received, or will shortly receive, instructions from the Registrar on how to register using the SIS.

Please call or e-mail the Registrar at jtbrown@huc.edu or (212) 824-2220, if you have any concerns or questions regarding the registration process.

Please remember to register for CS 552 Orientation to the Israel Seminar (all students), CS 551 Professional Writing Seminar (1st year students), and CS 550 Public Speaking Seminar (2nd year students). Although these are non-credit courses, they are requirements which need to be recorded on your official transcripts.

LATE REGISTRATION
If you are unable to complete the registration process by the deadline, you must inform the Registrar in writing prior to that time.

<tr>
<td>CS 426</td>
<td>Contemporary American Jewish Issues</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A social science course examining contemporary issues in Jewish religion, culture and demography. Topics include Jewish identities, layers of community, the directions of change in Jewish observance and affiliation, family dynamics, intermarriage, economics, Jewish distinctiveness and the relationship between universalism and particularism. This class looks at a number of Jewish subpopulations, including gay and lesbian Jews, elderly Jews, disabled Jews, deaf Jews and recent immigrants. Instructor: Dr. Bruce Phillips.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CS 427</td>
<td>Evolution and Structure of the American Jewish Community</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>This course gives students an historical and analytical understanding of the foundations of the contemporary American Jewish community. Through interactive discussions, lectures and readings, students study models of community organization, the evolution of American Jewish institutions and ideas of communal responsibility. Instructor: Mr. Erik Greenberg</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CS 484</td>
<td>Biblical and Rabbinic Sources</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>This is a course in Jewish texts, exploring what it means to “read Jewishly” through a survey of Biblical (Chumash, Prophets, and Writings) and Rabbinic texts, including selections from the Mishnah and Gemarah (Talmud), Midrash, Rashi and Commentaries, Codes and Responsa literature (Halachah), liturgy and classical Kabbalah. Relevant secondary sources are also studied to provide historical, theological, and literary context. Instructor: Rabbi Tali Hyman.</td>

<td>Lunch and Learn (for credit)</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Tuesday “Lunch and Learn” is required for all students and can be taken for credit once during the course of studies. This year’s “Lunch and Learn” is organized around the theme: “Presenting Culture: (In) Forming Jewish Identity.” Sessions will feature prominent curators and producers from the LA area who are responsible for presenting Jewish culture in a variety of media: art exhibitions, film festivals, concerts, special events and public lecture series. Presenters will discuss the motivations, objectives, mechanics, artist relations, and marketing behind successful Jewish cultural productions, as well as how they evaluate success and impact. Students seeking credit serve as moderators for the class and have specific written assignments. Instructor: Richard Siegel</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CS 518</td>
<td>Zionism, Israel and the Middle East</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>An exploration of Zionism and its evolution within the contexts of the world Jewish community and the Middle East, including Zionist and anti-Zionist ideologies within the Jewish Community and the impact of Zionism on indigenous Arab communities. The purpose of the course is to better understand the attitudes and world views of Israelis and Palestinians and to provide a context for activities and decision-making in the Jewish communal world. Recommended in preparation for the Israel Seminar. Instructor: Mr. Jacob Cunningham.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CS 521</td>
<td>Introduction to Jewish History</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>A survey of the major themes of Jewish history from Biblical and Ancient periods, to include such topics as: national origins, Diaspora community, religious development, relations with non-Jews, the phenomenon of anti-Semitism, cultural differentiation, and patterns of migration and communal life. Instructor: Mr. Jacob Cunningham.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CS 523</td>
<td>Leadership in Jewish Communal Service</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>This course explores the literature on leadership, along with examining Jewish sources and values relating to the concepts of leadership. Students are introduced to experts in the field of leadership and are given the opportunity to engage in exercises designed to experiment with and apply such leadership skill-sets as motivation and persuasion, risk-taking, time management, negotiation and mediation, and problem-solving. Instructor: Dr. Steven Windmueller.</td>

CS 540  Introduction to Jewish Communal Institutions  3
This seminar is a full-day experience for first-year students that includes substantial time outside the classroom visiting agencies, synagogues and other organizations in the Jewish community in order to have students understand and critically analyze the organized Jewish community. Instructor: Ms. Lori Klein.

CS 544  Organizational Development  2
Through this seminar, students gain an understanding of the impact that organizational culture and climate have on organizational functioning and worker performance. Organizational theories that have application in nonprofit organizations are explored. Students also learn to develop business, marketing and public relations plans, and create and manage a balanced budget. Lastly, students learn problem-solving and decision-making skills, how to develop meaningful lay-professional relations, effective team-building and models of collaboration. Instructor: Ms. Miriam Prum-Hess.

CS 550  Coskey Public Speaking Seminar  0
The Coskey Public Speaking Seminar is designed to better prepare students for the variety of public presentations which they will be giving in their careers, from committee reports to formal lectures. This six session seminar is required for Second Year students. (See weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.) Instructor: Mr. Drew Kugler.

CS 551  Professional Writing Seminar  0
Written communication is critical to success in Jewish Communal Service, both as a graduate student and as a professional in the field. The Professional Writing Seminar is designed to enhance students’ skills and help students develop professional written communication styles. This six session seminar is required for First Year students and optional for Second Year students. (Note to First Year students: Please see the weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.) Instructor: Rabbi Julie Pelc.

CS 552  Orientation to the Israel Seminar  0
Offered every other winter, the Israel Seminar, a 2 ½ -week intensive experience exploring the core issues of Israel-Diaspora relations, is an integral part of the School of Jewish Communal Service curriculum and is required for all students. This three session Orientation to the Israel Seminar is required for all students. (See weekly schedule for days and times, and please make sure to include the seminar in your course registration.) Instructor: Dr. David Mendelsson

CS 557  Conflict, Civility and Community in the Talmud  2
This intensive course explores the ways in which Talmudic discourse can inform our understanding of civil discourse within a community. Both legal and aggadic passages are studied and analyzed to draw out models of constructive and destructive debate. The study highlights the Talmud's focus on process and its affirmation of the validity of multiple approaches to problems. Instructor: Dr. Aryeh Cohen.

CS 573  Strategic Planning  2
An exploration of the value and process of strategic planning, including: clarification of mission, values and vision, external and internal environment assessments, competitive analysis, strategy development, and implementation. The new strategic plan being developed for the School of Jewish Communal Service will serve as a practical example, and student assignments will relate to its components. Instructor: Richard Siegel.

CS 579  Judaism - Philosophy, Rituals, and Practices  3
This course looks systematically at texts and themes from the Biblical period to the present. Studies focus on textual and historical material from the major periods of the Jewish experience. An emphasis is placed on the manner in which prayer, study and observance affect the personal and communal life of Jews. Instructor: Rabbi Richard Levy.

CS 599  Supervised Independent Study  2/3
To be arranged in consultation with the faculty member directing the study and with the approval of the Director of the School of Jewish Communal Service.
